

The Sweetest Echo.
IT ANSWERS A CALL AT A TOMB AT AGRA, IN HINDUSTAN.
One of the finest echoes of which we have record is mentioned by Barthes, in his notes on the Thebas of Naxos. This was on the banks of Naxos, where Coblenz and Bingen, where an echo of the sea was repeated seven times.

At Milan is an echo that reiterates the report of a pilot from fifty to sixty times. In a cave of the Pantheon it is said that the guide, by flapping his coat makes a noise equal to the report of a twelve pounder. Pliny speaks of a cave in Dalmatia where a stone tossed in would raise a perfect storm.

The sweetest echo in all the world answers a call at the side of the tomb of Nur-Mahad d'Jehanghir at Aggra. The guide raises the cry, 'Great is God, and Mohammed is his prophet—Allah! Allah!' At first three distinct musical notes are heard in the echo. These reverberate round the dome and ascend until they reach the smaller dome, where they reunite and escape from the temple as one tone.

Man's Most Critical Age.
Very often the vital resources are small at forty-two, but if not then, between fifty-seven and sixty-two years of age there is a slowing down and loss of vitality. It is important that this transient period of decay should be checked; strength must be imparted to the tired brain, the weakened nerves must be fortified. The wise man will use Ferrozze whose potency is particularly applicable to these critical periods. Ferrozze quickens the whole being, imparts vigor and power, pushes back the onset of senility in a very manifest way. It's because Ferrozze gives strength, vitality, and vigor that it is useful to old men. Try it. Price 50c.

Illustrious Stammerers.
Esop, Virgil and Demosthenes are generally known to have been stammerers, but many others suffering from the like infirmity occupy an honorable place in the historical gallery.
The first of these whom we can recall is the prophet Moses. He, according to tradition, was a stammerer whose powers of speech were so limited that his brother Aaron always accompanied him, being specially commissioned to speak in his name and stead.
"I am not eloquent," protested Moses, "neither heretofore nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant, but I am of slow speech and of a slow tongue."
Claudius Maehael II, emperor of the east; Mohammed-el-Rasser, king of Spain during the Moorish domination; and Eric, king of Sweden, stammered notably.

Among the eighteen rulers of the name of Louis who have reigned in France we find only one, Louis le Begno, although he was by no means the only French sovereign, who stammered.
Catarth is Certainly Curable.
In fact it is one of the most curable diseases if fragrant healing Catarrh-zone is used. No matter how long you have suffered with catarth you can be perfectly cured by inhaling the antiseptic vapor of Catarrh-zone, which strikes at the foundation of the trouble and establishes such a healthy condition in the system that Catarrth germs simply can't exist. "I suffered for years," writes S. H. Downie of Plattville. "My nostrils were always stuffed up and I had a most disagreeable hacking cough. Catarrh-zone cured me completely." Catarrh-zone never fails. Two month's treatment $1.00; trial size 25c.

Weatherwise Birds and Fish.
The sea gull makes a splendid living barometer. If a convoy of sea gulls fly seaward early in the morning, sailors and fishermen know that the day will be fine and the wind fair, but if the birds keep inland, though there be no haze hanging out toward the sea to denote unpleasant weather, interested folk know that the elements will be unfavorable. Of all weatherwise fish the dolphin is the most remarkable. During a fierce gale or a storm at sea the mariner knows that the end of it is near if he can see a dolphin or a number of that fish sporting on the high sea waves.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
The U. S. Marine Corps of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is always pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by G. V. Rand.

Workers in Bohemia.
In Bohemia every wageworker, of whatever sex or age, must have a work book, which contains his personal description and history and his employer's indentments. Permission to travel in search of work must be endorsed by the local authorities. In changing locations a certificate from original place of residence must be secured and filed at the new location.

No such workers will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by G. V. Rand.

