

Churches Pay Tribute To Dignity of Labor

Special Sermons on Timely Topic Delivered on Sunday—Sunday Schools Returning to Winter Schedule.

As Sunday was the day before the Labor Day bank holiday, Labor, and kindred subjects were made the themes of special addresses by several of the clergymen. Rev. Moorehead Legate, preaching in Knox church on Sunday evening took for the subject of his labor day sermon, "Is Work a Blessing or a Curse?" and Rev. F. H. Bone of Central Baptist church dwelt upon the dignity of labor in his morning address.

In a clear-cut sermon of much merit at evensong on Sunday, Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, rector of Trinity church, devoted some time to a reference to labor day, taking for his text: "Is not this the carpenter?" Canon Armstrong spoke of the honor and dignity which attaches to labor done with the hands. It was not always so in the world, but in these times labor and the working-man was coming into his own more than ever, and was getting more than before in a world which was supposed to contain plenty for all. At one time in England the working men were not overly religious, but now at the great open air meetings of the name of the Saviour was generally applauded. The working classes of England today had great respect for the name of Jesus Christ. Canon Armstrong called attention to the fact that the Lord himself had worked with his hands at his trade in Nazareth, and that all the apostles with the probable exception of St. Matthew, had been laboring men. Even St. Paul, who had done more than any other man to spread Christianity, referred to himself as a laborer in his younger days.

Non-denominational services had been held in a hall in Fair Vale, each Sunday afternoon for the last two months, arranged by an efficient committee of which William White of St. John was the chairman. Last Sunday the final service was held and Rev. F. S. Dowling was the preacher. Each Sunday one of the city clergymen had gone to Fair Vale to conduct the service. T. C. Cochrane kindly gave his services as organist and for the final service Miss Parlee and Mr. Knox were soloists. At the close of the service a vote of thanks was tendered the committee which had arranged the services so satisfactorily.

Mr. Dowling took as the text of his sermon "Seek Ye the Lord and Ye Shall Live" and "A Kingdom Divided Against Itself Cannot Stand." His sermon was appropriate to Labor Day, making a strong appeal for the promotion of the religious life of the people of Canada and a spirit of unity that would tend to harmony in spirit of the various elements of national life that might make for discord. He said the British Empire looked to Canada to maintain peaceful relations between the Empire and the United States and to that end Canadians must so regulate the national life that all friction in industrial, political, religious and social life should be reduced to a minimum.

Sunday School Change.

On Sunday, the first in the month of September, many of the city schools met in the afternoon, changing from the morning sessions of the summer to the usual fall and winter programme.

Most of the churches which had held united services were once more divided into separate congregations worshiping in their own separate buildings. St. Matthews and the Douglas avenue, Christian churches were united on Sunday and met in St. Matthews church in the morning and in the Christian church in the evening. St. Andrews, Presbyterian and the German street Baptist congregations held their final united services. Rev. F. S. Dowling conducted the morning service which was held in the Baptist church and Rev. S. S. Poole the evening service in St. Andrews church.

In some instances, Sunday schools have not been held during the summer and where this has been the case the Sunday schools will re-open next Sunday. Many of the pupils were still in the country or enjoying holidays away from the city but as the public schools open today the children will return to attend and will be ready to assemble next Sunday.

Mrs. Gertrude S. Hasbrouck, national secretary of the Child Welfare Association of America, gave notable addresses on Child Welfare subjects in three churches on Sunday and the large congregations which heard her were greatly impressed. She spoke in Centenary church in the morning, at the Ludlow street Baptist church in the afternoon and at the Main street Baptist church in the evening.

At Grand Bay, the annual service of the Grand Bay Outing Association was held in the Baptist church in the afternoon when Rev. W. R. Robinson of the Ludlow street Baptist church, St. John, was the preacher. Mr. Robinson made Child Welfare the subject of his eloquent address. A special programme of music was given and added greatly to the impressiveness of the occasion. There was a large attendance.

The nomination proceedings were quiet, there being no speeches. Dr. Emery's papers were filed by J. Fred Belyea as his agent and Mr. Wignmore's agent was Frank T. Lewis. Very few were in attendance when the sheriff held court to receive the nominations.

