MR. CHAPLEAU'S ADMISSION.
OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—In the Tarte Committee yesterday there was a lively contest between Mr. Lister and Secretary of State Chapleau. The dispute arose out of the examination of Ald. Rolland, paper manufacturer of Montreal, who has in the last three years been supplying $30,000 or $40,000 worth of paper to the Government. Rolland admitted that he had given election subscriptions to Dansereau. Chapleau's right hand man in Quebec. Mr. Chapleau said that if it was intended to charge him with having received election subscriptions from ing received election subscriptions from Dansereau, or with having asked Rolland Dansereau, or with having asked Rolland in company with other manufacturers, he would plead guilty. Mr. Chapleau has over and over again strenuously denied all participation in and knowledge of such transactions as those of Seneau. The fair interpretation of his admission, therefore, is that he treated Mr. Rolland and other paper manufacturers as a part of the Quebec section of the red parlor. But it must be recollected that some of the paper manufacturers have not merely the general interest of manufacturers in keeping up the

He had assisted the Canada Paper Company to get trade with the Printing Bureau by saying to Mr. Bronskill that he would be very glad to see orders given to the company. He may have said the same thing to Mr. Chapleau. Witness had had very large accounts with the Canada Paper Company daring the past twenty years.

INDORSED BY MR. CHAPLEAU. John Macfarlane, managing director of the Canada Paper Company, was called. He sold the Government large quantities of paper and he also sold paper to La Presse newspaper. He had made a contract a year and a half ago to supply La Presse, He knew that Mr. Berthiaume owed the New England Paper Company, shout, $10,000 at knew that Mr. Berthiaume owed the New England Paper Company about $10,000 at that time. He advanced some money to Mr. Berthiaume at the time the contract was made. He did not know whether it was applied to pay off the notes given to the New England Paper Company by Mr. Berthiaume. The amount of the advanced was $0,000. The money advanced, witness presumed, was to pay off the notes made by Mr. Berthiaume to the New England Paper Company, which were indorsed by Hon. Mr. Chapleau. The notes amounted to $10,255. Ten per cent. of the notes was to be paid as they fell due, and the notes were reduced to $6,000 in the two years of the contract. The renewal notes were to be

Since he came to Ottawa Armstrong had told him that he was responsible to Pacaud only for payment of the interest on that $54,000, about $4,500, but he intimated that he did not believe that about $3,000, but he intimated that he did not believe that, as he had never heard of a case where a man was responsible for the interest and not for the principal. He denied telling J. J. Macdonald that Armstrong's money had gone in boodle, except in a joke, as all he knew of it at the time was from newspaper reports. The $75,000 Armstrong received had been transferred to the new company to pay Armstrong's debts, and witness said he was still paying them, but the $75,000 was not yet exhausted. Thom swore that in dealing with the Quebec Government he had never required an intermediary. After he gave his consent for the payment of the $175,000 to Armstrong the Government commissioner could not very well oppose it.

The first witness was Hediey H. Simpson, who got the Presque Isle lighthouse in return, it is charged, for $200. The witness said that he had given two notes for $100 each; to Stanley, Cochrane's agent, to pay a note on an old election protest debt. He would not have given these notes if he had not expected to get the office, and indeed he could not have paid them without the salary from the office. He had not been much interested in politics, and this was manufacturers have not merely the general interest of manufacturers in keeping up the tarift, but the special interest of purveyors to the printing bureau.

As soon as the news was received the German warship Sopple and the British gunboat Daphne were ordered to go at once to Coronell and protect the interests of foreign residents there. The Government officials here have also taken steps to beat the mob into subjection.

There is no disguising the fact that there is a very bitter feeling against the Americans on the part of the unsuccessful revolutionists.

The capture of the Itata has created the impression that the United States Government was actively antagonistic to the revolutionary cause, and Admiral Brown's action in refusing to give up the political refugees who have found an asylum aboard his ship has added to the state of the control of the state of the control of the contr his ship has added to the general irrita-tion. We may differ widely as to the causes which have led to these results and also as to the remedies which might be employed to prevent a recurrence of a similar disappointing statement, but I have no doubt we will all agree that it is a matter for profound regret that in a country of the enormous resources and tertile areas as THE CENSUS AND ITS LESSONS. doubt we will all agree that it is a matter for profound regret that in a country of the enormous resources and tertile areas as yet undeveloped such as Canada possesses we should find ourselves reduced to the level of a country of the old world in the matter of the growth of population in the last ten years. THE AM ENDMENT.

After adverting to the Government's sins of omission and of commission, Sir Richard said that misgovernment and corruption had gone far to make the name of Canada to-day an object of contempt to the whole world. This was the result of tweive years' systematic and continuous corruption, folly, falsehoed and fraud, and that the people might know what the result of this had been, he begged that the Speaker do not now leave the chair, but that all the words after "that" in the motion be struck out and the following substituted in Heu thereof:

Trade Shows Signs of Improvement— Central Bank Agairs.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—The Globe's commercial review says: Trade is this week beginning to show signs of improvement, and the indications are that the movement in most lines will in the immediate future be materially increased. The report of improvement in the control of the contr splendid harvest in Ontario and the improved prospects in Manitoba and the Northwest have had a beneficial effect on trade, and as soon as the farmers' deliveries of grain in this Province begin to increase the effect will be distinctly felt.