Surprise to Doctors.
Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for skin diseases, such as itching and burning skin diseases, which are often considered well-nigh incurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Johnny and Tommy were playing tag in a street where there was fast driving, and where they were forbidden to go.
'Hello,' said Johnny, 'there comes a spanking team.' 'Where?' replied Tommy.
'Right across the street, there; it's your mother and mine, and we'd better out sticks and get out of this' which they did, and their mothers after them.

Rounds Out the Form.
Persons who have become pale, weak and thin by overwork, worry or disease find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is wonderfully effective in forming new blood, restoring a healthy glow to the complexion and rousing out the form. You will soon feel the benefit of this restorative treatment and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

Boycott the Cigarette.
The cigarette! The cigarette!
Most subtle foe that youth has met!
We boys should take alarm!
A dangerous thing it is, though small,
For in its tiny folds lie all
The elements of harm.
The cigarette! The cigarette!
Oh, listen, boys, and don't forget!
(The half has never been told.)
There is a drug within it placed,
To which directly may be traced
Disorders manifold.
The cigarette! The cigarette!
To smoke it, boys, is to beget
A thirst for liquor vile;
Within the victim's weakened will
Love for the products of the still
Becomes entrenched the while.
The cigarette! The cigarette!
To smoke it, boys, I say!
Let every boy in every cot
Decide that he will use it not—
Boycott it, boys, to-day!

Why Johnnie Didn't Smoke.
We were walking up and down the long platform of the railway station at New London one bright spring morning, and enjoyed the fresh breeze that blew in from the Sound while we waited for the Vermont Central train to take us on the northward.
There were other strollers besides ourselves, and we particularly noticed a handsome and dainty young athlete for his scrupulous neatness, his quiet demeanor, and his firm, erect carriage.
Presently he was accosted by a half dozen jolly young fellows, who were surprised and delighted at meeting their boyish questions, "Where have you been?" "How are you getting on?"
We dropped down on a settee nearby, amused at the merry, lively chat. Presently some one offered our athlete a cigar.
"Thank you, no," he said. "I have given up smoking." And then he added, laughing a little, and showing a set of very white teeth: "The fact is, when I reached home there seemed to be no place for me to smoke, and I was under the necessity of giving up the habit."
"How was that, John?"
"Well, you see, I was glad enough to get home again, and after supper I went into the library and lay down on the sofa in front of the open fire, and lighting a cigar, prepared for a smoke. Pretty soon ma came in. Not my own mother; she died when I was a little thing; but this one, ever since my father married her, has made a pretty and pleasant home for me. As she walked along, I heard the soft rustle of her dress, and then I heard her sniff, sniff, and presently she said, 'I fancied I smelled smoke.' I held up my cigar, and confessed I had been smoking a little, off and on, for some time."
"Oh, is that so?" she said gently. "Well, Johnny, I don't know that it is surprising, but please do not let me see you smoking on the street or when we are out anywhere. I don't think I could bear that. And I said, 'Certainly not, ma. You can depend on me.' But I threw my cigar into the fire, having lost my enjoyment of it somehow, although she did not scold."
"Pretty soon my father came in, and he said, directly: 'Ma tells me you have learned to smoke, my boy. Well, I suppose I ought to be surprised that you didn't learn sooner, but don't let me see you smoking around the house.' And I said, 'Certainly not, sir,' and was glad he had taken it so pleasantly.
"Before the evening was half over, my Uncle Tom, who is my father's partner in business, strolled over for a little chat, and as he took a seat looked me over in a way he has, as if he were taking an account of stock. Ma said in her soft voice, 'Johnny has a new accomplishment since he went away. He has learned to smoke.'
"Dearme! is that so?" exclaimed Uncle Tom. "Well, why boys will persist in burning up their hard earnings is a mystery to me; but you won't let me see you smoking around the factory, I hope. I shouldn't enjoy seeing my nephew and bookkeeper and prospective partner about the works with a pipe or cigar in his mouth."
"Uncle Tom is a great go-to-meeting man. One evening he asked me to go with him, and as I had no excuse to offer, I went. There was a collection, and Uncle Tom said to me: 'I used to use tobacco and beer, but since I left it off I have put what money I save in that way into the

