LAST FAILURE OF BROKEN
DOWN ACTOR TOO MUCH;
ENDS LIFE WITH BULLET

Berlin, Oct. 22.—A pathetic tragedy of a broken-down actor is reported from Königsberg, where an actor-manager named Hermann Denner shot himself. He had assembled a touring company from among actors and actresses who, like himself, found it impossible to get engagements. They were to open at Gumbinnen, East Prussia, but the firm from which the costumes and properties were rented failed to send them, so the company had to perform in the best apparel they could scrape together from their own sadly depleted wardrobes. The grotesque result called forth such savage criticism that the company at the next town played to an audience representing only 85 of the house receipts. Denner, who had high hopes of regaining a foothold in his calling with his new venture, was heartbroken at its collapse and he returned to his lodgings and shot himself.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN;
WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

OPERA HOUSE CROWDED TO CAPACITY YESTERDAY.

Holiday crowds flocked to the Opera House yesterday afternoon and evening. John Lloyd, tenor, was the feature attraction and the hearty applause testified to the popularity of his favorite, Miss Arline Lloyd, soprano, also received an ovation and in rendering Bartlett's "Dream" showed the results of most careful training. Little Miss Rhonda Lloyd, aged ten years, scored a big hit in her dainty character songs and was obliged to respond to encores. The film subjects were strictly first class. An accident occurred in the afternoon, when a plant was installed, embracing the latest improvements by Thomas A. Edison. The consequent result is that a picture entertainment up-to-the-minute is now being given to Opera House patrons. Yesterday's programme will be repeated today. Tomorrow and Thursday an all star programme is promised, and which is a great moral drama, "Breaking the Seventh Commandment" will be an outstanding feature.

"ALL ABOARD FOR FAIRYLAND"

Thousands of St. John people are booked for a most entrancing visit to Fairyland next week at the Opera House, when five hundred kiddies and adults put on "Alice in Wonderland." The little household library is a more welcome reading and especially to the little folks has it a most appealing interest. The tale of the tale has made it easy to drill the participants in the extravaganza to a high degree of efficiency and with bewildering scenes in rapid succession the effect will be truly that of Fairyland. The piece is composed of a prologue and two long acts made up of snappy dialogue, pretty songs and dances, popular melodies, dances, drills, ballets and magnificent assemblages. The costumes, lighting effects and special scenery are in the hands of the producers of this piece in larger cities, and under the direction of Miss D. Hope Leonard, of New York, the affair is a sure to boost the finances of the public play ground movement handsomely. Much public spirit is being shown by generous purchase of tickets from the little workers who are calling upon the citizens most diligently.

HOW TO DO IT

A "Man Doctor" unchivalrously declares that women do everything rather less perfectly than men. They don't cook so well, they don't make dresses quite so well, they don't take home a bottle of H. P. Sauce tonight. Suggest to her in the mildest possible manner, that you like H. P. with cold meats, that its good with eggs and bacon, delicious with crust of bread and cheese—unparalleled as a flavoring to insipid gravies, ragout or made dishes. In this, as in most other domestic matters, a grain of help is worth a bushel of fault-finding. But you should be quite sure that it is H. P. Sauce that you take home with you.

ONE EXCUSE.

Mrs. A.—Well, if it isn't Mrs. B. What a stranger you are! Why, it's quite five years since I saw you.
Mrs. B.—Yes. Why haven't you been to see me.
Mrs. A.—Oh, dear, you know how bad the weather's been.—Pathfinder.

THE HOLIDAY IN ST. JOHN

Thanksgiving day was quietly observed yesterday. Many took advantage of the week-end to get out of the city over the holiday and the crisp autumn weather drew many of those who remained in the city out of doors yesterday.

The day was marked by special Thanksgiving Day services in the churches. The Presbyterian church, Dr. McVicar of St. Andrew's delivered the sermon. The Methodist held a united service, meeting in Queen Square Methodist church. The principal address was given by Rev. J. L. Dawson of Centenary.

The moving picture houses and the Opera House all did good business throughout the day. Walking was a form of amusement which appealed to many, and crowds of citizens walked out to Courtenay Bay, in addition to those who drove, to see the progress of the Norton Griffiths contract.

POLES USED IN CANADA

The forestry branch of the department of the interior has lately finished the compilation of statistics dealing with the number of poles purchased in Canada during 1911. The total number of poles purchased was 585,703, a decrease of 23 per cent from 1910. The total value of these poles at point of purchase was $1,028,277, and the average price of poles was $1.80 greater by forty-seven cents than the price per pole in 1910.

Steam railways, telephone and telegraph companies used almost ninety per cent of these poles, the remaining ten per cent being used by electric railway, power and light companies. More than ninety per cent of the total consumption were cedar poles, which for their cost give better service than any other wood. At present practically none of these poles is treated or preserved by any method, in which respect Canada is far behind the United States. The United States, using 3,870,000 poles in 1910 found that it paid them to use preservative methods. During the last four years the treatment of poles has advanced rapidly; in 1910 more than 21 per cent of the total number were treated by the creosote or other methods. This is an increase of some forty-five per cent over the number treated in 1905.

At present the United States has a large number of timber-treating plants, while Canadian pole-users are only now beginning to treat their poles. It is to be hoped that this great inequality will soon be done away with and that pole-users in Canada may take up this cheap and rational method of securing greater service from their poles used and thus lessening the drain on the forest.

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, the senior field-marshal of the British army is seventy-nine. He entered the army sixty years ago, and has taken part in ten campaigns and commanded five. From 1895 to 1900 he was commander-in-chief of the army.

It has been estimated that London on an average spends $20,000 a day on being amused.
