103 CHURCH ST., MONTREAL.
"I was a great sufferer from Rheu-

Then I began to use "Fruit-a-tives", and the Rheumatism much better.

Gradually, "Fruit-a-tives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this

THE RELIEF OF EXPLORER PERRY

An Interesting Lecture Given in Bridgetown by Capt.
Blakeney

On Tuesday night the "Torch-bearers" extended an invitation to their brother squares to hear an address from Capt. Blakeney on his voyage to the relief of Peary, who had not returned on the date set for his home coming.

Altho the address was of considerable length, the time passed quickly, as is always the case when an interesting address is being heard.
On touching at several points for the purpose of obtaining news of Peary and of procuring an interpreter, they were besieged by the Esquimaux and nearly defeated by the howling of the huskies (dogs) and the cries of the inhabitants, who kept exclaiming "Covee" (coffee) "Candee" (candy) and who swarmed over the bow.

When the polar bear region was reached, several American gentlemen, who were on board expressed a desire to have a shot at a bruin. Accordingly when one was sighted, the ship drew in close and the would be hunters put off in a boat for the ice floe. The attempt failed for as the atmosphere is so clear in the far north, distances are not easily calculated and while the hunters thought themselves sufficiently close that is, as close as they might safely venture, they were many times the distance. The shots naturally fell short and Master Bear calmly turned his back and walked off. Altho several other attempts were made the results were as unsatisfactory as the first one.

As the ship forged northward the scenery became grand in the extreme. The ice bound coast towered with snow covered mountains with not a tree upon the horizon. The large and expansive ice floes of death, which the ship sought to evade and all the equally fearsome, the awe inspiring ice bergs, drifting about them in the cold grey water, all contribute to impress those who see it, and cause them to be thankful that there is such a place as good old Nova Scotia.

Owing to navigation difficulties, the "Eric" was forced to put in at an almost unknown bay and as a record of this voyage this bay was named Eric Bay, by which name it is known today.

When one of the most northerly harbors was reached the lost "Windward" was sighted and Peary was welcomed by his wife and daughter (Marie).

The Eric spent several weeks in obtaining Esquimaux and dogs for Peary's expedition and in hunting blue deer and walrus. The walrus flesh is enjoyed greatly by the Esquimaux, who eat large quantities raw. When the first walrus of the season was captured and hoisted on deck by a strip of flesh about an inch wide, the women immediately fell to with relish and procured for themselves large hunks of blubber. The hide is very tough and thick and is used by the natives for harpoon lines, traces, etc. The blue deer is a small mouse colored deer, the flesh of which when dried constitutes a meat called pemmican and will keep for some time. The skin of this animal, which the Esquimaux women cure by chewing it in their mouth makes the warmest and most comfortable clothing.

When an Esquimaux is engaged to work he will not leave his family and insists on them being allowed to accompany him. His time is of no value and he will wander around all day scraping a hole thru a piece of hoop iron in order to fasten a handle to his improvised knife.

Some of the customs practised by these inhabitants of the far North are very barbarous. In many cases the girl infants are not allowed to live but are simply exposed to the cold and allowed to die. The children of the North are carried on the back of the mother for three years, before being taught to walk and as an Esquimaux is of small stature, even when liberated, baby has to be most carefully watched.

If a mother dies and leaves a baby in the sack the child according to custom must be killed before the husband can marry again. Altho the father adheres to this custom he is as heart broken, as is any father who loses a son. If two young lovers' admitions are centered in the same direction a hunting contest is held and the lucky hunter wins the fair prize.

The seasons of the far North are very much different from ours, consisting of eight months, day, which constitutes the summer, and four months of weird subdued light, which constitutes the winter season. In the winter the abode of the natives are excavations in some hillside and in summer a construction of

WALKED TO TOWN
FOR MORE TANLAC

Says He Couldn't Walk At All Without His Crutches Until He Started On Tanlac

"I have walked all the way to town to get another bottle of Tanlac, and I'm just feeling fine, and yet when I started on the medicine a few weeks ago, I couldn't get around without the help of crutches" recently said John Olsen, sailor, aboard the S. S. Thomas E.
Drummond, sailing from St. John,
New Brunswick.

