PREFACE.

The Publishers of this work, after several years experience in publishing Provincial Directories, find that the support we have received in the past would not compensate for the larger Directories. To meet the wants required by the public for such works, the publishers have commenced a series of smaller Directories by taking such Counties with business centres that will pay and meet the large outlay of obtaining information from country districts. We now place before the public the second edition, comprising Westmorland and Albert Counties. Although there is no perfection guaranteed, still we hope the public will find the work as complete as such works can be produced. The publishers have, in every instance, instructed their agents to obtain reliable information.

To those who have given information or supported in any way this work, the publishers return their sincere thanks.

D. McALPINE & SON,
PUBLISHERS.
