

S. F. HUESTIS, Publisher. T WATSON SMITH, Editor.

Published under the direction of the General Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada.

$2 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE Postage Prepaid.

281

No 36

VOL XXXIII.

HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1881.

"WESLEYAN." THE OFFICE:-141 GRANVILLE STREET.

of property at ver

All letters on business connected with the saper and all moneys remitted should be ad-areased to S. F. HUESTIS. All articles to be inserted in the paper and any books to be noticed should be addressed to T. WATSON SMITH. SUBSCRIPTIONS may be made to any Minister of the Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island and Newtoundiand Con-brought there by liquor.

Christianity in Japan.

about $11,000 was realized.

about $500,000.

tributions.

the Stuart kings.

Cess.

The rector of Trinity Parish, New York, has sixteen assistants. The income of the parish is understood to be an institution for the education of the daughters of missionaries. A bazaar was held lately for its benefit, from which

The expenses of the American New Testament Committee from October,

1872, to March 1881, amounted to £5,500, which has been met by voluntary con-learn that the last act of the Dean of Westminster was to propose the erection in the Abbey of a memorial to the many ministers who suffered persecution at the hands of the Established Church under d over

C0.,

le Securities

B EXCHANGE

NEW YORK and

bove named Citie

LANCE

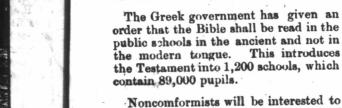

51,000,000.

PANY.

COMPANY

plans and at most Hollis Street.

EMY, al.

stitution will

The Roman Catholic Bishop of De-troit most properly forbids all Catholics in his diocese from originating or participating in any public picnic excursion on Sundays or holy days. We wish all the Roman Catholic authorities were equally wise. - Episcopal Recorder.

This is the question : " Is a man who does not read the current literature of the Church fit for official position in the Church ?" We think the opinion is largely unfavorable to such men being put forward as representative men.

People object to being represented by

Eleven years ago the Education Act passed the British Parliament with much opposition, and about 1,700,000 children were registered. Last year the average attendance at day schools was 2,814,000, and the moral effect of the legislation, according to Police reports, had been

"to civilize and humanize the popula-

have not continued over the Sabbath.

Where they have, successful efforts have such folks. - Rich. Adv.

tion in the great centres."

must be proud."

other cause.

The Home World says that the Countess of Dublin, belonging to the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, is a teetotal ship, no one on the vessel, from the captain downwards, being allowed to take any intoxicating liquor while on board. This may explain the fact that during the eleven years she has been under Captain Dunn's command, not a single accident has ever occurred to the

At a Baptist church in the North-west of London, two kinds of sacramental wine are used. Those who partake of the fermented wine sit in the area, FROM THE PAPERS. those who prefer the unfermented sit under the galleries. There is no dis-The Chaplain of the Kansas penitencussion of the subject; but there is a steadily and quietly increasing migratiary says that all but twenty of the tion from the area to the side seatsconvicts there-639 out of 659-were which foreshows that by-and bye the area will be required for the abstainers. Nowhere else has Methodism gained so strong a hold as in the United States. Of all the Protestant churches, it is the one here the most numerous, the most A society has been organized in Japan powerful and the most growing. It each of whose members has to make a eems to have been peculiarly adapted soleunn pledge never to become a Christian to the condition of our society, for once This is good proof of the rapid spread of the seed of its faith had been planted here by the founders of the Methodist system it grew with astonishing rapidity.-The London Missionary Society has N. Y. Sun.

The London Times recently said :-' There is something exceedingly irritating in the fact that a great part of the harvest, raised in infinite care and pains, instead of adding to the national poured, in the shape of liquid fire, down the throats of the nation that produced it, and instead of leaving them wiser and happier, tends to impoverish them by vicious and debilitating indulgence.' The Calvinistic Methodists of South Wales, having been in some cases refused land on which to build chapels by the Church landowners, have decided, at a meeting at Dowlais, to take counof sel's opinion as to the best means of taking remedial legislative action. The associations have been unofficially advised that the course to adopt is to have an incorporation of the various Nonconformist denominations.

