Palmer, Hon. Acaelus L., late Judge of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

An Historical Sketch of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick. (Contributed to a compilation entitled The Supreme Court of the States and Provinces of North America. Vol. I, series 3. New York, 1893.)

Palmer, David, was born at Grand Lake, Queens Co., N. B., Feb. 28th, 1789, and died June 1st, 1866. He was of an English family, his progenitor, John Palmer, a sergeant in the British army, settling in Rowley, Mass., in 1639. His grandfather, Daniel Palmer, was one of the party who planted the colony on the banks of the St. John in 1763. The family was one of sterling worth and some of its members left behind a name of wide repute. The Perley's were of the family, but chief among these names is that of William Lloyd Garrison, the famous American reformer. He was a first cousin of David Palmer.

The Gospel Magazine, an English publication, for many years received contributions from the pen of Mr. Palmer in prose and verse. He generally styled himself "Metrix," and as he had an excellent education, chiefly self-acquired, and a good classical training, his contributions were much prized. His volume of poems is valuable chiefly for its title piece, a descriptive poem in blank verse of his native land. It treats of New Brunswick's natural possessions and characteristics, its productions, savage life, lumbering, colonization, &c. It is well conceived and is written naturally and gracefully.

Palmer, Mrs. Lizzie E., daughter-in-law of David Palmer. She was a daughter of Deacon Jarvis Estabrook, of Grand Lake, and grand-daughter of Rev. Elijah Estabrook. She married Andrew, a son of David Palmer. She is a gifted composer in verse.

Parkin, Geo. R. D., is probably the best known of Canadians in England and her colonial possessions. On the public platform, between the covers of books and in the columns of the press he has spoken to tens of thousands and more Englishmen have probably heard him than has been the case perhaps with any other Canadian public man abroad.

He is a native of Westmorland county, having been born at Salisbury, and he is now in the prime of life. He was educated at Fredericton, receiving a degree in arts from the University of New Brunswick. He studied at Oxford and returned to his native province to take charge of the collegiate school at Fredericton. This position he held for some considerable time.

A few years ago he relinquished this appointment to accept a position with the Imperial Federation League. He has always been an ardent imperialist, and the central league appointed him to promote their aims throughout the empire. He delivered lectures in Canada, Great Britain and Australia, meeting with much success and impressing his audiences with the fact of his possession of a wide range of information coupled with the necessary qualifications for a speaker.

Beside his lecturing Mr. Parkin has done a great deal of literary work. The couple of volumes which have been published are the result of his labors as an Imperialist Federationist. He has also in hand a couple of other things. One is a life of Dr. Thring, the eminent educationist. This will be a very important work, and is being awaited by educationists with large anticipations, which will be no doubt realized, for it will be the outcome of several years of thought and investigation. His other work will be one on Canada, in which he will bring together and enlarge a series of articles which he has been contributing to the London Times on the subject. He is also the author of some elementary works for use in the English schools.

Perley, Moses Henry, was born at Maugerville, N. B., Dec. 31, 1804. He was through his mother grandson of Israel Perley, founder of the settlement there, and through his father a grandson of Oliver, brother of Israel Perley. The most of his school education was received at St. John. He studied law and was called to the bar in 1830. He was a man of many parts and he shone in other spheres than the law.

He was thoroughly conversant with man and nature, he knew the forests and the seas and their inhabitants. He was employed by the Imperial Government on many delicate missions which brought out his genius to diplomacy.

In 1841 he was appointed Special Commissioner for Indian Affairs by Sir Wm. Colebrooke, Lt.-Gov. of the province. "For several years he was largely engaged in the milling and lumbering trade and was the means of introducing much capital into New Brunswick, and of bringing prominently before England and the United States the natural capabilities and resources of the province. For some years prior to the consideration of the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854 he labored with Hon. Daniel Webster and other eminent American and Canadian public men in collecting and compiling trade and other statistics of the British American Colonies and the United States, and in completing those measures which ultimately tended to the adoption of the treaty. So highly were his services on this occasion regarded, and so much were his talents and abilities appreciated by Lord Elgin, the then Governor-General, who negotiated the Treaty, and the Imperial Government, that he was immediately appointed Commissioner under its 1st and 2nd articles to carry out the terms of the Treaty, an office which he held up to the period of his decease."

