A DINNER PILL. Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Williams' Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

Matrimonial.

TODD-MANLEY.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson, 216 Richmond street, it being the occasion of the marriage of their niece, Rhody L. Manley, to John T. Todd. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Pilkey, of Mount Brydges. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, was beautifully attired in stone-blue cashmere, trimmed with white satin mousseline de soie and pearls, wearing the customary veil and flowers, and carrying a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Bessie Bore and Annie McKendle. The first bridesmaid wore white organdie over pink, the second white organdie over cream, and both carried bouquets of pink carnations. A. Wilton and W. Watson supported the groom, and Messrs. B. J. Todd and W. Bore acted as ushers. About 40 guests were present, being relations and personal friends of the bride and groom. The wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's uncle, and was an elaborate affair. Many beautiful presents testified the high esteem in which the bride was held. After partaking of the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Todd left for their home, 933 Lorne avenue.

BADLY HURT.

Today, while raising the frame of the third story of the large roller mill, the gin-pole used for lifting the heavy timbers broke, and came down on Mr. McFadden, striking him across the back and hips. When the timber was removed from off him, it was found his hip was out of joint, and his back severely hurt. The doctors think he will recover.

JEALOUSY CAUSED DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Former Middlesex Man Is Dead and His Wife Badly Wounded.

[Special Letter to the Advertiser.] A terrible tragedy occurred here last night at 11 o'clock, when Mr. J. L. Short, of this district, arose from his bed, and attempted to murder his wife by shooting her twice with a revolver, one bullet taking effect in the cheek and passing on towards the right ear, the second entering the throat, passing down into the shoulder. Short then sat down on the side of the bed, opened his mouth, and fired up through his brain.

Mr. and Mrs. Short have been living with man named Duffield. Mrs. Short kept house for him, and Short made his home there on Sundays and when he was not working. Mr. Duffield heard the shots and came downstairs. He found Short breathing his last on the floor near the bed, and Mrs. Short lying in the bed bleeding freely. Short died a few minutes later, but his wife is still alive, and there is hope of her recovery. They have three children, who, when the first shot was fired, ran out to the neighbors, and it is thought by so doing they saved their lives.

Mr. Short came here from Middlesex county, near Alissa Craig. Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the crime.

A GALAXY OF ORATORS

Gathered From All Over the Continent

To Address a Mass Meeting in Victoria Park Tomorrow Night.

Sam Donnelly, of New York, international president of the Typographical Union; Frank Morrison, of Washington, general secretary of the American Federation of Labor; W. D. Mahon, of Detroit, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees; and Howard, the "Boy Orator," of Kansas City, will arrive in the city this afternoon and remain here until Wednesday.

This galaxy of labor speakers has been secured by the Trades and Labor Council to address a mass meeting in Victoria Park on Tuesday evening. The chair will be taken by A. S. Johnston, president of the London Trades and Labor Council, at 8 o'clock. In event of the weather being unfavorable for an open-air meeting it will be held in the Jubilee Rink.

The mass meeting was to have taken place this evening, but to avoid conflict with counter attractions was postponed. The names of the speakers will be sufficient to insure a monster gathering.

TROUBLE AT LONDON JUNCTION

Street Car Derailed and Wrecked by a Crowd of About 200 Persons—No Personal Violence.

About 9:30 Saturday night, street car No. 96, ran off the track at the Pottersburg loop, and was soon surrounded by a crowd of loafers, who smashed the car windows with stones. The crowd swelled until 150 or 200 persons were present, and the spirit of destructiveness prevailed. The seats in the car were torn to pieces, and the cane cushions, and even the wood-work of the car set on fire. The car was badly wrecked. Motorman Rogers and Conductor Clough were in charge, and were alone on hand when the run-off occurred. When the crowd gathered, Rogers and Clough cleared the car of passengers, and the trouble street railway company sent out a wrecking crew and a number of special police. Their appearance was the signal for the scattering of the crowd, and the employees of the company worked away un molested until about 11 o'clock, when they succeeded in getting the derailed car back on the tracks, when it was towed to the barns. The derailing of the car was caused by a coupling pin lying on the track. The point where the trouble occurred was outside of the city limits, and, therefore, outside the jurisdiction of the city police. No arrests have been made, but the county constables.

LULLABY CONCERT

Novel Entertainment at Port Stanley Wednesday Evening.

Wednesday evening next will see a unique entertainment in the Fraser Hall, Port Stanley, given under the auspices of the Guild of Christ Church, taking the form of national lullabies, with tableau setting, and a comic rendering of "Lochinvar."

The derailing of the car was caused by a coupling pin lying on the track. The point where the trouble occurred was outside of the city limits, and, therefore, outside the jurisdiction of the city police. No arrests have been made, but the county constables.

FATHER TIERNAN SAYS FAREWELL

An Impressive Service at St. Peter's Cathedral.

The Closing Words of the Beloved Rector.

Listened to by a Large Congregation—Many of His Hearers Were Moved to Tears.

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning, Father Tiernan took leave of the congregation that for a quarter of a century has been his charge. The large edifice was crowded to the doors. That Father Tiernan was loved by his people as few men are loved, was evident from the degree of feeling manifested, during the farewell sermon. There was not a dry eye in the church, and ladies sobbed audibly. The reverend father was deeply moved, but he bore himself strong and cheerfully. Only once his voice broke, and he paused, overcome with emotion. The services began at 10:30. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Father L'Heureux, Rev. Father Ladoeur was deacon, and Rev. Father Cleary sub-deacon, his Lordship the Bishop of London occupied the episcopal throne and was attended by Rev. Father Tiernan.

