

English race may, under the providence of God, effect new works and fulfil new hopes for the human race, such as, perhaps, at present we hardly dare think of—

'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.