Polling day has been fixed for Sept. 20 and seventy-nine booths will be opened in the city of St. John from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m. In the country, booths will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. A special dispensation is given for sailors, commercial travelers and others obliged to leave the city before polling day, in the opening of an advanced poll. One advanced poll will be opened in St. John and one in Fairville, each being open for three days previous to polling day, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 16, 17 and 18. To be permitted to vote at these advanced polls the voter must make affidavit before Judge Armstrong in the city of St. John, or the registrar in Fairville, to the effect that circumstances make his or her attendance at the polls on the appointed polling day impossible.

Among the signatures on Dr. Emery's nomination papers were: H. N. Coates, J. Fred Belyea, T. Carleton Olive, Alex. Corbet, Joseph F. Dwyer, Robert D. Harrington, J. H. Doody, Alex. Crawford, John M. ## CELEBRATION OF LABOR DAY IN BORDER TOWNS

Grand Parade With Three Bands and Attractive Floats—Street Sports and Baseball Games.

St. Stephen, Sept. 6.—Labor organizations have owned the community today and everything has broken favorably for the observance of Labor Day.

The unions at Woodland have held monopoly of the great day for several years as that was the home of all labor organizations on the river, but this spring the workers in the cotton mill at Milltown effected an organization of a textile union with a large membership and carpenter and mason unions had been established here and all combined with the Milltown union in the celebration.

The well kept and beautifully shaded streets of the cotton mill town lent themselves splendidly for the monster parade in the forenoon in which about 500 workers took part, a large body of the G. W. V. A. participating. The Milltown, St. Andrews and Woodland bands furnished excellent music and about 3,000 spectators enjoyed the parade. Several attractive floats were contributed by the cotton mill employees.

At the conclusion of the big parade addresses on labor topics were delivered from a stand erected in Main street, the speakers being J. L. Sugrue, of St. John, and Horace A. Riviere, of Manchester (N. H.), who had organized the textile union. His Worship Mayor Laughlin presided and the speakers were given a very attentive hearing.

An attractive series of street sports was carried out during the day and in the afternoon a crowd that was estimated at 2,000 witnessed two excellent and snappy games of baseball, Woodland winning from Milltown (Me.) by a score of 4 to 3 and St. Stephen winning from Milltown (N. B.) by a score of 5 to 0. The festivities closed with a grand ball in Eaton Hall.

To the People of Canada

THERE are many things which you need not buy unless you choose. But footwear is not among them. You must have shoes. From the standpoint of your health, as well as for comfort and appearance, good shoes are a necessity. And that fact alone places upon the manufacturer of shoes a responsibility which he must at all times appreciate.

That responsibility to the Canadian public is shared by the 158 manufacturers of shoes in Canada, from whom you buy nearly $50,000,000 worth of footwear every year.

The fact that we have built up an industry of such magnitude is the best evidence that we do appreciate this responsibility. One may think that our responsibility ends when we have produced footwear of honest value and sincere workmanship, and have placed it on the shelf of the retail store where it is accessible to you. That is one essential service which our industry is called upon to render.

But we cannot dismiss our responsibility quite so easily. We believe that we should do more than that.

Good shoes are of such daily importance that we ought to make public certain facts and conditions which govern the quality of the product we make, and the value which you receive for your money. We ought to point out clearly, the part which you exercise, in establishing those conditions. We should urge upon you, your own responsibility in the matter, and show you just how you can help to maintain the quality of the footwear which we offer you.

This is the first advertisement of a series which will be devoted to that purpose.

Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

Hopewell Hill, Sept. 6.—Work of repairing the schooner Marjory Austin, at Harvey Bank is progressing well and it is hoped to have the craft take her second launching in a month or so. The hull was badly damaged amidships and all spars and rigging were carried away, but with the work that has been done on her this summer and newly sparred, she is expected to be a pretty good vessel when she again takes the water.

FERRY SERVICE WAS INTERRUPTED

The ferryboat Governor Carleton is off the service and is undergoing repairs, a faulty shaft having caused difficulty in steering on Saturday. For about an hour in the early part of Saturday afternoon the ferry service was suspended, as it was necessary to take the Governor Carleton off and get the Ludlow ready to go on the service until the trouble could be fixed. No accident occurred, due to the defective steering as, when it was seen that the trouble was not one that could be remedied off-hand, the Governor Carleton was taken to the west side and tied up there. The regular service was resumed shortly after 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the Ludlow will carry on until repairs are completed to the Governor Carleton. It is expected that she will not be out of commission for very long.