He was for a period H. M. Emigration Officer at St. John, and he represented Great Britain upon the commission appointed at the time of the fishery disputes and through his able services it was settled amicably and to the advantage of Great Britain and the colonies. He knew more about Canadian fisheries, it is said, than any man before or since.

He was an enthusiastic sportsman, spending much time in the woods with rod and gun and his Indian friends. It is a mark of credit to a man when he is trusted by the Indian race, and Perley was a chief of the St. John Millicotes.

He took considerable interest in local history and was in a good position to obtain much information upon the subject. His lecture, recently published, contains some new and valuable information. He also wrote on Indian lore, contributing legends and sporting sketches to the "Shooting Review," of London, between 1839 and 1841. Among other contributions were "Camp of the Owls," "Forest Fairies of the Millicotes," "Ottowin and Lola," "The White Spectre of the Weepemaw," and "The Indian Regatta." He also edited in 1861 the "Colonial Empire," St. John.

He died August 17, 1862, upon the H. M. S. Desperate, while engaged in official work off the coast of Labrador, and was buried with naval honors at Forteau on that coast. SPORTING MATTERS.

Cricket. THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE MATCH. The Oxford and Cambridge match ended, according to general expectation, in an easy victory for Oxford with eight wickets to spare. It appears to have been an uninteresting contest, marked by no striking performance either with bat or ball. Mr. Fry, the athletic champion of the day, obtained the distinction of scoring a hundred runs for Oxford, but carried caution to an unnecessary extent. Phillips' innings of 78 was very brilliant and greatly applauded. The only chance for Cambridge was in one of their four good batsmen "coming off," but, though none of them actually failed, neither Mitchell, Latham, Douglas nor Perkins did anything above the average. The best score in the Cambridge innings was made by Brunton, one of the last chosen. The proof of the general inferiority of both elevens is shown by the fact that only three university players (Merchant and Mathews of Oxford and Perkins of Cambridge) were chosen to play for the Gentlemen of England at the Oval.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The New Brunswick cheese factories are delivering cheese in fairly large quantities, but it is said the make will be smaller than was expected. There will, however, be considerable for export. The factories are now getting from 95 to 98, which is a very good figure and more than Ontario factories now get.

One result of the colonial conference will be the early shipment of a cargo of paper to Montreal. Hon. Simon Fraser has given an order to E. B. Eddy of Hull for a supply. It is to be shipped via London.

W. W. Ogilvie, the flour king, states that the acreage of wheat crop in Manitoba and Northwest will be from three to four million bushels more than last year. Cutting will be general on August 10, if good weather continues, two weeks earlier than last year.

BRITISH LUMBER TRADE. Timber News of July 7th says: "Several timber-laden vessels have gone up the Manchester Ship canal, most of them taking cargoes of spruce deals. The Maria Cassa, from Miramichi, shipped per A. F. & D. Mackay for Pierce, Watts & Co., has taken down her topmasts and proceeded direct to the Manchester docks." Among other vessels landing or about to land at Liverpool or nearby ports at that date, were the Lord Bangor, Vendura, Capulet and Ardnamhor from St. John; Teals and Cypriote from Miramichi; Trojan from West Bay; Sagana from Richibucto; Beck City from Halifax. The s.s. Ulunda from St. John was then daily expected.

Recent arrivals at Belfast were the Rectitude and Lord O'Neill from St. John; Algona and Two Brothers from Miramichi; Anna from Bay Verte; Gambetta from Richibucto.

Farworth & Jardine's Circular reports from July 23rd to July 1st that they arrived at Liverpool from N.B. and N.S. ports 649,222 pieces spruce deals, compared with 647,391 pieces in 1893, and 771,736 pieces in 1892 (same period). The tonnage arriving from St. John during the respective periods was: 1894, 11,011; 1893, 8,495; 1892, 18,415. The stocks of N.B. and N.S. spruce and pine deals in Liverpool on July 1st were 6,390 standards, compared with 6,006 and 8,656 on July 1st, 1893 and 1892 respectively.

The stocks of birch logs on July 1st were 158,000 cubic feet, compared with 177,000 in 1893, and 160,000 in 1892; and of birch plank no less than 286,000 cubic feet, compared with 170,000, and 110,000 in 1893 and 1892 respectively.

