

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)
Codfish.—The export of dry codfish to foreign markets this week totalled 1,871 quintals as follows:—

From Outports.—By schooner "Rebecca" 4,025 quintals from P. Thompson & Co., Bonavista to Gibraltar on orders.

From St. John's.—By schooner "Gordon" 3,428 quintals, from Bowring Bros. Ltd., to Bahia; by schr. "Charles E. Parks" from the Monroe Export Co., 2,787 quintals to Barcelona; by the S.S. "Roseland" 2,828 quintals to New York, chiefly for re-shipment, from Messrs. A. S. Renell & Co., C. F. Bennett, Hickman's, Latta Nova Co., Bowring Bros., Ltd., J. M. Baird, Ltd., Monroe Export Co., John Johnson & Co., Harvey & Co., and the Newfoundland Atlantic Fish-ery.

Cod Oil.—The Common Cod Oil market is looking better and sales of No. 1 were made this week at $80. The course this was for a limited quantity to make up a shipment, and may be continued. The general price was steady. As the shore codfishery is better, the output of cod oil this season will be in proportion.

Crude Oil.—The market is showing no improvement and trade was very dull in this article. The output this season in Newfoundland will probably be the lowest on record, from this circumstance there is reason to believe that the scarcity of refined oil at the close of the season, when the fact is realized, is bound to improve the demand.

Labsters.—The demand in the United States is improved somewhat, so that purchasers here are offering $1.50 per case, of 48 lbs. tins for good No. 1 pack. The Fishery Report now being published says that the catch of last year (1920) was 14,488½ cases as against 11,425½ cases the previous year. This year's catch is not likely to reach 10,000 cases.

Pork.—The market is inactive, but very steady, according to latest cable news from Chicago, are somewhat similar to those reported last week. This is the season of the smallest demand, and as the importers see that the market remains firm, and they are contracting for fall supplies in the reasonable expectation that prices will not be lower for the balance of the season. Quotations are same as last week.

Beef.—Market dull, but steady. It is believed by dealers that the bottom has been reached in prices for this season, and that any fluctuations during the next few weeks will be confined in narrow limits. Boneless Beef is just now difficult to obtain on account of the latest advances in that article's quality. Any changes in prices of other qualities are almost certain to be upward.

Sugar.—The market is strong at the present United States advance in price. The local quotations as yet show no change, but with the exhaustion of the present stocks in hand there will, no doubt, be a rise in price to correspond with the United States quotation. The present local price is 12½ cents whole (lots), and 12½ cents for smaller quantities.

Molasses.—A further advance is reported from Barbados, and there is said to be a very limited quantity available, especially of Choice Molasses. The schooner "Gaspé" now here, presumably will take a cargo, and the "James O'Neill" (W. A. O'Neill), is 19 days out to Newfoundland. It is likely that this will be the last of the season, which will show a total for St. John's of about 5,000 puncheons. Prices are still 75 and 70 cents whole.

Potatoes.—The local Potatoes are being brought into town in increased quantities day by day. Some farmers are asking as $8.00 per barrel. This offering is not warranted, and very few are inclined to buy at this price as the crop is good. By the St. John's several consignments arrived and are selling at $6.50 to $6.75 per barrel, after paying freight and other expenses. The local grown ones are coming down. Some are selling at 30 cents a gallon.

Hay.—No change in the local market this week. We notice by Canadian trade papers, however, that there is an advance of $2.00 per ton since last week. This latest advance is not in evidence here yet, as the season advances no doubt the local price will be increased in parity with this. The quotations are day to day are, $48.00 to $50.00 for timothy, and at the rate of $54.00 to $56.00 for single bales.

Wool.—The market is strong, but not higher. Latest advices from the wool exporters in Canada are to the effect that prices will be higher. Information from P.E.I. this week indicates that there will be very little wool to be had for export from Charlottetown the coming fall. Taking this into account, it is safe to predict a firmer market. At the present time mixed wools are $2.50 to $4.00. White $4.00 to $4.50. No Black obtainable.

CITY WINS FOOTBALL GAME.

A very large number of spectators were present at the football game played in St. George's Field on Saturday night when the City defeated the combined team from H.M.S. Victoria and H.M.S. Briton by 3 goals to 0. Play was excellent throughout and the ball was kept continuously in play. The City scored twice in the first half, Walter Callahan doing the needful each time in the second half Quick obtained the only goal.

Mr. E. Churchill was referee and the line-up was:—
 City.—Goal, Walsh; backs, Tait, Churchill; half backs, Burke, Drover, Galgay; forwards, Young, Quick, E. Phelan, W. Callahan, Ewing.

House Obstructs Traffic.

Great excitement prevailed throughout Kelligrews on Thursday and Friday last, when the whole populace, visitors and residents, turned out to help a neighbor who was moving his house from the original site to a spot about half a mile distant. The house was placed on rollers and over 200 people were, at times, pulling on the hauling ropes. During the time the house was being moved all traffic was held up on the main road. Motorists and others who passed that way on Thursday night must have thought that they had lost their sense of direction when they came upon a house resting in what they had hitherto believed to be the centre of the road.

Making Good Catches.

Some big catches are being made by vessels engaged in the Straits fishery, which has been exceptionally good so far this season. A large number of vessels have reached home and others are arriving daily. The following schooners reached Greenspond on Saturday from Belle Isle:—A. H. Hardy, 650 qts; Ronald B., 1100 qts; Herald, 400 qts; and Passport, 1000 qts.

HOLYROOD GARDEN PARTY A GREAT SUCCESS.

Several hundred people from town and from the head of Conception Bay attended the Garden Party held yesterday at Holyrood. The visitors included several of the clergy from the head of the Bay. An interesting Sports Programme was gone through during the afternoon, the best races in particular, causing great excitement. The Dory race which was won by North Arm was especially interesting. The Junior and senior boat races were won by the South Side crews. Tens of an excellent quality, were served by the ladies of the parish and in the evening a most enjoyable dance, the music for which was provided by the City Band, was held in the Star Hall. Great credit is due Rev. Fr. Finn and his energetic committee upon the success of the Garden Party.
