

Must Preach Old Gospel.

And as a true and living part of the Church Catholic, the Church of England sends her ministers to teach and preach not their own theories, not their own Gospel, not the new theology, but the old, old faith and the old, old Gospel as she has received the same.

The candidate for deacon's orders is asked not only whether he trusts that he is moved by the Holy Ghost to take upon him this office and ministration to serve God for the promotion of His glory and the edifying of His people, but also whether he thinks that he is truly called according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ and the due order of this realm to the ministry of the Church.

And when he presents himself to receive the Priesthood, the questions are far more explicit and the vow taken is most solemn and binding.

"Do you think in your heart that you be truly called, according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the order of this Church of England to the order and ministry of Priesthood?" "I think it."

"Will you then give your faithful diligence always so to minister the Doctrine and Sacraments and the Discipline of Christ as the Lord hath commanded and as this Church and Realm hath received the same according to the Commandments of God; so that you may teach the people committed to your care and charge with all diligence to keep and observe the same."

"I will so do, by the help of the Lord."

First Act of Worship.

And the very first words which he recites after his ordination, the very first act of worship in which he takes part, is the saying or singing of the Nicene Creed, wherein the Church's Gospel is most fully set forth and declared.
