VIOLATED THE CONDITIONS.

GENOA, April 18. The Allies have addressed a note to the German Delegation declaring Germany's conclusion of a treaty with Soviet Russia as a violation of conditions to which Germany had herself entered on entering the Economic Conference.

BRITISH PRESS CONDEMNS TREATY.

LONDON, April 18. It would not be easy to imagine anything possible happening at Genoa which would create greater astonishment and misgiving than the announcement of the Russo-German Treaty. The majority of the newspapers, with one or two exceptions, condemn the pact in the strongest language as a deadly blow to the conference, at the Versailles Treaty and at the peace of the future. The Times says "It is an defiance and studied insult to Entente Power who summoned the conference, and to a less degree invited to attend it. The German press that the choice of time and place was without significance and impertinence."

NULL AND VOID.

LONDON, April 18. The Allies have agreed, that the Versailles Commission shall declare the Russo-German Treaty null and void. The Genoa correspondent of the Daily Mail.

A SUPERFLUOUS LIGHT.

Care of Cut Glass.

When not in use, cut glass should be protected against the tarnishing effect of the atmosphere by a wrapping of soft tissue paper. The sulphur and other impurities of the air give cut glass a clouded appearance which destroys its brilliancy.

To wash cut glass, the pieces should be first placed singly in a bowl of warm, soapy water. Piling the articles together in the bowl may chip the incisions. A pure soap, free from strong acids, is recommended, for strong soap dulls the surface. Use a soft brush, and rinse in clear, warm water, wiping dry with a linen towel. Linen produces the best polish though a fine hard cotton towel may be substituted. Finally, rub with a warm dry towel, and polish with soft tissue paper. This will make the glass sparkle and heighten the brilliancy of the polish.

Table glasses which have contained milk or other adhesive fluid should be rinsed in warm water softened with soda or ammonia before being washed. This preliminary avoids a cloudy appearance.

Washing with hot, strong vinegar and scraping with a putty knife will remove paint from window panes.

Just Folks

APRIL, April, and the showers are falling. April, and the birds are calling. To their kin of song and feather. Quite regardless of the weather.

From the ground the cold is going. Now the violets are showing. And the constant pitter-patter Of the rain seems not to matter.

April, and the birds are humming. Everywhere that May is coming. Plant and tree are not complaining. That this morning it is raining.

All around us there is beauty. Smiling, faithful to its duty. And the dandelion humbles. Seems too big and brave to grumble.

When it's April in our dreaming. And the storms of care are seeming. May we see beyond our sorrow. All the beauty of tomorrow.

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such upbuilding treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearse, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

1200 Pounds Capital for Each Emigrant.

If a scheme soon to be laid before the Government of Victoria is approved, provision will be made for the settlement in this richly fertile State of Australia of 10,000 settlers from Great Britain at a cost of £12,000,000.

Each emigrant will be advanced working capital to the extent of £1,200, with which he will pay for the building of a homestead and the laying out of his land.

This scheme, which represents the most direct lead yet given in solving the joint problem of emigration and unemployment and bringing about a White Australia, is being pushed forward very strenuously by Mr. John McWhae, the new Agent-General for Victoria.

As a supplement to the scheme it is hoped to extend the present system of agricultural colleges in Victoria for the purpose of giving unmarried settlers six months' training at a cost of £20, which would be charged to the "settling loan."

Bright Lights Drawing People from the Farm.

Factory workers in the United States now, for the first time, exceed those engaged on the farms. The trend of the population of the United States from the farm to the manufacturing and transportation centres is illustrated, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, by a comparison of some recent census figures of the number of persons "engaged in gainful occupations" in the United States in 1920 with similar figures for earlier years. Analysis of the occupations of people of the country have been made at each decennial census during the last half century, and the official figures for 1920 show that while the number of persons "gainfully occupied" in agricultural lines was in 1920 less than double that of 1870, a half century earlier, the number engaged in "manufacturing and mechanical industries" was in round terms five times as many as in 1870 and those engaged in "trade and transportation" six times as many as in 1870.