Rev. Dr. Daniel Curry, associate editor of the N. Y. Methodist, in reponse to any number of words of condolence and earnest inquiries, not without accompanying prayers and good wishes for his "restoration to health." begs leave to inform his friends that during the current year he has not lost a day from and at least in their expression.

THE TWO CHAIRS. BY BISHOP J. T. PECK. Within a few hours 1 sat in two chairs. One was the chair of Sir Walter Scott in his own home, with his writing desk before me, in the very place where he wrote his popular novels, poems and histories. The other was the chair of John Wesley, where he wrote sermons, and theological polemics and grammars. These two chairs are famous relicssymbols of two great brains. They call up the men who thought and felt, and from them controlled the thinking and acting of millions of people. I should like to give to the world some of the thoughts which rushed through my mind as I sat in those chairs.

Sir Walter founded a new school of fiction. He saw clearly that imagination and fancy were not designed to re vel only in conception, nor to extend the sphere of the real only into the depraved ideal. He took up the neglected or ignored in the universe of nature. and allowed great intellectualisms to enact themselves in the realm of the pos-

So he made room in fiction for a love of the beautiful, the virtuous and the good, for the heroic, the chivalrous, the wealth, and bringing rich returns, is philanthropic - broader, richer, more potential than simple degrading love and murder. His mind-penetration reached into the sphere of Raphael, and

Beethoven, and Shakespeare, and produced grand creations which made clear additions to the English classics. But "truth to nature" compelled him to carry forward also the turbid streams passion. He must, it seems, be broad as well as discriminating; and hence he must allow the worst as well as the best passions to have their place in the actual ideal life of the race. But he would do it in chaste, polished style. It was not in the nature of such classic taste to be uncouth and vulgar. The workings of lust and of lawless love would be subtle and artful, and thus exceedingly fascinating in their methods #### powerful Saviour and a full salvation. What fiction would spare because it was human, and feed because a morbid appetite demanded it. he would condemn and tear up by the roots. He would never ask what thoughts could be coined into money or a splendid reputation ; but always and everywhere, what words of power could be made to destroy the vile tendencies of human nature, and lift up the public in virtue and save the millions. These words he would write and present in the face of power, in de-

Elevan.

would preach, to give dying men an all- the subjects taken up. This thoroughness in a limited number of subjects enabled one to take up other subjects successfully, as necessity arose or duty required. There was a disposition at the present day to rush into every description of knowledge, to expect what was absolutely impossible-that a boy.

during the short period of his school life, or his university life, should acquire a smattering of everything that might be useful. There could be no greater mistake. It might be asked how it was that he who was not a Nonconformist nor a Wesleyan had come down to take part in these proceedings. It was because there was something more important and more valuable, something which had far greater influence on the future of this country, than the sectari-au and minor differences which exist.

He referred especially to that principle which, as he understood and believed.

underlay all the teaching of that school, and which was the great object they had in view-namely, that the young men maintain the principle of religious education as the basis of all careful and thorough training They had been told who had the courage of his convictions. Whether his great words were written from that chair or from elsewhere it becomes to me the symbol of the highest power of sacred rhetoric. A great, indestructible theology came out of it. A new standard of fearless, polemical divinity is suggested by it. The grandest system of propagandism ever coming to the aid of pure Christianity, arose from it. The most compact and effective ecclesiastical organization ever known in the old world or the new, took its origin here. Living millions around the globe utter the truths, preach the Gospel, and sing the glad songs which first awoke from this sacred chair.

fiance of popular frenzy, and in the teeth of the mob. He was one man as the eternal right. -Zion's Herald.

were away, you could see other build ings and streets; and if these, too, were gone, the line of your vision would

THE FEAR OF DEATH. The love of this life is natural and right. It is a wise provision of our Creator, whereby we are enabled to avoid danger, and to seek by all proper means the prolongation of life. So intense, however, is this love for life with very many, that they live in a constant dread of death. Through life, "subject to bondage." Let all such console themselves with the following reflections :---1. The love of life and fear of death, which are so essential to our preservation in our years of health and activity, are, by a very happy and merciful arangement, usually withdrawn in the hour of death. Nature is exhausted. the "weary wheels of life " are anxious to be at rest, and often in utter and painless prostration, or in deep insensibility, do men breathe their lives away. 2. The physical pains, which we so much dread do seldom occur. Watts has described this physical anguish as, "The pains, the groans, the dving strife."

