

DEW DROPS

Vol. IV.

TORONTO, SEPTEMBER 22, 1900.

No. 38.

TIRED OUT.

Just look at all the toys, blocks, picture-books, collies, a ball, a chair, and perhaps a lot more things that we cannot see. And what is that on doggie's tail? It looks very much like a cup tied to it with a string. I wonder if it is a little tin cup, and if doggie likes having it tied to his tail. I should be afraid that he could not wag it so well, and so fear he would not like it. I do not think it very nice to do things to cats and dogs that they do not like. Poor things they are helpless and cannot say how much they dislike being teased. Perhaps this little sleeping girl did not mean to do anything unkind to her little dog. We will hope not.
