

THE LATE NEWTON M. HAGAN.

The late Newton M. Hagan, who was killed in the east end yards of the G. T. R. Friday, had his picture taken at Atlanta, Ga., standing on the steam-chest of a Southern Railway locomotive. The above cut was made from this picture.

29 MILLION DOLLARS FINE FOR THE STANDARD OIL CO.

Found Guilty of Accepting Rebates From Chicago and Alton, and Given Maximum Penalty.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The Standard Oil Company was fined $29,240,000, the maximum amount under the law.

Judge Landis in the United States District Court today imposed a fine upon the Standard Oil Company of Indiana of $29,240,000, the maximum amount upon the 1,462 counts of the indictments which that company was recently convicted of rebating.

The judge also recommended that a call be issued for a special grand jury, which is to consider the other party to the rebating operations of which the Standard Oil Company was found guilty, and it is therefore probable that within a short time proceedings will be commenced against the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company for the alleged commission of similar offenses.

The reading of the opinion by Judge Landis aroused almost as much interest as the presence of John D. Rockefeller and other officials of the Standard Oil Company upon the witness stand. The courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity and the United States deputy marshals were finally compelled to refuse admission to all latecomers.

KING SAILS BETWEEN STEEL WALLS; 200 WARSHIPS IN COWES PARADE

Magnificent Display of Great Britain's Naval Strength.

Portsmouth, Aug. 3.—The 200 ships of war constituting Great Britain's home fleet paraded before King Edward and Queen Alexandra today on the Solent, and incidentally furnished a magnificent pageant for the opening of the annual Cowes regatta week. Spread out in seven long lines between the Isle of Wight and the Hampshire shore this splendid array of vessels, great and small formed a floating steel city with a population of 35,000 officers and men. Never before have so many British men-of-war been seen together under the control of a single admiral. From the battleship Dreadnought down to the smallest submarine, every vessel was decked from stem to stern with flags. The crews were assembled on deck, and as the King and Queen, on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, passed down the lines each ship's company gave a rousing cheer. For eleven miles up and down the King and Queen steamed between steel walls.

This gathering of warships forms the recently-organized home guard section of the British navy, and the Government and the admiralty are so proud of the assemblage that they departed from the usual rule about visitors, and threw the entire fleet open to critical inspection of the public. Dotted through the three central lines, were no less than six flagships.

ESCAPED MONKEY CREATES A PANIC

Rushes Into Booking Office at Station and Tears Hundreds of Packages.

Paris, Aug. 3.—A large chimpanzee which is performing at a fair in Montmartre escaped yesterday and created a panic in the district.

The animal gives his performance under the direction of La Goulue, the Moulin Rouge dancer, who took to lion taming, and went through her marriage ceremony in a lion's den. Zizi, as he is called, escaped while his keeper's attention was momentarily attracted elsewhere, and made straight for the Metropolitan railway station, at the Boulevard Barbes.

Entering the booking office he nearly frightened the woman booking clerk out of her wits. He seized bundles of tickets and amused himself by flinging them into the air and watching their descent in a shower.

When he had thus made an end of several hundreds of packages he ran into the station, creating a panic, among the waiting passengers. They fled across the line and down the stairs into the street, and two policemen and six porters were summoned to try and capture Zizi.

As soon as Zizi saw them coming he bolted down the line, and was so anxious to escape his pursuers that he did not notice an approaching train. The driver pulled up in time to avoid killing the animal, and Zizi then capered off on another line, and stopped a second train in the same way.

After much chasing and dodging, Zizi was eventually caught in a sack, put into a strait-waistcoat, and taken to the police station, where La Goulue appeared and bailed him out early this morning.

ROCKEFELLER RUMORS.
Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 2.—A Forest Hill, the suburban home of John D. Rockefeller, it was stated today that there was absolutely no truth in reports printed this morning, that Mr. Rockefeller would shortly undergo a surgical operation. It was also denied that he expected to leave the city today, or any time within the near future.

ENGLAND DOESN'T WANT POOR MEAT

John Burns Declares American Goods, Refused Elsewhere, Not Good Enough.

London, Aug. 3.—The bill introduced by John Burns, president of the local government board, enabling the board of trade to institute more stringent regulations for the "prevention of the danger arising to the public health from the importation, preparation, storage and distribution of articles of food," passed its second reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

In the course of the debate on the bill, Mr. Burns explained that it empowered the authorities at all ports to inspect food imports, take samples and destroy unsound goods. It might be argued, Mr. Burns said, that since the recent tinned meat exposures in England and elsewhere that things have been put right, but the Government could not allow the laws to remain defective because there was a strong probability that matters would relapse to where they were before.

Continuing, Mr. Burns declared that he had received a report that a German consul had said the American meat packers had informed his government they were willing to consent to the inspection of any meat provided that whatever goods the German officials rejected should be returned to the packers, as they could be sold in the United Kingdom.

The speaker said he was not going to allow that, and he did not see why the United Kingdom should take whatever Germany, France, Denmark and other Europeans would not accept.

