Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Archibald, of Halifax, who have been the guests of his brother, Dr. C. C. Archibald, returned home this week.

Percy Copeland left for Roxbury, Mass., last Saturday.

Mrs. J. Byron Harris, is visiting relatives and friends in Yarmouth.

Mrs. Chipman Harris, who has been spending a few weeks in Boston and vicinity, returned home this week.

Mrs. (Rev.) D. H. Simpson, of Annapolis, made a short visit here the latter part of the week.

J. L. DeVany, of the "Annapolis Spectator," was in town Thursday last week.

Roger Potter, who has been spending a few weeks in St. John, returned home last week.

Alexander Binning, of St. John, representing Manchester, Robertson and Allison, was in town last week.

Charles H. Chute left last Saturday for Roland, N. H., where he expects to spend the winter.

Leigh Morine, who has been spending a few months in Bangor, Maine, returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. John York and daughter, Ethel, who have been visiting friends in Boston and vicinity, returned home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Henson, of Mahoe, Mass., who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Apt, Greenland, returned home last Saturday.

Carl B. Miller has shipped between eight and nine hundred barrels of apples to S. D. Baneroff, Round Hill, this season.

Arthur and Ingram Hatt and Albert Rice returned last Friday from a few days hunting trip; they having succeeded in capturing two large caribou moose.

The Taylor Company gave one of their popular entertainments in Oakdale Hall on last Thursday evening to a fairly large and highly appreciative audience.

The continuous wet weather this fall has been a great set-back to the farmers in getting their crops gathered, and as the season advances, it begins to look rather serious. The rainstorm of Monday night and Tuesday morning, was the heaviest of any we have had this season.

Messrs. John C. Harris, Freeman R. Rice, Maurice Benson and William Parker arrived home Tuesday from Hartney, Man., where they have been laboring in the grain fields. They report excellent weather there during the month of October, and the wheat crop considerable short of last year.

Dmoock York, Elmer Rice and three other boys returned from a successful moose hunt last Saturday, they having captured a fine large bull moose. The head, which is the best one brought out here so far this season, is well formed. The animal, weighing about 42 lbs., they had a splendid chance for another one which, like the fish that gets away, was the "biggest yet," but "D.M." who was within about twenty feet of him, was suddenly seized with a serious attack of "back fever," which seriously interfered with his aim, and Mr. Moore got away with a whole life.

Rev. W. V. Higgins, a missionary from India on furlough, now acting as Field Secretary for the Maritime Provinces for the Baptist denomination, gave an illustrated address on "Life in India" in the Baptist church on last Saturday evening, which was well attended. On Sunday morning, he occupied the pulpit, where he delivered a powerful missionary sermon; also preaching at Lansdowne in the afternoon. He also gave an interesting and instructive address, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Aid Society, in the church in the evening. At these services he gave an intelligent outline of some of the obstacles to be surmounted by those who give their lives to this work, also showing the need of a more concentrated effort on the part of Christian people for financial support, as well as the need of more consecrated men and women to devote their lives to the Master's service, in leading the millions of far off India to the Saviour of all mankind. A collection in aid of missions was taken at the evening service, the sum of nine dollars being realized.

Weymouth.
John Taylor, agent for the Dominion Atlantic Railway at this station, has been missing since Monday last and no trace of him can be found. He had been drinking heavily for some time, and he was considerably under the influence of liquor when last seen at 7 o'clock Monday morning, going in the direction of the station. On the Saturday evening previous, he had Mrs. Oliver good-bye, telling her she would never see him again. News of his disappearance reached headquarters at Kentville Monday forenoon, and the Auditor took the west bound express, reaching Weymouth about 3 o'clock. He could find no keys, Taylor evidently having taken them all with him. After effecting an entrance, the Auditor immediately got to work on the books, and found that things had been neglected lately. The amount of Taylor's shortage has not yet been ascertained as a thorough audit is necessary before anything definite can be given out. Taylor, when sober, was a good agent, being bright, active and accurate, but he kept company with a very fast crowd since coming here a year ago, and became a heavy and, lately, a habitual drinker. His father is here from Hectanooga and, aided by friends, has followed "up every clue, but without result. It is feared by some that he may have strayed in the direction of the railway bridge and fallen into the river. Others are of the opinion that he has skipped out, taking with him considerable money. The search will be continued to the best of the searcher's ability. They have a hard mystery to solve, however, for there is not the least clue that would aid in putting them on the right track.

