

Fatal Collision in the Red Sea.

One of the Bimbas passengers sends to the Times an account of the foundering of that ship in the Red Sea. "The Bimba was... at eleven o'clock on the night of the 11th of December... by collision with the steamer Nada, proceeding from Suez to Bombay. She sank in less than three minutes after she struck. Out of the 101 persons on board only 22 have been saved. Of these eight are Europeans, and the remainder natives. The Europeans are Shipmasters Mann and Cheverton and Mr Nazareth, who were passengers; the third officer of the Bimba, Mr C. J. Cuthbert, the steward, and three of the quarter-masters, two of whom are Portuguese, and the third an Englishman named Sandy. It appears that the collision took place at a distance of about 180 miles from Suez, which port it was expected would be reached on the following day, and in anticipation of this the baggage had been collected and arrangements made for landing. Although there was a fresh breeze blowing, the night was fine and starlight. Both vessels were pursuing their ordinary courses, at full speed, having their signal-lights up which were distinctly made out an hour before they came near to each other; and, further, the captains were on the look-out for their respective bridges. Yet, from some unaccountable cause, the two steamers came into collision with such fatal consequences. It is, however, alleged, on the part of the Nada, that she kept a port helm, and that the Bimba must have suddenly turned her side towards the Nada's bow. The Bimba was struck on her starboard a few feet astern the mainmast. The shock was terrific. Those who had retired to rest—and nearly all had done so about an hour before—were instantly aroused, and, springing to their feet, rushed forward to see what had happened. How great their dismay to find the vessel already sinking! The damage she had sustained, from the Nada's bow crushing the starboard and penetrating nearly to the mainmast, was of such a nature as to cause her to founder immediately. There was no time either to lower any of the boats, which, instead of being outboard, were in-board and on the stocks, or even to cut away the life-boats, which was lashed to the sides of the steamer. The scene was one of a most appalling character. For a few seconds there was a frantic rushing from one part of the vessel to another, but it was too evident there was no hope of escape. Shrieks and piteous cries for help filled the air. But none were more touching than those of Mrs. Millar, who had been sleeping on the poop, while her child was in the cabin below. She instantly ran down to rescue her little one, but before she could return the water had risen several feet on the deck, and from some unfortunate circumstance the saloon door had been closed. Her cries from within were heard by Capt. Mann, who hastened to burst it open. But, finding this impossible, he ran to the poop and tried to force open the skylight. While he was thus endeavouring to release Mrs. Millar and her child he himself was washed overboard. As the Bimba was sinking a terrible explosion took place, which is supposed to have been occasioned by the water running into the fire and coming in contact with the boilers. The captain of the Bimba and those with him on the bridge, excepting Mr. Cuthbert, must have been either killed in the explosion or so severely injured as to be unable to save themselves. The stern of the vessel was the first to go under water; the fore-castle, therefore, remained longest in sight; and among those who had taken refuge on the fore-castle were Messrs Keene and Falke, who joined hands in the hope of assisting each other. Near them were the steward and Mr. Nazareth. They tried to cut off a life buoy, but so quickly did the water come rolling over them that there was not sufficient time even to do this. They, along with all on board, were carried down many feet below the surface of the water by the action caused by the sinking of so vast a fabric. When Captain Hansoom, in command of the Nada, saw the terrible nature of the collision, he at once sent out three boats in order to save as many lives as possible. The first who was picked up was Captain Cheverton, who was swimming towards the Nada, and he in turn exerted himself along with those in the boat with him to render every assistance; eighteen out of the twenty-two who were saved were picked up by this boat. Among them were Captain Mann, the steward and Mr. Nazareth, who although in a very exhausted state, had continued to hold on to floating pieces of wood. Four others kept themselves afloat by clinging to a bale of cotton, and they were rescued. One was saved by a feather pillow, and one by a life buoy that he had succeeded in obtaining. The Nada's boats continued the search for five hours, but out of 101 persons on board 79 were missing, and of them no trace could be discovered.

Canada.

The loss of the steamship Queen Victoria, belonging to our Canadian fleet, of which news reached us by telegraph yesterday, is a disaster which will be deeply regretted throughout Canada. She was the pioneer in a good way—the opening up of the West India trade. All must regret that this first venture should have ended so disastrously.—Montreal Gazette.

