All Provincial Debts Not Already Provided for Will Be Funded and Interest and Other Charges Are to Be Assessed Directly on Taxpayers

PREMIER DECLARES LEVY NECESSARY

Way Devised to Make Impost Light; Experts Slated for Comparing one and two thousand members, eight Standard of Evaluations and Equalizing Them; Appeal Will Be to Executive at Fredericton

Staff Correspondent of The Times-Star

REDERICTON, N. B., April 28—The direct tax in New Brunswick will amount to about 10 cents on every $100 valuation, Premier Baxter told the Legislature this afternoon in introducing the bill relating to the direct levy.

If the activated defect for the very serious crime of stealing cars hould be allowed to sell enough of the meat to pay for getting the carcass out of the woods. Sportsmen, even at present, frequently left carcasses in the woods to rot which was an economic loss.

Mr. Smith (Kings), thought the this very serious crime of stealing cars hand selling them to innocent and inexperienced buyers. After some further discussion recess was taken.

The House resumed at 8 o'clock.

If the estimated deficit for the year, amounting to about $700,-000 were apportioned over the taxable areas of the province, it would mean a direct tax of about 40 cents on the $100, the prewould mean a direct tax of about 40 cents on the $100, the property of the pro

All debt carried on the books of the province and not already provided for will be funded. This, the premier estimates, will be in the vicinity of $3,000,000, including the estimated deficit for in the vicinity of $3,000,000, including the estimated deficit for the remoter districts of the province 1926. The interest and sinking fund charges of this funding will be assessed directly on the taxpayers of the province. The bond be assessed directly on the taxpayers of the province. The bond d probably at 5 per cent., as practicable.

Hon. Mr. Tilley brought up the matissue probably will be for a short term ar it is learned. Interest and sinking fund costs will run between $175,000 and $200,000 and this will be assessed directly on the province. The total assessed valuation of the entire province is

Hon. Mr. Tilley brought up the matter of a compulsory close season or term for partridges.

This valuable bird was, he said, beestimated to be in the vicinity of $200,000,000. By the arrangement outlined above, the sinking fund will retire the debt in a period of years. A similar procedure will be followed in succeed-

In introducing the bill, Premier Baxter declared such a tax was necessary if New Brunswick was to place its finances on an absolutely sound basis. The province, he said, was not particularly prosperous and while taxation never was popular, it was at times as necessary to remedy a disorder of the state, as the surgeon's knife was to remedy a disorder of the body. The government, he declared, had no desire to impose a heavy burden and a system had been devised that would make the tax very light.

ANOTHER WAY ADOPTED.

To authorize the funding of the floating for a closed period for three years, so that all game wandens would be duly notified and the information spread generally. Hon. Mr. Richards explained that under the act as it stood there was a complete close season until the act was changed with the proviso that an order-in-council might permit a certain open period in any year. Speaking for the government he thought he could assure the House that no open period would be given this year.

Personally, Premier Baxter said, he had given much consideration to this matter of balancing current expenditure, and revenue. If the estimated deficit of $700,000 were taken and spread over the province, it would no every $100 assessment. The same result, he felt, would be attained it another way through a tax of considerably less than that, probably amounting to 10 cents on every $100 awould assessed on $1,000 would pay about $1, he pointed out.

PROCEDURE OUTLINED.

The premier then outlined the procedure to be followed. All the existing liabilities of the province will be funded. The government then will take the interest and sinking funds charges for all this debt funded since January 1, 1926, and assess that over the entire province. During the year, he explained, the Provincial Secretary-Treasurer would employ such experts for proper comparison of the standard of valuations throughout the province. If in one section, the valuation was around 40 per cent. and another place 60 per cent., a calculation would be made to equalize the first provided that after all explants and the introducing it with any feelings of delight, but there had any feelin cent. and another place 60 per cent., a calculation would be made to equalize them. To re-value the entire province would require an enormous expenditure totally out of proportion to the benefits that might be received. Appeals from such changes in valuation would be to the provinical executive, he said.

WARRANTS TO BE ISSUED.

Later, warrants would be issued to the taxable areas and the tax would be collected in the ordinary way. Added to the warrant will be the cost of collection and a margin for decent. and another place 60 per cent., a calculation would be made to equalize of collection and a margin for de-linquency, the reason being that the face of the warrant be returned to the would investigate the valuation in face of the warrant be returned to the province. Money raised in this way will be used solely to meet such interest and sinking fund charges. Thus, 'the premier declared, the Province of New Brunswick would have the satisfaction of knowing that it was being placed back on the road of sound financial of knowing that it was being placed back on the road of sound financial back on the road of sound financial of knowing that it was being placed back on the road of sound financial back on the proportionate amount of money required from each to be allocated. Then each municipality would receive notice of its responsibility and would collect the amount required as in the case read a third time.
