CRIES OF DOG SAVE OLD LADY

CRIES OF DOG SAVE OLD LADY Wingham, August 6.—Attracted by the persistent and appealing cries of a little dog, Harry Allen, C. P. R. sec-tion boss, while crossing the C. P. R. bridge, just north of here, on his way home from work, looked down and dis-covered a woman lying in the Mait-land River with her head on a stone. He learned later she was Mrs. Utting an elderly widow of this place. Hurrying down the embankment Allen pulled the unconscious form to the shore. Mrs. Utting was lying in about three feet of water. Help was summoned and the woman taken to her home. When she recovered con-sciousness she told her story. She said she had gone down to the stream and was amusing herself by throwing sticks into the water for the dog to swim after and bring back. While in the act of making a throw Mrs. Uttirg; said she slipped and fell into the water, striking her head on the stone. She will recover.

UNION STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

Receipts of cattle were exception-ally heavy yesterday at the Union Stock Yards. In fact, when the day's arrivals of 4,438 were added some 400 left over from the previous week, the offerings were a little larger than the market could readily absorb, espec-ially in consideration of the fact that the bulk of the receipts were of only good to medium quality. Ex-cept for choice heavy cattle which held steady, prices generally were easier, yielding, about 25c per cwt. bclow last Monday's quotations on good animals, while common grades were down 50 cents per cwt. Eleven cattle averaging 1,545 pounds sold at $8.50; and several others sold at $7.75 while good prices for the day were $7.50 and $7.65. A verger-was showing a visitor round a church. The passage through the wooden altar-rail was flanked by two stout posts with particularly large and round wooden knobs on top Nothing interesting about them. There is a widespread belief that when the census returns are tabulated it will be discovered that most of Canada's troubles are due to growing of pains. The chauffeur never spoke except when addressed, but his few utteranc-ls es, given in a broad brogue, were full of wit. One of the men in the party remark r ed: "You're a bright sort of a fellow, and it's easy to see that your people came from Ireland." "No, sor; ye are very badly mis-taken." replied Pat. "What!" said the man. "Didn't they come from Ireland?" "No, sor," answered Pat, "they're
