

has at last accomplished its object, viz. : the other's destruction. Both fought bravely, and we congratulate them upon their success ; may they now rest in peace ! From their ruins, however, Wm. Cotton has succeeded in resurrecting an independent publication called "The Rising Bell," whose editor we often see around with pencil and note-book soliciting information. We wish the new paper a better fate than its predecessors have had.

"La Grippe" has been busy at Feller Institute again. Being free from it so long during the winter we thought it had forgotten us. We were mistaken. It was only waiting for a favorable opportunity of attack. This was found just before exams., when one after another of the students felt its grasp. Nor were its effects felt by students alone. Teachers were not passed by. In one instance all the lady teachers were in its hold at once. We are glad to say that all the teachers have recovered, and that only one student, who had a very severe, attack is still confined to his room. The doctor says this one also will soon be around again.

The Final Examinations for the Winter Term have come and gone, with the usual successes and failures. Some of the students who have been so happy and light-hearted all the year are now mourning over the fact that they did not settle down to work soon enough. Others who have more soberly wrestled with the difficulties of every day are now rejoicing over the victories won. Four of our boys we expect to go to McMaster University next year. One will take the Arts Course in McGill, and another will probably be found studying Medicine at Laval. After a little further study, during the Spring Term, we expect these to be prepared to enter upon their respective Courses.

On April 2nd our closing exercises for the school year were held in Feller Institute. Owing to the almost impassable condition of the roads, and the stormy weather, very few visitors were present. A good programme of music and recitations was provided, which, with the reading of the marks obtained in examinations, made the day pass very pleasantly. In the evening a good many of the students left for home for the Easter vacation. We still have another term of seven weeks before the end of the school year. During the Spring Term we expect to have about fifty students left with us. Many others would remain, but are compelled by financial circumstances to leave now, in order that they may earn enough money to enable them to come back again next winter.

The annual meeting of the Students' Societ, of Feller Institute took place on Feb. 27th. There were present nearly all our missionary pastors, and a larger number of old students than usual. We were very pleased to have so many missionaries with us at one time. The Wednesday evening prayer-meeting was taken charge of almost entirely by the pastor, so that it amounted almost to a missionary conference, which was a change thoroughly enjoyed by all. Thursday morning the