At the Gospel, Rev. Father Tiernan ascended the pulpit. He spoke briefly upon the text, Luke, vii, 11 to 16, and then addressed his hearers as follows:

My dear brethren, I wish now to direct your mind to a different theme. No doubt you were all more or less surprised at the announcement made by his lordship, our good bishop, in his address last Sunday. Well, it was no surprise for me. It was just what I had expected, and, therefore, my dear brethren, I this morning most gratefully and most cordially thank our good bishop for granting me my request, viz.: A few weeks' vacation. "Not only a few weeks, but three months and more, if necessary," replied the bishop. Could he be more kind and generous than this? And what is still more in my favor, that on my return he will give me a home commensurate with my present position, and relieve me of the onerous duties of cathedral rector. If, therefore, any misunderstanding or misinterpretation as regards his lordship's words last Sunday have gone abroad in the parish, I wish, here and now, to rectify these misunderstandings or misinterpretations, and to state to you that what he said was my own seeking; that although you will not have Father Tiernan to go to in your trials, troubles and sorrows, you will have your good and zealous bishop, and you will also have Fathers Alward and McKewen to have recourse to.

Now, it remains for me to say to you farewell. Since my coming among you, nearly 25 years ago, when I was then a young priest, I have ever found you to be kind and generous; and for the good-will you have manifested towards me, I now return you my sincere and heartfelt thanks; and I rest assured, dear brethren, that I will ever cherish for you the fondest recollections. And how could it be otherwise? You know that whenever we enter any new sphere of life, that the first actions and works which we perform in that new sphere are never forgotten by us. Though memory may fail in other things, it will never forget these. Well, I came among you in the very beginning of my priestly career. The holy oils that anointed a minister of the Most High God were scarcely dry upon my hands when I began the work of the ministry by preaching to you the word of God and dispensing to you those life-giving and life-saving sacraments that fit us for immortality, and this work I have continued ever since in your midst. And, think you, I can ever forget it? No, never; and you, my dear brethren, with whom those works have been associated, I will ever kindly remember. Now bid you farewell, and I ask you daily to remember me in your prayers during my absence, that I may return to the diocese strong and vigorous, well fitted to do God's work in this portion of his vineyard.

TWENTY-TWO FIRES

Record for Three Weeks—Sixteen Grass Fires.

The fire department have attended 22 fires in the last 21 days. Sixteen of them were grass fires.

On Saturday afternoon the department extinguished two grass fires. One opposite the Protestant Orphans' home, at about 3:25, and one just east of the Park Street School later on. In the evening, at about 7:20, another alarm was responded to in West London. A gasoline stove at Mr. Spencer's residence, Wilson avenue, exploded in the summer kitchen. Damage slight. The brigade had another run to a grass fire at the corner of Princess avenue and Ontario street, yesterday afternoon, at 8:10. No damage.

IN SHAPE FOR THE WESTERN

Six Thousand Dollars Spent on Improvements

To the Exhibition Grounds and Buildings—General Business Before the Directors.

At a meeting of the directors of the Western Fair Association on Saturday afternoon, it was decided to charge 15 cents for admission to the new open stand at Queen's Park during the coming exhibition. About $6,000 have been spent by the association during the year on improvements to the exhibition grounds and buildings, and a desire to slightly increase the revenue is not surprising. There were present: President Col. Gartschore (in the chair), Secretary J. A. Nelles, R. Shaw-Wood, W. M. Spencer, R. W. Laidlaw, Chas. Trebilcock, Wm. Moore, A. Bogue, John Kennedy, Aid. Plant, Aid. Wilkey and J. S. Pearce.

An offer from the Still Motor Company to exhibit their horseless carriages here during the fair was referred to the attractions committee, with power. Secretary J. Frezell, of the Street Railway Employees' Union, asked a refund of $25 paid for the use of the park on July 3. Referred to the grounds and buildings committee, to report back.

President Gartschore recounted the work done by the executive—the building of a new open stand, at a cost of $2,350; the doubling in length of the stage in front of the stands; the amalgamation and enlargement of the dairy, horticultural and agricultural buildings; the rebuilding of the band stand, and the general improvements to the grounds.

Incidentally Mr. James H. Brown, chairman of the grounds and buildings committee, was very highly spoken of by several of the directors for his able supervision of the work. He had saved the board thousands of dollars, they said.

Then the question of the price of admission to the new stand, at a cost of $2,350, was referred to the attractions committee.

Mr. Wm. Moore said no one who saw the stand could find fault with the increase, and on his motion the fee was fixed at 15 cents. The fee for the old open stand south of the covered stand, was left at 10 cents.

The prices of admission to the stands here are much smaller than in several other Canadian cities.

Thirteen booths under the new stand have been sold at $50 each.

Aid. Plant thought it desirable to have an excursion from Detroit during the fair. The Light Guards Band had said they would come. Referred to the attractions committee.

The Western Fair is being advertised in Conneaut, O.

The greatest depth to which a ship has been anchored is 2,000 fathoms—considerably more than two miles.

DROPPED DEAD IN HIS GARDEN

Sudden Demise of Mr. Daniel O'Donnell, a Richmond Street Merchant.

Mr. Daniel O'Donnell, the well-known Richmond street merchant, dropped dead in his own yard on Saturday afternoon from apoplexy.

Deceased arose Saturday apparently in good health, and his sudden end was entirely unexpected. He was standing in the garden watching a load of wood being unloaded, when he suddenly staggered and fell. This was about 4 o'clock, and he expired shortly after.

Mr. O'Donnell has kept a grocery at the corner of Lichfield and Richmond streets for a long period. He has been a respected citizen of London for over twenty years. He came to this city from Leitrim county, Ireland, and was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral congregation. His widow and a family of eight children survive. The funeral will take place this (Monday) morning.

MR. FITZPATRICK RETURNS.
