

and utensils, necessary to their improvement in the arts of civilized life; and such views of their moral duties have been impressed upon them, as may, perhaps, prove highly instrumental in leading them to Christianity.

Mr. Jones. I cannot adequately express my gratitude to you, Captain Mackey, for having delivered your interesting narrative, in a manner so well calculated, not only to inform the understandings of my boys, but to improve their hearts; and believe me, that, wherever your future lot in life may be cast, you will always possess the esteem and best wishes of my family.

THE END.