ON THE WRONG TACK.

"An Expensive Experiment" is the title of a volume fathered by Reginald Pelham Bolton, which appears to be the source of the inspiration or the fears that have been moving Mr. Bolton and his party friends in their investigations of the Hydro-Electric Commission. The book has evidently been prepared for the benefit of the electric companies in New York and Ontario. Copies enclosing a card with Mr. Bolton's compliments are being sent out all over the province by one of the electric companies, and every member of the legislature has been supplied in this way with a copy. It is rather overdrawn for its purpose in Ontario, where people know the facts, but it may serve to alarm some in New York State, who have not seen the minority report of the senate committee. This report states that "Mr. Bolton secured many of his facts from a dismissed employee of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, who furnished much of the data on which Mr. Bolton prepared his 'Summary of Financial Operations'." Such hearsay evidence should be excluded since that "discredited employee" was requested to appear before our committee in Canada, and refused to give such evidence while within the jurisdiction of the commission. This anonymous witness is referred to by Mr. Bolton as the "one honest man" whose disgust with the methods and secrecy of the commission led him to adopt the means he chose, of which unfortunately secrecy is also a part, to register his protest. And Mr. Bolton adds with the enthusiasm of capital letters: "The aid rendered by that honest man without reward or remuneration can only be acknowledged by this statement since he has determined to refuse publicity for his service to the public."

The "methods and secrecy" mentioned appear to have impressed The Globe, Mr. Rowell and their following, and it enables one to follow the proceedings in committee with fuller understanding when one is aware that Mr. Bolton's book and his honest man are behind the inquiry. Mr. Rowell should make it clear before long whether he is really depending on the honest man who refused to give evidence in Canada before the New York committee.

Mr. Bolton's efforts remind one of the epistles that used to appear in The Globe. The News and The Mail before the hydro-electric scheme was launched. One engineer used to write very persistently his views on the case. The line could never be constructed by the province, and when it was every thing along the route would be killed, and the cost of power would be absolutely prohibitive. Mr. A. G. Mackay used to be in Mr. Rowell's place in those days, and perhaps one need not be surprised to find Mr. Rowell treading the same path. We warned Mr. Mackay, but he would not be warned. Probably Mr. Rowell would consider it mere meddling officiousness should we warn him that he also is on the wrong tack.

MOUNTAINEER BRAVERY.

Montenegro continues to defy the European concert of powers, if so definite a name can be attached to their present somewhat intangible agreement. King Nicholas is evidently determined to strengthen his claim to Scutari by his capture, before pressure he cannot resist compels the raising of the siege. The obduracy of the Turkish defence is reported to have weakened his hold upon mountaineers who are inclined to regard faith as equivalent to incompetence. The inference in this case is no doubt unjust, for the Montenegrin troops have done nobly in the field and the investment of Scutari, difficult by reason of its rugged environment, might well have taxed the resources of an army better equipped for so formidable an enterprise.

The storming of the forts defending the rocky eminence of Taraborch was a feat as heroic and on a greater scale than the blowing up of the gate at Delhi. Indeed, in effectiveness it is only comparable with the storming of Badajos and Ciudad Rodrigo by the troops of Wellington during the Peninsular war. Not one of the two hundred who formed the forlorn hope survived, if the cable story is correct. It remains to be seen whether the naval demonstration, which Sir Edward Grey told the house of commons is about to be made, will give the Montenegrins pause. Certainly they deserve to get Scutari, but Austria bars the way, and behind is the menace of a wider war that may involve the European continent.

STILL BIGGER EYES.

We deplore the illogical character of The Telegram as much as its best friends do, and we willingly overlook many small inconsistencies in consideration of good service done in other directions. One of the weaknesses of The Telegram, shared, we believe, with the late Pierpont Morgan, Mr. Carnegie and other tough personalities, is a dislike to have the assistance of anyone else in anything it undertakes. The Telegram is much annoyed over the piecemeal annexation of North Toronto. If The World had only kept quiet, it gave us to understand last night, the whole of York County would have been annexed as a metropolitan area. All the farmers would now be paying city taxes. And all the slum dwellers in "the ward" would be located in fifty foot lots around York Mills. We regret having blundered into the middle of this splendid scheme. The Telegram had the real "Big Eyes," where our limited vision only saw the advantage of getting in all that The Telegram aldermen would stand for. We will promise not to interfere if The Telegram will go ahead with the program indicated in these words:

Annexation might have brought in North Toronto as part of a great metropolitan district. The creation of such a district would establish the unearned increment on farm land as a basis of civic revenues. City taxation on this land would force the subdividers to cut up their farms and supply home-seekers with cheap land on which to build their dwellings. The piecemeal annexation, such as the absorption of North Toronto, is not promoted as a means of increasing the city's revenue, but for the home-seekers. The annexation of North Toronto was no part of a great, well-ordered scheme.

It is not yet too late to annex York County. The Telegram will now lead the procession.

