"That was the very first I saw of it. It approached us at right angles, coming toward us from the north and I striking us on the starboard side, at a point some 90 or 100 feet, I should say, from the stern.

"When the torpedo struck us there was a terrible explosion, so loud that I had never heard anything like it. Ton can imagine how terrible it was when I tell you it shook the ship from the stern of stern. The explosion was so stupendous that one of the boats which sh, was swung out from the ship's side was blown into the aiv in splinters. Then, the art the torpedo struck in immense volume of water was thrown up into the air on a rememdous height, and, of course, there was a great shock."

Active War, Says T. R.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22—Former President Theodore Roosevelt issued the following statement here Saturday:

"I see this suggested in the papers, that the German answer to our last note, that is, the sinking of the Arabic by a German submarine, and the consequent murder of certain American citizens, will be adequately met by the administration dismissing Bernstorff and severing diplomatic relations with Germany. I earneetly hope the administration will not take this view, for to do so would be a fresh sacrifice of American honor and interest.

"The president's note to Germany in February last was an excellent note, if only it had been lived up to. But every subsequent note has represented nothing but weakness and timidity on our side; the sinking of the Lusitania and of the Arabic—represent the arrogant answers which this weakness has inspired. Germany will care nothing for the mere severance of diplomatic relations.

"The time for words on the part of this nation has long passed; the time for deeds has come. What has just occurred is a fresh and lamentable proof of the unwisdom of our people in not haven in insisted upon the beginning of active military preparedness thirteen months ago."

"We had all the life boats, and sless of the Arabic, and went on:

"Gleft Liverpool at 2.34 p. m. Wednessaday, and they were swung out mediately. Everything was ready including 261 members of the crew. All went well with us on our way down the channel, until 9.60 a. m., Thursday, when the ship was torpedoed. There was an ortheasterly wind and there was only a slight swell on. Before we were torpedoed we were going at 16 knots."

Asked as to whether any warning had been given by the submarine, Captain Finch said emphatically. "No. We were torpedoed without receiving any warning. I was on the bridge all the way down the channel. The first indication I had flat we were attacked or in all, fourteen boats lowered, I think, this para down the channel. The first indication I had flat we were attacked or in the presence of a submarine at all, was when I saw the torpedo coming toward the ship at a distance of about 800 feet.