He was prepared not to enforce the regulations for a period of 40 days after the adoption of the bill. The Government would not irritate, harass or inconvenience those persons carrying on a legitimate trade decently, but the local government board must have greater power over imported tinned food in order that the poor, who suffered most from the dangers of disease, could be saved.

A PIG-CHASING ON THE MARKET

Four Lively Lard Producers Set a Merry Pace for Hunters.

Pig hunting is not a common pastime in this city but London sure had a pig hunt, and more than that a pig chase Saturday, when a pen of swine got loose on the market. The porkers in question were not the proverbial "greased pigs," but they did not need to be greased, for they proved themselves just as slippery as did ever any fat, smeared citizen of Porkopolis.

'Tis true they were not the savage brutes of the wild boar variety, but they put up a chase which, apart from the element of danger, furnished as much excitement as a wild boar hunt. How the pigs got loose is a mystery, for the chase did not start until after they had broken out, and were rushing in all directions, squealing and grunting. They dodged under wagons, between bags and barrels, and through market crowds. At first the owner declared that he was quite equal to the task of rounding them up. Being acquainted with his stock he could, by a little strategy, corral the brutes.

Not these pigs. They had been chased before. Neither the cunning methods of their proprietor nor his moral suasion influenced them in the slightest. Liberty and the tall uncut for their. Soon two or three of the expert swine herders of the rural districts got on the job, but the relentless porkers made their frantic efforts at capture look even more ridiculous than their owners'.

Enter the Small Boy.
At this point the small boy came to the front. First one would get a hand on a flying porker and then another would almost get hold of a tail, but still more would do a frantic fancy dance about the little lard producers and finally fall over their own feet, while the pig slid between their legs.

One man who had made several futile attempts was heard to say, "Well, by jinks, if them ain't the slipperiest pigs I'll eat my hat. Why they have our pigs beaten a mile. I could catch 'em gosh hang pigs in a ten-acre field." With that he retired to his hay rack.

At last one of the much-chased squealers was seized by the leg and taken back to his master. But the rest were having too good a time to let up so easy, and not until they were completely played out did they submit to capture.

ONE FOR RAISULI

Moroccan Mountain Tribesmen Defeat Government Forces.

Tanger, Aug. 3.—Reports received from Tetuan are to the effect that last night mountain tribesmen attacked and vanquished the Government forces under Gen. Bagdadi, the chief of the Sultan's army, who is conducting the operations against the bandit Raisuli. Several caids were killed and Gen. Bagdadi had his leg broken. Reinforcements have been dispatched.

DESROCHES RECAPTURED

Insane Murderer Walked All Way From Hamilton to Penetang.

Hamilton, Aug. 3.—Alexis Desroches the murderer who escaped from the Hamilton Asylum a couple of weeks ago, has been recaptured and is now back in the institution. He was captured at his old home at Penetang, having walked the entire distance. He did not give the attendants who went after him any trouble.

PLUNGED, AFTER SON

Saw His Little Pail and Hat Floating on Pond's Surface.

Caron, Sask., Aug. 2.—On the homestead of John Slack, near here, his widowed sister, Mrs. Reeson and her 4-year-old son were drowned yesterday afternoon. The little fellow was carrying water in a small pail and on his being missed his 8-year-old brother went in search of him. The pail and his hat were seen floating on the pond, and when the mother was called she dashed into the water, which was seven feet deep, and sank. The bodies were recovered twenty minutes later.

THE CHINESE TONG WAR

Several More Will Die as Result of Boston Shooting.

Boston, Aug. 3.—Although none of the seven Chinamen who were taken to the hospital after last night's shooting in Chinatown as a result of which three men are dead, had died during the night, several were reported to be in a serious condition today. At the Emergency Hospital it was said that the four men there had passed a comfortable night, and would recover, with the exception of Lee Kai, who had bullet holes through his right side and both thighs. At the relief station Charles Yick, whose heart had been penetrated by a bullet, was in a critical condition. The Chinamen who did the shooting are supposed to be New York members of the Society of the Hop Sing Tong. The killing of a member of the body in Philadelphia recently, in which Boston men were supposed to be implicated, is believed to be the reason for the descent upon Boston's Chinatown last night. The police have arrested five Chinamen, believed to be members of the band, and they have been charged with murder. The police today were still looking for others, as it was believed that the party of murderers numbered from 10 to 15.

COAXES DEATH WITHOUT SUCCESS

Old Gentleman Makes Three Attempts to Commit Suicide But Fails.

New York, Aug. 2.—According to the Times, August Mehlig, 60 years old, of East One Hundred and Fifth street, turned on the gas in his room early yesterday morning after closing the windows and fastening the bedroom door. Then he sat in a chair to smoke while death came. At 6 o'clock three hours later, the gas began to make him sick, so he shut it off and opened the windows to think it over.

An hour later he decided again to kill himself, so he closed the windows, lighted his pipe, and turned on the gas. After an hour's wait Mehlig decided to make an examination of the room. He poked under his bed, back of bureaus, and under chairs to find out if there was a leak where fresh air might come in. He found none.