There is a very general and widespread complaint as to the management of the Crown Lands on Lakes Superior and Huron. A drunken coachman in Montreal, while endeavoring to enter the window of a house was shot and killed by the male inmate. The Post poisoning case has assumed a new phase. The principal witness for the prosecution now says that the wife was not the person who murdered her husband.

Bills of the Bank of Upper Canada are selling in Toronto at from 60 to 70 cents, with a downward tendency. The purchases of barley in Upper Canada are unprecedented, the banks liberally supplying money to purchasers.

Nova Scotia. Vice-Admiral Sir James Hope, K.O.B., will relinquish his command of the North American and West India Station, in March next, his term of service will at that time expire. Vice-Admiral Colpoys Dacres, it is supposed, will be appointed his successor. Admiral Dacres's father, Sir Richard Colpoys, years ago, held this same command.

SAILING OF THE ACTIVE.—The steamer

Active left Brodriek's wharf at 10 a.m., on Saturday, taking about 120 passengers, among whom were Messrs. W. Pickett, Geo. S. Wright, S. Marks, Hon. Mr. Littleton, R.N., Mrs. Miller, Mrs. D. S. Moore and family, Mrs. Goldworthy, and a number of well-to-do Cariboo miners. A large number of person assembled to see her off.

The G. S. Wright will sail to-day for San Francisco with Col. Bulkley, Lieut. Col. Wicker, and Messrs. Lewis, Laborne and Nance—gentlemen connected with the Collins Telegraphic Expedition, who in the prosecution of their duties have passed the summer up North, and are now on their way to San Francisco to winter.

GALE.—During Friday night and Saturday morning it blew with tremendous force from the south-east, causing the strongest tempests to shake like an aspen leaf. The storm was accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning. The wind had moderated when the Active left, but freshened to another gale on Saturday night.

ASORE.—During the gale of Saturday night the schooner Kate, bound for Metlakah, was blown ashore near the mouth of the harbor, and sustained some damage. She will be repaired to-day and despatched North to-morrow.

THE STRAMER MUMFORD arrived last evening from New Westminster, having on board one of the reels used in laying the Gulf cable. Communication with the mainland will be resumed in about a couple of days, if the weather does not continue too boisterous.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Philip Corin, a native of Cornwall, England, aged 49, died on Saturday, while on his way to the Royal Hospital, whither he had been ordered by his physician for treatment for disease of the lungs.

A ROUGH TIME.—If the Active put to sea on Saturday she must have experienced a rough time in the gale of the same night and yesterday. The probability is, however, that she ran into Neah Bay for shelter.

SMASH UP.—On Saturday afternoon a two-horse buggy, in which were seated four men, was upset on the Esquimalt road, and the occupants thrown out and severely bruised.

ALLAN FRANCIS, Esq., U.S. Consul, will go below to-day on the U.S.S. Saginaw for the benefit of his health.

The ship Evelyn Wood will sail to-day for Burrard Inlet to load with lumber for China.

The ship Prince of Wales and steamer Otter were detained at the wharf yesterday by the high winds.

A GREAT MANY SIDE HITS ARE being made at the Plantation Bitters, by two or three different friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be long imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and what's what's the matter? They are in same sized bottle and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, and we shall stop making them.

over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."

Montgomery, Ala. June 17th, 1860. J. L. DOWNING.

"Take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Soars, Scalds or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic."

Foramen for American, Wells Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced to use your celebrated Mustang Liniment."

Gloucester, Mass. August 1, 1860. ED. SHELLEY

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in a shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery-men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plated engravings, bearing the signature of G. W. Westbrook, Chemist, and the private U.S. stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. over the op.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Kathairon.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It eradicates itching and dandruff. It keeps the head cool and clean. It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy. It prevents hair turning gray and falling off. It restores hair upon permanently bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

Lyon's Flea Powder

Lyon's Magnetic Insect Powder is instant death to Fleas, Ticks, Roaches, and everything of the insect species. It is one of the few articles that can be relied upon, and for a mere two bits we can save the bites and bills of these little pests. Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alternative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alternative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proved by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES; ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS; MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIGR DOUTEREAU'S, DEBRITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE, OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. By the time the season of them many ranking disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcers, through which the system will strive to rid itself of the impurities if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alternative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even when no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this purbation of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Soon or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtues that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, and not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We will secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a reputation for the every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not say that we assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.
