Fort Erie Races. affalo, June 30.-G. W. Cook's Oratas gave five pounds and a beat-ingto-day to some smart three-year-olden Lamp Globe, A Winner and Al-fred Vargrave. The distance was a mile, and it was run in 1.421-4, quite several of them-and his style great-ly pleased the fans. His fielding of the position, too, was fauitless, and he did his share of the hitting. Gallagher, the first man up, made a hit. Hart grounded to McAndrews, fumbled, and Connors hit to Biega, who thirds madely to third, but Mc Andrews dropped the ball. That filled the bases, and big Bert Eltom was next hitter. Buege struck him out beautifully, and repeated the trick on Barrett. An infield grounder made the third man easy, and three runners were left on bases. Hamilton should hard repeated and Mc

Mrs. Becanon has for three years suffered from stomach trouble. She began on May 2nd what she ex-pected to be a ten or fifteen days' fast. When ten days were passed she was feeling so much better she de-cided to prolong her fast. Ten days later she still felt no need of nour-ishment, and she fasted on until, at the close of the forty-seventh day, she felt she must take some nourish-ment, although she did not crave for the close of the days three its

Mrs. Becanon drank from three 'to four cupfuls of hot water each day and exercised daily. Her weight has decreased fifty pounds. Her stomach now rebels against anything in the line of food, and the result may prove that the fast was a fatal mistake.

It reached the nighest point under the old high rates. In spite of what any-one might say, these cheapened rates had brought the post-office nearer to the people, and they had taken advan-tage of the cheaper rates. It was not the people, and they had taken advan-tage of the cheaper rates. It was not merely bankers and commercial men who write to China, Japan and other countries who derived benefit from the meduced rates. If such were the case increases would be shown in the citles and large centres alone, whereas the returns showed that the humblest post-office in Canada enjoyed an in-creased revenue.
