Is the Production of Character Worth Paying For?

Yesterday the Toronto Teachers spoke to you about the production of Intelligence.

Today they talk to you about another phase of their work: the production of Character.

CHARACTER: "The combination of qualities distinguishing any person or class of persons." "Character is like an inward and spiritual grace, of which reputation is, or should be, the outward and visible sign."

Thoughtful men have stated that Canada is limitless in her possibilities of material wealth. Her resources are such that a dazzling vista of material attainment is open to her citizens.

But-and here thoughtful men place emphasis - there is one fundamental characteristic that Canada must possess if she is to attain and maintain the height of development to which she seems destined. Her people must be men and women of character. "Righteousness exalteth a nation."

. The Teacher stands as one of the foundations of personal character. Upon him and her rests a daily responsibility for the ideals and the moral training of the boys and girls of Canada. They cannot escape this responsibility. They do not try, They are doing their work, day by day, year by year, in fashioning the character of the girls and boys entrusted to them. This great fact is their inspiration to give of their best.

SOCIETY

The marriage took place yesterday morning in Sc. Simon's Church, which was decorated with palms, aspidistras and azaleas, with spring Howers on the altar, the Rev. E. C. Cayley officiating, of Mars. Chattan Stephens, Montreat, youngest daugater of the Hon. Sir Edward Kemp and Lady Kemp, to Major Artnur Covine, Montreat, Only the immediate family and intimate friends were present at the ceremony, during which the organist played the wedquig music. The beautiful pride, who was brought in and given away by her father, wore a very becoming frock of pale rose pink crepe, with wide girdle and sash of satin the same shade; a large, black, transparent fat, with crown of black natter's plush, the brim being covered with black ostrich leathers. With this sne wore a rope of pears and the groom's present, a platinum and diamond pendant and cham, and sae carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and maidemaar fern. She was unattended, and the best man was air. Wilbur Cochrane, Ottawa. After the service Lady Kemp heid a reception at Castle Frank, when she was wearing a gown of taupe brocaded satin, with natio match, trimmed with ostrich and sable. A buffet breakiast was served in the diping-room, the table decorated with a large bouquet of spring flowers, freezias, iris, mignonette and daffodils. On leaving for the southern states, Mrs. Colville wore a gown of pelt color, trimmed with embroidery the same shade, and numerous buttons; a beaver coat and muff, and hat of brown, with osprey round the brim. On their return Major and Mrs. Colville will live in the latter's house in Pine avenue, Montreal. Mrs. Colville's little daugater, Miss Frances Elizabeth Stephens; Miss Stephane Waldie and Miss Sheila Proctor, were all dressed alike in net, with pink ribbons and black velvet hats, and looked very dainty little girls. Mrs. Scott Waldie was in a frock of black moire, and a black hat of bradtail and duvetyn color. Miss Colville, the groom's sister, from Campbellford, wore a French blue gown, with hat of embroidered blue satin a laugh festival, "Twin Eeds," which comes to the Princess Cheatre all next week, opens today. The remarkable appeal of "Twin Beds" lies in its naturaliness, its witty lines, its marvelous slang, its clean theme and hilarious situations which follow one another with the rapidity of a cyclone in action.

Dainty Lois Bolton, who has played the leading feminine role in this successful farce since it was first presented, will again head the cast, and will be assisted by R. M. D'Angelo, Virginia Fairfax, Thomas J. Evans, Kathryn Mills and Callie Van Vilet.

"The Mischief Makers,"

The Mischief Makers,"

The Mischief Makers, will be the attraction at the Star Theatre next week, and it is safe to say that F. W. Gerhardy has surpassed all previous efforts in this production. The equipment, cast and everything connected with the show is brand new, and one can see at a glance that the famous burlesque impressario, in presenting the 1919 edition has outdone aff previous efforts. The much-talked-of Paprika Chorus is still in evidence in this season's show, displaying a lot of new constumes with gorgeous acenic effects which tend to make a very successful yehicle for an all-star cast, including Joe Wilton, Joe Freed. Sam Raynor, Johnny Crosby, Mabel Clark, Julia Morgan, Bonnie Lloyd.

At the Roya;

At the Alhambra, Charles Ray, in "The Egg Crate Wallop," will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Alhambra Theatre. The picture tells the story of a young man who is willing to enter the ring and battle for the love of a woman. Ray is seen as a freight handler, who falls in love with Collen Moore, and in order to win her becomes a puglist. One of the most trilling scenes of the Dicture is selections, making the bill for the last part of this week one of the beat pure of the seed of seets put on at this theatre. "Gus" Hill, entertainer, is an added feature.

Douglas Fairbanks Next Week.

Another glad picture is to follow Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna," the feature that is attracting tremendous crowds to the Regent Theatre this week. The new one will begin on Monday, and will be the latest production of Douglas Fairbanks, entitled "When the Clouds Roll By." It is said that in all his big pictures. Mr. Fairbanks has never done anything that quite equals this production. He has added untold-of stunts to his long list of clever accomplishments, making this the most spectacular production in which he has ever appeared. "Doug" has broken away from the traditional screen stories and has produced a riproaring comedy on entirely different lines. An excellent musical program will be provided by the famous Regent orchestra. The overture will be "Angel Face," and the soloist for the week is Mile. Lea Choiseul, a coloratura soprano.

"The Royal Vagabond.

Among the twenty musical hits in "The koyal Vagabond" coming to the Princess the week of l'eb. 9, propably the most popular of the outstanding successes are: "In the Kingdom of Our Own," "Royalty," "Where the Cherry Blossoms Fail," "Democracy," "A Wee Bit of Lace," "Love of Mine," "What You Don't Know Won't Hurt You," "Love is Love," "The Messenger" and "Good-Bye, Bargravia." In addition to entrancing music, there are ten snappy and tunerul creations of that master mind of musical comedy, George M. Cohan; either the music or the lyrics and in several instances both, are the product of his prolific and talented pen. The original company comes here direct from one year in New York.

At Loew's Next Week.

Toronto amateur singers contemplating a stage career will be given an opportunity next week, at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden to show their talent. Mme. Doree, of Doree's Operatic Celebrities, the greatest act of its kind in vaudeville, making its first appearance at popular prices, ahnounces that on Tuesday and Wednesday from 10.30 to 12 noon, she will be on the stage of Dew's Theatre to hear voices. The repertoire of the company will embrace gems from famous operas. Five other big vaudeville features and Enid Bennett in her film sensation, "What Everywoman Learns," complete the bill.

Douglas Fairbanks Next Week.

Dave Marion at Gayety.

After an absence of four years, during which time she has appeared in the leading vaudeville theatres of the country, and greatly developed her remarkmole talents, Babe La Tour returns here next week in a chosen field as the featur of Dave Marion's Company, which will present the new two-act musical revue, entitled "Stageland," at the Gayety Theatre. Always a delight to burlesque lovers, Miss La Tour is said to be at her best this season, and those who admired her previously are surely in for a real treat next week. As usual, Mr. Marion's show is brand new this season, and the two acts and seven scenes are replete with interesting and novel surprises. The cast is unusually large and talented and the twenty-four chorus girls are especially selected for