WOOD PULP CLOTHING NEXT. The painful news reaches the world through the American Wool and Cotton Reporter that miredred genius has found a way of spinning a yarn from wood pulp which can be spun with wool into a yarn consisting of two parts wool and one part wood, and escape detection unless carefully examined. It is said that a good deal of wool has already been made from this composite yarn, and that it wears well. If it does not wear well ingenuity has perpetrated one more fraud upon the inexperienced consumer, and if it does wear well the invention will be very much more likely to depress the price of wool than any tariff changes possibly could.

WOOD PULP CLOTHING NEXT. The wool pulp is vastly cheaper than any wool adulterated now in use. Of course the cheapening of the product might result in an increased demand for the wool which must furnish two-thirds of the composite yarn, but a like stimulation of the wool market is produced by free wool. In commercial history such effects have frequently occurred.—(New York Commercial Bulletin.)

UMBRELLA TRUST GOES UNDER. The big American umbrella trust has been placed in the hands of receivers. This company was organized in June, 1892, under the laws of the State of New York, with an authorized share capital of $8,000,000, and with power to issue $2,000,000 of debenture stock. It was formed for the purpose of acquiring and consolidating into one company the leading manufacturers of umbrellas in the United States. The company succeeded in acquiring the factories of eleven leading concerns representing about 60 per cent. of the domestic output. In payment for the assets of these plants the company issued upwards of $1,000,000 debenture stock, and paid about $4,000,000 of the common stock for the good-will of these businesses. The balance of the debenture stock and common stock is still unused. The manufacturers found, as the result of two years' very disastrous experience, that an attempt to consolidate a business of this kind is a failure. The liabilities of the company are placed at about $1,200,000, but of this amount it is said $1,000,000 is debenture stock, which would leave the trade indebtedness at $200,000. The assets are estimated at about $800,000.

A HOME FOR COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS. BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., July 16.—Just as the 7 o'clock whistles were blowing this morning Miss Essie Booth, daughter of Secretary W. H. Booth of the C. The corner stone of the home will be laid October 9th.

TO COIN SILVER DOLLARS. Orders Issued to Start the Coinage of Silver at San Francisco and New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Mr. Preston, the director of the mint, today by direction of the secretary of the treasury, issued orders to the mint authorities at San Francisco and New Orleans to begin at once the coinage of silver dollars and during the present month to coin up to the ordinary capacities of the mints. The silver to be coined first will be tanks and ingots of which there is sufficient to coin $1,500,000 at these two mints and at Philadelphia. As soon as these are exhausted, work will probably begin on the silver bar, of which there is a large supply at San Francisco and New Orleans and probably five years' supply at Philadelphia.

So far as can be learned it is not the purpose of the government to extend the coinage or the seizure beyond a few millions, but it is stated that after coining will be necessary and recouling the abraded fractional silver. Each of the three mints probably will be worked at their normal capacity on silver dollars for the next month at least, and presumably to the end of the present calendar year. Whether notes will be retired as fast as received for silver so far as known has not been determined.

A Gifted Indian Girl. BRANTFORD, July 16.—Word from Miss E. Pauline Johnson shows that she is having a flattering reception in British literary and artistic circles. She was recently the guest of Sir Frederick Leighton, and has had her book of poems accepted by a well-known publishing house. The issue will take place simultaneously in London, New York and Toronto.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

Mgr. Satelli Renders an Important Decision.

Liquor Dealers Should Not be Admitted to Catholic Societies.

The Deliverance Called Out by the Lenten Letter of Bishop Waters.

New York, July 18.—The Press will say tomorrow: Mgr. Satelli, the apostolic delegate, has just rendered a decision concerning the liquor traffic. He approves of the expulsion of liquor dealers from Catholic societies.

The decision was called forth by an appeal from the ruling of Bishop Waters of Columbus, Ohio. During the last Lenten season Bishop Waters addressed a letter to the clergy of his diocese, dealing with the temperance problem. Bishop Waters said: "I hereby withdraw my approbation from any and every Catholic society in this diocese that has a liquor dealer or saloon keeper at its head, or anywhere among its officers, and withdraw from such societies all privileges as an apostolic society until it ceases to be so officered. No one who is engaged, either as principal or agent in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, should be admitted to membership."

One of the societies laid the matter formally before Mgr. Satelli. To this appeal the apostolic delegate has just responded. He sustains the position of Bishop Waters and says: "The liquor traffic, especially as it is conducted here in the State of Ohio, is the source of much evil, hence the bishop was acting within his right in seeking to restrict it. Therefore, the delegate apostolic sustains Bishop Waters' action and approves of his efforts in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, should be admitted to membership."