who were sent out from it should be yet these are more the creations of imthoroughly imbued with religious teachagination than actual facts. This is the ing as the basis and groundwork of edutestimony of our best physicians and cation. He was not afraid to say that physiologists. The dying themselves, the strength, the power, the prosperity when conscious and able to speak, have and happiness of this country in the fuoften borne testimony to this fact.

ture depended upon its adherence to re-3. Even the true Christian often looks higious teaching, in alliance with, and as upon death with some anxiety and dread, the basis of, education. He might be because of the untried character of the told that this mean+ narrow, sectarian life to which he goes. It seems, someand illiberal views : he entirely disbe- times even to faith "a leap in the dark." lieved anything of the sort. He believed But what if the life to come-the great that the man who valued religious beyond-is more like this life than we tep.ching, dogmatic teaching, would in imagine ! The transition may not be the same proportion respect the inde- more gradual and gentle than many pendence and the belief of those who think. The soul is not violently wrenchdiffered from him. It seemed to him ed away from the body, but gently does utterly impossible for one to hold dis- it withdraw its hold, and heaven's glory tinctly religious views firmly for himself dawns upon it as the morning breaks without, at the same time, allowing to upon the hilltops of earth. There seens everybody else his own views on such to be a twilight, a border-land, from the subjects. He believed it was never dawn-tipped heights of which the soul more necessary in the interest of the | can look on both sides of Jordan at one country to declare boldly and strongly, and the same time. Heaven is more but without intolerance, that, with a de- akin to earth than many Christians sire to maintain religious truth, protect | think.

religious interests, and preserve the We are not going to a strange and foundations of our country, we should far-off land, but to our Father's house.

sible beyond the sphere of the actual.

One class of influences is as tempor ary as pleasure ; the other as permanent ETERNITY ALWAYS PRESENT. The lines of our life stretch farther than we think. We lay our plans for the future, and they prove to be tracks that never end. All our paths go out in the unseen world. As you look across the street, the line of your vision is terminated by some building. You can see nothing beyond. If that building shoot off beyond the stars till it had reached the utmost verge of the great universe. So the hopes of this great rumental; ercial transactions pal.

A THOROUGH

ATION.

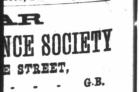

n in

COLDEN

s, Young Men and La-this book are making first. One Agent sold 6 in 8 days, another nd 5 Bibles in 5 days. Also agents wanted vised New Testament, Bibles. Send for cir-P. W. ZEIGLER & phia Pa.

ELY BELL CO., KIMBERLY, NDERS, W YORK quantity of BRLLS. CHURCH BELLS.

ted for the ts of God eauty and richness in oric facts. Gives the making its thrilling shousehold treasures. d Clergy everywhere. Agents. Sales imions, Circulars and CURDY & Co., hers, Philadelphia, Pa

LED 1843. ial Act of Parliament

rORS. on the Lord Mayor, M.P liam Mewburn, Esq John Napier, Esq W K Parker, Esq, F.R.S onathan S Pidgeon, Eq Rev J A Spurgeon, John Vanner, Esq , Esq, QC ing been appointed ed Society, is now pre-s on most favourable N H. HARVEY, gent for Nova Scotia. nd expensee to Agents. Address P. O. VICK may 21 ly

Dr. Andrew Clarke remarks in the his work, nor a night's rest, nor a singl meal on account of ill health. The sun Lancet, that "having observed one of has not smitten him by day, nor (so he the greatest hospitals in London, he had thinks) the moon by night. come to the deliberate conclusion, that seven cases out of ten were owing to

The next Pan Presbyterian Council drink. Not so much to drunkenness. -the third-is to be held in Belfast in but to the constant undermining prothe summer of 1884. Already the committee of arrangements has had a meet-It is being discussed, and ought to be.

Dr. Blaikie, of Edinburgh, and ing. Matthews, of Quebec, were present Dr. as clerks of the Council, and there was a considerable attendance, the Rev. Dr. Knox, of Belfast, chairman, presiding. The first Council, it will be remembered, was held in Edinburgh in 1877, and the second in Philadelphia in 1880.