"It's about two years since the rheumatism began to trouble me in the knees, but about last September it got so bad that I couldn't put my foot to the ground and the pain was something awful. At night I used to lie in my bunk in perfect agony, unable to sleep, and this told so on my nerves that I used to tremble like a leaf. I lost all desire for food and got very thin and weak and had to give up my job and to go to Halifax for special treatment.
But in spite of everything I tried I got worse instead of better.

"I saw several statements in the papers about people getting wonderful relief from troubles like mine by taking Tanlac and so when everything else failed I gave it a trial, thinking to myself that at least it would do me no harm. The first few bottles gave me a good appetite and my food seemed to be doing me good. I gained several pounds in weight. So I kept right on with it and gradually it seemed to drive the rheumatism out of my system.
The pains in my knees began to ease up and soon I was able to lay my crutches aside and get around with the aid of a stick. Then after a bit I was able to do away with the stick also, until now I can get about without any help whatever and feel almost like a lay again. All signs of nervousness have left me and I can sleep the clock round.
Many of my friends say they hardly know me for the new man that I was a few months ago, because I look so much better in every way. I certainly am feeling in fine shape again and am only too glad to tell others about the wonderful medicine which has done so much for me." slabs of ice, which are called igloos.

The food consists chiefly of walrus flesh, venison, hare, bear steak, etc., and fish, also certain species of fowls. The fish are caught from holes in the ice or from unstable one man canoes, paddled by whalerib paddles, while the deer are harpoon-ed and likewise the walrus, which on coming thru the hole in the ice, which he uses for breathing, receives a true shaft from skilled hands.

Venison and bear steak are words which make your mouth water but when we think of the miserable existence which these humans lead, and of their depraved conditions, we cannot help but feel thankful to God for the many blessings of civilization which we enjoy.

As Capt Blakeney was for several years Governor at Sable Island we are looking forward to hearing him give us an equally interesting talk next spring. Hoping that I have done justice to the address by Capt Blakeney.

I hereby sign myself,

HANTSPORE RED CROSS

(Windsor Tribune)

The November business meeting of the Hantsport Branch Red Cross was held on the 23rd inst. at Miss McCulloch's home.

A special feature of the meeting was the presentation of a Life Membership pin and certificate to Mrs.

C. S. Chesley. As soon as the regular business of the month was disposed of the President announced that two new Life Members were to be added to the Society's list.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Chesley had been made life members by friends in Halifax in recognition of services rendered since the Halifax explosion.
Mr. Chesley could not be present at the meeting as he had been called away on business, but had received his pin and certificate the previous day. All stood while Mrs. Chesley received her pin and certificate, after which light refreshments were served and a social hour passed in honor of the new Life Member.

An interested visitor at the meeting was Judge Chesley, of Lunenburg

A PLEASANT
EVENING

The First United Meeting of The Tuxis Boys of Bridgetown Held Tuesday Night

The Tuxis Boys of Bridgetown met together in the first of the unit meetings prescribed by the Advisory Board on Dec 9 in the school room of St. James Church. The meeting led by Pretor Edward Orlando of the Upstreamers opened with the hymn "Stand up for Jesus". The usual opening ceremony followed by the "Lord's Prayer", ended the opening exercises. Each square then proceeded to call their roll and have their minutes read and adopted by their respective Scriptures. This was followed according to rule by the business period, in which business concerning the Debates which are to be held during the winter was discussed. The Rev. Mr. Richardson, then gave a fine talk on "Leadership The Necessity and Preparation For" telling the boys among other things how badly the world and Canada need good leaders.

The Social Period was a story telling contest. First the Tri Mu's Square lined up and the boy at the head was given one half a minute to begin a story. Each boy after him had to continue the story for one half a minute. After the Tri Mu's had finished their story the Upstreamers and Torch Bearers followed in turn. As the stories had to be made up and continued on the spur of the moment they were very amusing. Revs. Bryant, Richardson and Dr. Armstrong being the only members of the Advisory Board present acted as judges for the best story. While these were deciding which square had won, the rest joined in a hearty sing song. After this Mr. Richardson ascended the platform and amidst great silence in which everyone got ready to clap announced that the Tri Mu's Square had won the contest. After all the squares had cheered each other the meeting ended by the Tri Mu's chanting their "Tri Mu's Hymn" as a song of victory.

The meeting was an all around success and everyone went away feeling much the better for it. The next meeting of this kind will be held in the basement of Providence Methodist Church, the home of the Tri Mu's Square, next month.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children.
Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.