The report of the street railway earnings show that the city is growing at a tremendous rate and that the people need more room. The earnings are going up half a million a year, and The Telegram estimates that the gross revenue this year will be $6,000,000. Here is justification for the Big Eyes that can be focused on the situation. The Telegram has the right idea, and we hope it will excuse our endorsement. Let us have the metropolitan district and the taxes thereof.

BLOOR STREET VIADUCT.

If there were but one steel firm in existence capable of tendering for the Bloor street viaduct, no doubt the elaborate arguments of The Star and other papers in favor of having concrete tenders would be of some advantage. As there are plenty of competing steel firms anxious to handle such a contract, there need be no fear about lack of competition. The tenders will represent the lowest prices at which a steel viaduct can be built. Competition among steel firms is much keener than among cement firms, and that between cement and steel firms is even a more negligible quantity.

Controller Foster has declared in favor of the overdraw policy, and showing payments over for the next council to deal with. This is what he would describe to other people as dastardly conduct. Plain people would prefer to see the city dealing honestly.

There should be a decided improvement in the standard of waitresses after the news about Lena Roy. It is great a rush for positions. We may remark in a general way that we don't believe the Honorable Hurd was ever in the Brown Betty, or the Queen Mary or the Teapot Inn.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. BORDEN

Editor World: I have today mailed to the premier an open letter, of which the enclosed is a copy. I may say it is the result of a recent visit to England, during which I had an opportunity of ascertaining the feelings of Englishmen on this subject.

April 3, 1913. F. S. Baker.

(Copy.)

Dear Mr. Borden: Permit me, without expressing any political party leanings, which should not affect this case, to draw attention to the proposed naval contribution which does not seem to have been touched upon, perhaps from a feeling of delicacy. But let us have some common sense, and at the present juncture bear in mind:

First—That the proposed contribution is intended to discharge a debt of honor to the motherland. That Canadian men universally demand the immediate settlement of this debt in some form, as those who are experienced know that a majority of the people of Great Britain regard this country as under a distinct obligation to them by the provision for the defense of the empire. Canadians demand the removal of this obligation beyond the shadow of a doubt. To those who know it constitutes a detriment to the progress of this country.

Second—That when our skirts are cleared of this debt, we can properly consider the naval policy most suitable for Canada.

Third—That the only ground for discussion on this matter should be as to whether the amount proposed is sufficient and the form of the contribution correct.

Fourth—That it is imperative that we get it off our mind so that other business may be given attention.

I am, yours very truly,
(Signed) F. S. Baker.

Committee Against Method of Bonusing Any Industries

System Was Condemned by Both Government and Opposition Members—City of London Bill Was Badly Mutilated—Ottawa's Water Problem Discussed.

The bonusing of industries by municipalities was firmly disavowed by the private bills committee of the legislature yesterday morning, both government and opposition members uniting in condemnation of the practice in a unanimous fashion. An exceptional case, in which three young business men had proceeded on the advice of a city, to invest in a manufacturing concern before the necessary bylaw was passed, the committee, stating that the promoters of the company had gone ahead on their assurance, but the committee showed little sympathy.

Would Be a Farce.
Sam Clarke of West Northumberland declared "it would be a farce to go to the people at all."

Thomas McGarry of South Renfrew felt that it did not matter whether it had failed by two, or by fifty votes, the principle was wrong, and he was supported in the opinion by the chairman, Hon. I. B. Lucas.

The measure was voted down in the midst of conflicting voices. A rather ingenious scheme of linking up a popular with an unpopular project in the same clause aroused the suspicions of the committee, and it was found that whereas one part of the city was firmly opposed to a storm sewer system, they wanted a breakwater, so that the drafters of the bill had run them together, hoping to gain a victory for both.

On the ground of unfairness to the ratepayers the clause was ruled out.

Ottawa's Problem.
The water problem of Ottawa, which was fully understood by the members here, and stirred up a little commotion among representatives of that city, P. H. O'Reilly, the defeated candidate for controllership at the last election, contributing several statements. He charged that Mayor Ellis was trying to go ahead with the project of bringing water from the Gatineau Lakes against the will of the people, and that it should be drawn from the Ottawa River.

The facts were that it was desired to bring it from the lake region without going to the people. The outlay would reach $5,000,000, and immediate action was demanded.

The committee decided to arrange an amendment by which the education could be advanced, on the city council deciding the source of supply.

THE STANDBY.

When to the restaurant we hie, for boyhood years we vainly sigh; then not a germ was in the sky we gaze we seem to see those happy days when we could eat our ham and maize without a single question; but now our tables are bespread with grub which fills the nostrils with disgust, and oh! we fear the oysters, the scallops, the fish, the milk and cream, the butter and the sugar, the eggs and the ham, the beef and the mutton, the chicken and the turkey, the lamb and the veal, the pork and the bacon, the apples and the pears, the grapes and the berries, the oranges and the lemons, the limes and