The places in City Road Chapel are to be allotted to the several denominations with all possible fairness. The eastern section of the Conference is to enter the right hand door from the porch, and occupy that side of the floor of the Chapel, and the western section the other side. Within these limits seats are to be appointed to the several bodies by lot. It may be therefore that the greater denominations will be

The camp-meetings this year have thrown into the back ground. Well. been unusually thronged, and notably they are very well able to take care of good results are reported everywhere. themselves. Let the little ones come to It is also worthy of note that Sunday the front. -Methodist. trains have been everywhere discarded, and in many cases the camp-meetings

The Brethren at Work has been examining the report of the annual council of the Tunkers, and it gives the names of the speakers, and the number of the

been made to guard the sacredness of the day.-N. W. Advocate. speeches and lines belonging to each. There were 74 speakers and the The Fortnightly Review, referring to highest record for any one is 35 speeches the success of Mr. Gladstone in carryand 315 lines. Another man made 30 ing the Irish Bill, says: "As a mere speeches and another 27. One man physical feat, the achievement is one of niade 23 speeches, but they only averaged the most remarkable of our time, but 5 lines each. How would it do to apply as an exhibition of the higher qualities this system to the Presbyterian Assemof statesmanship, in combination with bly and Methodist Conference? Wouldn't intellectual ability and absolute moral it work well for some to have the fear of control, it forms an episode in English the record constantly before their eyes ! history of which men of every party -N. Y. Independent.

Ministers are looking out for new "A Lady Nurse," says the Temperance Record, gives her experience of homes, and people for new pastors, and eight years of nursing without the use circuit stewards are calculating the of alcoholic drinks : "I was brought up amount of expense for house repairs a total abstainer," writes this lady, and for removals. A society steward of 'but when entering one of the largest Bath, when Dr. Waddy was appointed London hospitals as a probationer, there a long time ago, expressed to him, after the first Sunday morning sereight years ago, I was told by my fellow nurses that I could not, while nurs- vice, the belief that the appointment ing, adhere to the practice of total ab- was of God. "I hope your circuit stinence. I asked how long they steward will think so," was Mr. Waddy's shrewd reply, "when he sees my thought I could stand such a trial, and they gave me six weeks; but six years, and now eight, have passed, and I have people who like to have a good thing never had occasion to take stimulants, but dont like to have to pay for it. either for the sake of health or for any | These, I believe, are not peculiar to any denomination. - Methodist.

So from that chair-that great, grand old armed chair-went out the good and the bad, the old-new and the new-

old. Elegance and virtue would have new forms from that chair; so also would degradation and vice. Volumes rapidly succeeding volumes would show that a new sphere of the real in the ideal had been unfolded before the eve of the critic, and a new world for the gaze of the common people. And much which came from that chair would live after its grand author was dead, and after millions of fiction had flashed in brilliancy and gone out in darkness.

And, alas ! it would at length appear that of the pure and classic in fiction he would be the founder and sole high priest of his school. In pure classic fiction he has had no successor ; while it is fearfully probable that he has involuntarily given the strength of his great name and marvellous power to increase immensely the license of morbid sentiment and the ruin produced by sensational novels. Much of his classic power will remain, but what great mor-from that chair !

mend it to his fellow-men. He would which was most effective for the dis-earthly life-its plans and schemes and busy contrivings-are all endless lines that reach into an endless eternity. Within the little circle of yourself, the plans you make for to-morrow, the wishes and hopes you entertain for the coming months and years, you may not see or realize how far your favorite purposes stretch off into the distance. Do ou ever think how they touch on the margin of an endless future ? Do you never see how all earthly things are enbosomed in an always present eternity? We walk every day in the embrace of sternity. The issue of every purpose s there : the result of every deed is there ; no path will end this side .-- Conregationalist.

RELIGION IN EDUCATION.