Indigestion and Sleeplessness
Are symptoms of nervous exhaustion, which disappear with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
Plenty of people who have a horror of nervous prostration and general debility, suffer from indigestion, sleeplessness, and other symptoms of nervous exhaustion, not realizing the danger they are in, and that they are being slowly but surely destroyed by continuing to eat the food that is so injurious to the system. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can prevent serious results.
Mr. MATTHEW WHITE, a retired farmer, living at St. Eglis St., St. Thomas, Ont., states: "For some years I have suffered more or less from indigestion and nervous prostration, and as a result I have been subject to dizzy spells and disordered sleep. I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found it improved my digestion, assisted my nerves, and made me rest and sleep very much better. I can truthfully say that I am today a stronger man than I have been for some time."
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50c a box. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. C. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Lord's work, and it gives me more pleasure than I ever got from smoke or drink."
"I will do that, too, sir," I said. "I will follow as excellent an example for a year, and then, if I am as vigorous, I will keep it up as long as I live."
So I began saving my dimes. I had to go to church to put them in the box, of course, and in that way I became interested in the religion I heard preached, and concluded that I needed it as much as anyone. So, boys, I am a Christian and a church member and I feel as if I had been getting on quite a little."
"I like your speaking out and telling us all about it," said the jolliest young fellow of them all. "It gives me faith to believe that you have got hold of something worth having."
"All aboard for the North!" shouted Conductor Doane. And the next minute we were moving rapidly away leaving the group still talking.—Mrs Annie Preston, in "Onward."

During the last thirty years there died in Europe alone of alcoholism a total of 7,500,000 people. That is more people than were killed in all the wars of the nineteenth century. The authority for these statements is Matti Heleinius, a member of the faculty of the University of Denmark, who goes on to show that in Denmark one out of every seven who die between the ages of 35 and 65 is a victim of alcoholism.—"Ram's Horn."

Important Time in Every Girl's Life.
Is Between Fifteen and Eighteen Years of Age—How to Avoid the Dangers that Arise During this Period.
The mental activity of school life, coupled with the terrible strains that must come during these years, taxes the vitality of even the strongest. A girl at this age often does not understand the physical change she is undergoing. She will in all probability be nervous and puzzled. She should have the benefit of good motherly advice and a long treatment of Ferrozze, which will supply new energy to bear her safely past the critical period. Ferrozze is the best remedy to take in early womanhood, because it contains so much nerve and blood nourishment. It corrects all derangements, cures bearing-down pains, nervousness, and prevents headaches. Ferrozze revitalizes young girls, gives them vim, buoyancy, strong nerves and healthy body. Every girl should use Ferrozze, and wise mothers will see that their daughters have the benefit of this health-giving tonic.
Mrs W. E. Michel, of Richmond, writes: "I can strongly recommend Ferrozze as a good tonic for young ladies. My daughter has been taking Ferrozze for the past six months, and it has worked wonders for her. Before using Ferrozze she was anaemic and nervous and had no strength. But Ferrozze has built up her whole constitution and given her strength and vitality. Of all the tonics I ever used I don't think one of them compares with Ferrozze. It certainly brings health and strength to young girls quickly."
There is no remedy half so effective as Ferrozze. A trial soon demonstrates its merit. Get Ferrozze from your druggist to-day and let it build you up. Beware of fraudulent substitutes and insist on having only Ferrozze. Price 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail, from the Ferrozze Company, Kingston, Ont.

His Last Hope Realized.
(From the Sentinel, Gelo, Mont.)
In the first opening of Oklahoma territory in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling and sojourn, he encountered much bad water, which together with the errors he had given him a very severe diarrhoea, which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him and he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a long night. That one little bottle worked complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by G. V. Rand.