At 9 o'clock he tried again, and although he sat a long time inhaling gas he could not die. While his wife was out he went downstairs and examined the gas jets down there. They were all right; so he retired to his room, and fastening up the windows, filled the crevices with paper, and the door with old rags and lighting his pipe turned on the gas again.

The hours dragged by but noon found August still puffing his pipe. The old man petulantly ripped up a bed sheet, and some pillow slips and went over the crevices again, filling in here and there. Then he tried again.

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon his wife smelled gas, and failing to get into her husband's room, called in a policeman. He kicked in the door and found August seated in his chair smoking. The policeman was almost overcome by the gas, but he grabbed the man, and hustled him downstairs, where August recounted his experience of the night.

In the Harlem Court, where Magistrate Butts was sitting, Mehlig said he could not get along with his wife. Mehlig was held in $500 bail for trial in special sessions for attempting suicide.

THREATEN MARTIAL LAW

Italy Taking Strong Measures to Stop Anti-Clerical Riots.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The Government is threatening to impose martial law in a number of towns in northwestern Italy unless the violence in connection with the anti-clerical agitation at once comes to an end. At Mantua last night a crowd of manifestants pillaged some churches and burned several sacred objects, and at Turin a workman attacked and wounded a priest in the street. At Savona there were violent anti-clerical manifestations, and the guard over the prison, where the Salsian fathers from Varazze, who are charged with immoral practices, are locked up, was reinforced to protect them from the mob.

The fire in St. Anthony's Church at Spezia, set last night by an unruly crowd, was extinguished, and the church is now guarded by a detachment of sailors.

The clericals charge that the Free Masons are conducting a campaign against them, among the masses, and the director-general of the Salsians has entered suit against the newspapers that published the alleged exposures. He also asked the Government to conduct an investigation of these charges.

WEBB DEFEATS TOWNS

The World's Sculling Championship Passes to a New Zealander.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 3.—Webb, the New Zealand sculler, today defeated Charles Towns, Australia, on the Parramatta River championship course, thereby winning the world's sculling championship, as Charles Towns won the championship last April from his brother George. The stakes were $7,500. The betting was 2 to 1 on Webb. The scullers were level at the mile mark, but after this Webb drew away, and won easily by two lengths, covering the course of 2 miles, 1,560 yards in 20 minutes and 7 seconds.

THROWN ON HIS HEAD WHILE BOARDING CAR

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Falling from a Dundas street car near the car barns this morning, James Young, a piano polisher, received probably fatal injuries. Young tried to board a moving car, and was swung round behind it, alighting on his head. He was taken to the Western Hospital, where it was found his skull was badly fractured.

David Ball, a young Irishman, only a few months out from Ireland, was found dead in bed by his brother this morning at 112 Peter street. He had been to Scarborough Beach with some friends last night, and returned apparently in good health.

HAMILTON CONDUCTOR KILLED

Hamilton, Aug. 3.—W. J. Milligan, a street car conductor, was fatally injured about 1 o'clock this morning. As his car was going east on King street, at a high rate of speed he swung out onto the incandescent running board. His head came in contact with one of the iron poles used to support the trolley wires, and his skull was fractured. He was taken to the city hospital where he died about an hour later. An inquest will be held.

BLUENOSES ARE KEEPING SUNDAY

Large Decrease in Amount of Labor in the Maritime Provinces.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Rev. T. A. Moore, of the Lord's Day Alliance, has just returned from a two months' trip to the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, and comes back filled with sanguine opinions of the east, particularly the cities of Amherst, Halifax and Sydney. The push and enterprise of these cities, as well as of the country in general, he says, are remarkable.

With regard to interests pertaining to the Lord's Day Alliance, there was every reason for encouragement. Sunday work in the Dominion Iron & Steel Works of Sydney has been greatly reduced since the passing of the new Lord's Day Act. At that time 70 per cent of the workmen were employed seven days a week, while at present not over 40 per cent work on Sunday.

"It is the policy of this concern," said Mr. Moore, "to gradually decrease the amount of Sunday labor. Mr. Jones, the manager, said that the president, Mr. Plummer, was vigorously opposed to Sunday labor, while he (Mr. Jones), was strongly of the same mind. It is gratifying to be able to report that no work outside of actual necessity is being complained of as being done on the Lord's day."

"In the province of Prince Edward Island there is a revolution of thought on the part of the people concerning Canada. The people there are migrating to the busy manufacturing centers of Ontario, the broad prairies of the west, or the mining districts throughout Canada. Except for a very few complaints of a minor character, the Lord's day in Prince Edward Island is well observed."

Mr. Moore also visited Newfoundland in the interest of the alliance, and was greatly pleased to note the enterprise evinced by the people of that island. He had had several invitations from citizens to address meetings in the interest of the alliance throughout the country, but his work was necessarily confined to St. John's, where there are indications of efforts being made to break down the sanctity of the Lord's day. "Business, labor and pleasure are the forces there, as elsewhere, attacking the Sabbath." Steps were taken to organize a Lord's Day Alliance in Newfoundland, to be in affiliation with the Canadian organization, and Mr. Moore regards the project as having every prospect of success.
