MARKED INCREASE IN AIR SCOUTING

German Airmen Persistent in Endeavors to Look Over Canucks.

ALWAYS WERE DRIVEN OFF

Lieut. Owen, Recently Killed, Had His Revolver Recovered.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—Major-General Sir Sam Hughes has received the following communication from the Canadian General Representative: "Canadian General Headquarters in France, Feb. 18.—(Via London)—During the week of Feb. 9-16 the German forces attacked at various points along the French and British fronts. On the Canadian front there was a marked increase in the enemy's aerial activity. Enemy airmen persistently endeavored to reconnoitre our positions, and our airmen were constantly engaged in driving them back. Several of our airmen were dropped close to our works and trenches but no damage was caused. "On Feb. 12 a German Albatross biplane was brought down in the British lines on our left by fire of the anti-aircraft guns. "Our patrols and scouts everywhere found signs of increasing alertness in the German lines. The enemy's sentries were more vigilant than usual and his patrols were more numerous, although these rarely ventured beyond the outer German wire. Throughout the period a bright moon added considerably to the difficulties of night reconnaissance.

LIU. OWEN'S REVOLVER RECOVERED

"On the night of February 9-10 a party of six Germans was encountered by a patrol of our 1st Division and driven back with bombs. On the same night Sergeant Elliott and Meyerstein, with two members of our 7th British Columbia battalion, went out of a point where Lieut. Owens had been killed ten days previously in an encounter with a hostile firing party. The patrol showed that the enemy had made no further attempt to strengthen this entanglement. Lieut. Owen's revolver was found and brought in on the night of February 10-11. Scouts of our 5th battalion of western cavalry examined an old German sap. Four German graves were found in it, and proceeding up the sap our scouts threw nine bombs at the German trench. The enemy replied with four bombs, but without effect. "On the night of February 11-12 a hostile working party was discovered by scouts of our 18th Western Battalion in front of the enemy's trenches. Our machine guns were turned on the party and at least two casualties resulted.

DARING RECONNAISSANCE

"The following night a daring reconnaissance was made by a patrol of our 18th Battalion under Lieuts. Baxter and Bell. In spite of hostile fire our patrol crossed the enemy's wire, and getting to the strongest points in this sector of the German defenses, succeeded in bringing in information of considerable value. The enemy's trenches were heavily manned at the time, but our patrol withdrew without casualties. Full reports on sections of the enemy's entanglements have been secured by Sergeant Haase and Corporal Rawlinson of our 46th Alberta Battalion, who on successive nights spent several hours making examinations. "A patrol of our Royal Canadian Regiment, consisting of Lieut. McCullum and Lance-Corporal Pope and two men, carried out a special reconnaissance under heavy enemy fire. "On the front of our 24th Montreal Battalion some excellent scouting has been done by Lance-Corporal A. F. Mott. "Early on the morning of February 12th one of our battalions had a test case alarm. The enemy manned his parapets at once, as was expected, and a rapid fire by machine guns and rifles was immediately opened by our troops. The enemy's reply was very weak.

ARTILLERY MUNITIONS SUPERPRIORITY

"Our artillery have maintained their superior weight of fire throughout the period. Numerous enemy working parties have been dispersed. "On February 12th our 6th Canadian Field Artillery Brigade engaged a German trench mortar which was shelling our trenches. As the result of a second round from our field guns a heavy explosion occurred near the enemy's emplacement, and the trench mortar was silenced. "Some accurate shooting has also been done by our trench mortar batteries and rifle grenade sections. Our machine gun brigades have continued to hamper the enemy's efforts to improve his defenses. "On February 10th Field Marshal Lord Kitchener inspected our 3rd Canadian Infantry Brigade.

An archway of crutches took the place of the usual archway of swords at a merry wedding at Richmond a few days ago. The bride had been acting as a nurse at the Percy House Hospital, Isleworth, and a number of made an archway with their sticks and crutches, as the bride and bridegroom left the church.
