The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A friend of mine showed a surprising fund of information on the subject of labour unions.

"How do you happen to know so much about labor organiza- tions?" I inquired. "I didn't know you were particularly in- terested in econ- omics."

"I never was," she said. "It's just our Saturday evenings."

"And what might that mean?"

"Why, I don't know as it's worth telling about," said she, "but it's lots of fun and we learn a great deal. It's this way. You know the crowd that usually drifts around to my house, or sister's, or Mrs. C's on a Saturday night. There's the sister and her hus- band and Mr. L. John and I, Marie and the man she's going to be en- gaged to, Mr. and Mrs. C., and some- times other people who happen in. Sometimes we play cards, but more often we just have a chaffing dish and talk. Well, one Saturday night at our house we got talking about woman's suffrage. We all had a lot to say, but when it came right down to it, we found that no one knew much that was definite. Someone said that women didn't need suffrage in the United States, because there were no laws that discriminated against women, and someone else said that there was a larger proportion of uneducated women than men in the country, and someone else said that it was the other way round. Finally Mr. L. said, 'I don't believe any of us know what we are talking about. Suppose we all try to find out some definite facts on one side or the other, and finish our talk next Saturday.' We did and you don't know how much fun it was to talk on something about which we really knew a little. We learned a lot too, because everyone had found out facts along different lines.

"Well, that night someone happened to say, 'Who's going to be the next president?' and sister said, 'Instead of arguing that let's have a game of whist now, and leave that until next week, so we can find out about it.' We did and that was interesting, too. Everyone picked his favorite candi- date and tried to find out something about him during the week, and I learned more about politics than I ever knew before. Another night we had a tariff discussion, and last week we talked about labour unions and the McNamars, and next week its going to be socialism and government own- ership in general. You'd be surprised to know how much fun it is and how much you learn. You'd better come next Saturday night. Be sure and know something about socialism--not just have an opinion, but know some definite facts."

My informant said that her Satur- day nights were scarcely worth telling about. I differ most emphatically. Don't you? It seems to me that there is a seed of suggestion in the story of these little informal debates which cannot be scattered too broadly.

I've no doubt that all those people got more out of one of those Saturday night discussions than they would from hearing a paper read on the same subject at some formal gather- ing. Besides, some of them would never go to the formal gathering.

Intelligent conversation is one of the greatest educative forces in the world. I wish that this Saturday night club--no, I will not call it a club, that's too formal, and the surest way to kill a custom like that is to formalize and organize it--these Saturday night conversations, I'll say, might be a suggestive ancestor for many such.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

"It's only a 'tenderfoot' farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow." But many a farmer feeds his- ings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak," the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the or- gans of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an un- failing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medi- cine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

Fads and Fashions.

There is much fichu drapery used on corsages.

Lace figures largely on frocks of all descriptions.

Buttons are lavishly used on many of the frocks.

Bright red is used to develop some stunning hats.

Current red and dark blue is a fa- vorite combination.

Lace trimmings are in some in- stances veiled with tulle.

Narrow belts of velvet ribbon of a contrasting color are seen.

Smart and serviceable are the new striped cotton ottomans.

We note some skirts a trifle wider, and much clinging drapery.

Floppies of shadow lace trim many of the underskirts of soft satin.

Eyelet-embroidery batiste is among the favorite summer materials.

Ratine, an idol of this season, promises to have a tremendous vogue.

Yokes of fine black tulle are seen in waists of white mill, batiste, lace, etc.

Small bows of black velvet are used to fasten flat colors of lace or batiste.

Terry silk has a pebbly or semi-rough surface and comes in oyster- white only.

Striped taffeta skirts with tunics of thin cloth of a contrasting color are modish.

Touchees of wool and silk embroi- dery are seen on some of the new girdles.

Strictly tailored street suits of bro- caded taffeta are shown among the newest models.

Hats with pancake crowns and double brims and little or no trim- ming are featured.

Belts of patent leather, soft moro- cco and suede are all modish. They are rather narrow.

An entirely new fabric is a fine, very thin white wool with a border of khaki-colored ratine.

Cordings of silk, satin, chiffon, braid or light-weight cloth are evi- denced on nearly all the frocks.

Corsages are swathed in tulle.

Sleeves on some of the evening dress- es are tiniest puffs of tulle.

The tight tailored sleeve is a promi- nent favorite for suits and dresses of heavy worsted material.

The white tulle bow is sometimes seen strapped across the center either with the tulle itself or a touch of color.

Taffeta is truly "the silk of the hour." Plain, changeant, brocaded, flowered and striped--all are in evi- dence.

Scarfs of black brussels net are trimmed down the center and outlined

Faithful to Sir Robt. Bond

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir--Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words concerning a petition which was lately sent in requesting the Government to take the Argyle of Great Paradise and make Little Paradise a port of call. I'd like to ask those brilliant gentlemen that signed that famous scroll, what in the name of goodness put that patriotic feeling in them, especially the Tory Government? They wouldn't allow its members even to speak there at last elections. They need not deny it. There was only two Morris men in the whole harbor then, and more than that, to come around barefaced asking the people of Great Paradise for their signatures to obtain a bridge at their place when they wanted them for this motive. Yes do, Mr. Howley, give them your support, but don't think by doing any similar act you may gain over the people of Great Paradise. You won't for they are and forever will be faithful to our noble Sir Robert. Hoping to see this in print, I remain,

Yours truly,
A YOUNG FELLOW

OBITUARY.