Many more towns die for want of confidence on the part of the business men and lack of public spirit than from opposition of neighboring towns and adverse surroundings.

Honest poverty should be respected, not scorned. It was in the homes of the lowly that we oftenest hear of Christ being when he was here upon earth and, in our day, it can be truthfully said that we meet Him there oftener than elsewhere.

A horse race is an interesting event to some, but more of your friends are interested in any event that concerns you. If you go away on a visit, or friends take the oath, see that the fact reaches this office, where any item of news, either personal or local is thankfully received.

"Judge, will you do me a great favor?" asked the lady who was about to be put on the stand as a witness. "Certainly, miss; what is it?" "Will you please ask me my age before I take the oath?"
Miss Bertha Deane of Chebogue was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. O. Porter recently.

The men and women who try to make their home the most interesting spot on earth for each other, and for their friends, and those who are near and dear to them, have but one real use for the club. It is to them like the theatre, a pleasant place to enter now and then, but not a spot to dwell in.

A school boy's composition on "The Editor" ran as follows: The editor is one of the happiest men in the world. He can go to the circus in the afternoon and evening without paying a cent; also inequities and hangings. He has free tickets to the theatre, gets wedding cake sent to him, and sometimes gets licked, but not often, as he can take it back in the next issue, which he generally does. While other folks have to go to bed early, the editor can sit up every night and see all that is going on.

LITERARY CLUB.

On Monday evening of this week a meeting of a number of those interested in the forming of a Literary Club was held at the residence of Mr. W. G. Clarke.

The following officers were elected: W. E. Reed—President; Miss Edith Clarke—Vice-President; Miss Lennie Wade—Secretary and Treasurer; I. W. Leitch—Recorder; Mr. W. H. Clarke—Assistant Secretary.

Executive Committee—Mrs. Phalen, Miss Ethel Parry and Louise Ruggles.

A deep interest by those present was manifested and many suggestions were set forth as to a course of study that might be followed during the coming winter.

After the matter had been freely discussed, it was decided to take up something from the works of Connelan and authors, and the work of advertising a suitable course is now in the hands of the Executive Committee.

The efficiency of the officers elected speaks a grand success for the Club and it is to be hoped that a wide-spread interest may be taken in this movement so well begun.

Here Edward Bernstein, the German Socialist leader, has given one more proof of his independence and freedom from prejudice. At a meeting of Breslau recently he condemned the growing practice at Socialist gatherings of producing speakers from India, whose business it was to agitate against British rule there. He explained the international gathering at Amsterdam, where a Hindu speaker living sprang in London as a well-to-do freemason, was condemned English rule, and at the same time he was an "Indian Princess" fulfilled the duties of the office.

Here Bernstein pointed out how absurd it was to such importance to the utterances of these people, and in eloquent language he defended the British administration of India against all attacks, maintaining that England had nobly done her duty to her great dependency. To attack England in this way only degraded the International Socialist Congress.

Italy has again been visited by earthquakes. Many of the villages rebuilt since the last disaster have again been destroyed and many people are reported buried beneath the ruins.

Not long ago an English army officer spent a good deal of time in Canada visiting local markets for the purpose of finding out the capabilities of the country to supply suitable horses for export. He expressed no little surprise at the number of poorly-bred, ill-formed and blemished horses he found in the country. The same complaint has been made by the Government judges who have been attending the fall fairs of Ontario during the season just closed. But the special point emphasized by the English buyer was the striking fact, apparent almost everywhere that very little grooming was practiced in this country. Proper grooming is acknowledged by those competent to speak as only secondary in importance, in the developing and handling of good horses, to good exercise; and yet how many owners either neglect this duty themselves or trust their valuable animals to the care of inexperienced or incompetent men who know nothing of the needs of the animals, and apparently care less—Toronto Globe and Canada Farmer.

Glass Bay teachers have banded together in an effort to discourage and reduce the consumption of cigarettes among school children. Copies of the laws and regulations regarding the use and sale of cigarettes will be posted up in all schools and vendors will be reminded of the heavy penalty for selling cigarettes to minors. Teachers will notify the police of any cases of sale or persistent use by minors coming to their knowledge.

The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Trotter will be sorry to learn that their youngest son, Bernard, a young man of good promise and ability, has been obliged to give up his studies on account of ill health, and will go to California for the winter. He will be accompanied by his other brother, Reginald Trotter.
