AT THE PALACE

ANTONIO MORENO in "THE VEILED MYSTERY"

Episode One: "THE MEN ACE"

We offer you in "The Veiled Mystery" Vitaphone's latest and most pretentious serial of mystery, romance and excitement, the peerless Antonio Moreno in fifteen reels of the most remarkable scenic and thrilling episodes yet brought to the screen. The story is an interesting one—one that will hold your attention until the last foot of the last episode has flickered across the screen. The story was created only after a careful study of those things the public, after viewing other serials, had demanded. It contains all the elements for suspense, thrill and interest. The next point in order of importance was the selection of a leading woman for Antonio Moreno, whose sterling work in other Vitaphone serials has made him a national favorite. The choice was made by the public itself—its overwhelming reception of Pauline Curley in Moreno's last serial, "The Invisible Hand," making her the obvious person for the role in the present serial.

WAS ROBBED OF HER HANDBAG

Young Woman Held Up in Garden Street on Her Way
Home.

A daring holdup took place about nine o'clock on Thursday evening in Garden street, when a handbag was snatched from a young woman returning to her home in Mount Pleasant. The young woman, who is employed in a house on Mount Pleasant, had been out and was going down Garden street. Near Charles street she was suddenly stopped by a man who grabbed her by the wrist with such force that she was compelled to drop her bag. He picked it up and disappeared.

The girl telephoned to the police from a shop in Garden street and went home. Later she was visited by Sergeant Detective Power, who obtained a description of her assailant, and a search is now being made to locate him. The purse contained only a small amount of change and a few small personal articles.

The children of grade V, of Victoria school enjoyed a sleigh drive yesterday afternoon. They returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Crockett, where supper was served.

TO SPRINKLE THE STREETS WITH BOOSE

Unique Ceremony by W. C.
T. U.—500 Gallons of
Seized Liquor Thrown Away Tomorrow.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 15.—Tomorrow is going to be a red letter day in the history of the dry-enforcement movement in this city. Five hundred gallons of whiskey, some good and some bad; wines, red, white and yellow, and other illegal alcoholic beverages, will be poured into one of the big municipal street sprinklers and then spread upon the main business thoroughfares to settle the dust, if there be any, until the last drop has been disposed of.

The sprinkling of city streets with booze will be the spectacular feature of the big celebration of the state W. C. T. U. has planned in commemoration of United States prohibition. The day will be called "Carrie Nation Day" in honor of one of the late militant dry leaders.

More than 100 men have offered their services to drive the booze loaded sprinkler, on which seats will be provided for a score of women prohibitionists.

The liquor was confiscated in various raids by the prohibition officers.

A seventh centre of the St. John Ambulance Association was formed in Fredericton Thursday evening. The meeting was called by the Earl of Ashburnham and Miss Marion Magee, V. A. D., of this city, organising secretary.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET

One of the big sporting events of the winter season will be the first Athletic and musical entertainment given by the New Brunswick Kennel Club on Monday evening in the large hall in the Furlong Building on Charlotte Street. There will be an extensive and varied programme two of the prominent features being a snappy wrestling match between Walter O'Toole and the Masked Demon and an athletic exhibition by Harris and Lockney. The committee promises a full evening of sport and entertainment and the big draw start promptly at 8 o'clock.

POLICE FIND NEW KIND OF LIQUOR

MASH AT REHOBOTH
Taunton, Jan. 15.—Local police discovered a new kind of mash for making contraband liquors in this district when they confiscated 1500 gallons of the mash and 15 gallons of moonshine. The new mash contained rice, sugar, yeast and water, according to the police.
Chief of Police Gingras and Deputy Chief Nerney of Attleboro went to Rehoboth to find it. They found four stills working, they said, on the second floor of the house of Joseph Santos and arrested Santos and Ferdinand T. Mendonca and Tony Pavis, who were found in the house with Santos.
The police seized the mash, liquor and stills. In the local court here today where they told the story Santos, Mendonca and Pavis were found guilty and each paid a fine of $75. They were charged with illegally keeping liquors.