At the Leys Wesleyan School, Cambridge, Eng., the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, M. P., in presenting the University certificates and school prizes to the al progress, what permanent organiza- successful candidates, warmly congratutions of humanizing forces, have come lated the school on the distinction already gained by this institution, and on Wesley was Sir Walter Scott's equal the important part which it is taking in in poetic power and scope. His imagi- the religious education of the country. nation was stronger and his fancy scar- Mr. Smith said he had been struck with cely less. He had greater intellectual the fairness, the complete absence of grasp and more varied learning. But exaggeration and compliment, that perwith him talent and genius (and he had vaded the reports of the examiners. both) were gifts from God, to be used There was probably no duty that fell under a high sense of responsibility. more heavily upon an examiner at the Not entertainment, as with Sir Walter, present day than that of telling the but the reformation of human condition truth to those who were concerned in was the purpose of all divine gifts to the prosperity of and the usefulness of man. Hence from that chair he wrote a great institution like that. They had not to amuse, but to save man. Not been told that the work was carefully what he found, but what ought to be, done, that there was evidence of carewould have the indorsement of his pen. ful and thorough training. He valued others. When he found the remedy for school should embrace a great many determination to do their best.

his own deeply-seated moral evils, he subjects. He ventured to state, from luggage bill." There are a good many would move out into the world to com- his own observation, that the training Will petitions that do not move the evil thereof." in that chair, and everywhere, think charge of the duties of life was that heart of the supplicant move the heart and write, as to the vast multitudes he which was complete and thorough in of Omnipotence ?- Thempson.

"For love will temper every change, And soften all surprise; And, misty with the dreams of earth, The hills of heaven arise.'

that education was a very useful thing, 4. Very often the thought of parting because it would enable a boy to occufrom friends and loved ones fills the soul py a better position in life than that with profound sorrow. Yet there is a which he might otherwise fill : while he very bright side, even to this feature of death. We will meet with many loved did not undervalue the pecuniary advantages of a sound education, he wishones. There will be greetings as well ed it to be regarded in this light, that as partings. The aged will find heaven its purpose was to make us better men a more familiar place in that respect and more qualified to do the work we than earth. Then the parting is all were called upon to perform. Money over, but the greeting will go on until was useful and necessary, but it was not the last Christian friend we have known everything; there were men with small and loved on earth has reached the incomes who were more useful and hap- golden shore. One thought more, and pier than men with large incomes. His it is this : Many persons are often hearers could not all become wealthy or troubled in spirit, because they do not, prosperous, but they might all occupy in the full flash of life and health, feel positions of usefulness, and have the es- as they express it, "willing to die." teem of those around them. He en- Why should we wish to die when God treated them to consider that the edu- wants us to live ? When the dying hour cation they were now receiving was for comes, dying grace will come. A deathfar higher purposes than simply to accu- bed state of mind would unfit us not onmulate money, it was to fit them for any ly for life's enjoyment, but also for its duty which lay before them in life. He toils. When the "last enemy" appears, was delighted to hear Dr. Moulton God will supply strength for the conspeak of that school as being preparatory flict. "Sufficient unto the day is the to the University under whose shadow evil thereof."-J. S. Gilbert in N. Y. they were now assembled ; in that cir- Methodist.

cumstance they had a great advantage.

He was also delighted to find that one A certain lady had met with a serious had already shown the advantages of the accident, which necessitated a very special training obtained in that school painful surgical operation, and many by carrying off a scholarship at the col- months continement to her bed. When lege of a university in which any schol- the physician had finished his work and arship was an honor and a distinction of was about taking his leave, the patient which any man might be proud. When asked, "Doctor how long shall I have he was at school he formed the friend- to he here helpless?" "O, only one ship of a boy, a widow's son, with small day at a time," was the cheery answer; means, who, by perseverance, obtained and the poor sufferer was not only coma scholarship at St. John's College, forted for the moment, but many times came out high in the list of Wranglers, during the succeding weary weeks did and was now one of the most prosper- the thought, "only one day at a time." ous men in London. That was an ex-, come back with its quieting inductors He would, first of all, mark for con- very much those qualities. It was, un- ample of what might be done by dili- I think it was Sidney Smith who redemnation and extirpation what he fortunately, in the present day necess- gence, without brilliant abilities, by commended taking "short views" as a found wrong in himself, and then in ary that the curriculum of a public those who would go to work with the good s feguard against needless worry and One, far wiser than he. said " Take, therefore, no thought for t morrow. Sufficient unto the day is !

P'an your work ; work your plan.