After an illness of ten months' duration these passed to his eternal reward at St. Bride's, on April 9th, Patrick Lundrigan. The deceased young man bore the pain and sufferings of consumption with exemplary patience and Christian resignation, and his short and well spent life fittingly closed with a very happy and peaceful death, fortified as he has been with all the rites of Holy Church. Amiable and unassuming, kind and obliging, Pat, as he was called, gained for him many friends. Patrick, the son of Anthony and Mary Lundrigan, was born 24 years ago. The deceased leaves one brother and five sisters--Mrs. G. Bambrick, of St. John's; Miss Kate Lundrigan, now attending the school of Presentation Convent, Riverhead, St. John's; and three at St. Bride's. His parents will miss a devoted and affectionate son; his sisters a fondly attached brother. To his parents and relatives we extend our sympathy in this time of sorrow.--R. I. P. P. P.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPH- THERIA.

Cupid's Doings.

We tender our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Earle whose wed- ding took place on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the R. C. Cathedral in the presence of a number of their imme- diate friends. The nuptial not was tied by the Rev. Dr. Jas. Green. The bride being Miss Katherine Wall, (dress make) the groom, Mr. Thomas Earle, a very popular salesman in the employ of Hon. J. D. Ryan. Miss Lizzie Lawlor acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Jack Wall was best man. A very pleasant reunion of relatives and friends was held afterwards at their future home "Knights Square" and for upwards of four hours all was gladness, sunshine and merriment. May it ever continue thus through life is the wish of the Evening Telegram.

The happy couple were the recep- tients of numerous and useful pres- ents from friends, including a gold coin and a cheque.

Prize Debate.

The Annual Prize Debate between the senior students of St. Bonaven- ture's College was conducted in the Aula Maxima yesterday afternoon. His Grace the Archbishop being chairman, and a number of the clergy from the diocese acting as a jury. The subject for discussion was: "Were the French Revolutionists justified in their action?" In favour of this conten- tion there appeared J. A. Barron, (Leader); K. Keegan, P. F. Halley, and T. Flynn, and for the negative, H. Crawford (Leader); F. Keefe, V. Murphy and E. Rawlins. The speech- es on the whole, were excellently de- livered and showed careful thought and research. The jury decided in favor of the affirmative side, and awarded the prize for the best debate to Master Edward Crawford, who is to be congratulated on his success.

New Scenery.

By the last Bruce, three very hand- some sets of scenery arrived for St. Bonaventure's college, and yesterday they were fitted up on the stage in the Aula Maxima. This spacious hall has been greatly requisitioned for enter- tainments and the performance of "Falsely Accused" last Easter by the Alumni Dramatic Club won such encouragement that steps were taken, with the aid of the Knights of Colum- bus, to procure suitable stage equip- ment. This latter acquisition will

Be Warned by Headache

It tells of Serious Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys--Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

You can stop a headache with pow- erful drugs. But it is not generally wise to do so.

A headache almost always warns you of derangements of the digestive system, the liver, kidneys or bowels.

Awaken the liver to healthful action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you not only free yourself of headache, but remove the cause which will soon lead to more dangerous results than headache.

Pains are the result of poison in the system, and whether you have headache, backache or aching limbs, you can be almost sure of relief and cure by the use of Dr. Chase's Kid- ney-Liver Pills.

They are wonderfully prompt, as well as definite and thorough in ac- tion. You can depend upon them, no matter how long-standing or compli- cated your case. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; all dealers of Elix- son Bates & Co., Toronto.

Prescription 'A.'

CURES: INDIGESTION and DYSPEPSIA in all its forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and head- aches. I feel too tired to do any- thing. I have no heart to exert my- self, and at times I care for nothing."

"I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exer- cion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a feeling of suf- focation and a difficulty of again go- ing to sleep; I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems not worth living."

Why suffer from all these symp- toms? when STAFFORD'S PRES- CRPTION "A" will cure you.

Try a bottle.

Price: small size, 25 cents; postage 5 cents extra. Large size, 50 cents; postage 10 cents extra.

-dangerous DOGS.

Petty Har- bor dogs, which each spring come to this section, are again nightly prowling around the South Side. A few evenings ago as a gentleman and his wife were coming up the road three of the brutes attacked them and they were compelled to go down the hill at no little risk to escape the animals and had to come up along the water- front. These brutes are a menace to the people of the South Side and vicinity.

Mr. Charles Hutton received a wire- less message yesterday, from Miss Adela Verne, the great pianist, who is on board the Carthaginian en route for Canada and the United States, which she will tour. She will stop off at St. John's and give one or two recitals.
