parts of Canada. In the south-western portion of the Province the weather is very mild ; and, when the lands are drained, and more thickly settled, they will probably exceed all others in Canada in this respect.

28. There is a very great difference in the temperature of winter and summer, the cold of the one and the heat of the other being much more intense than in most European countries. The summer of Quebec, when compared to that of Edinburgh, is almost tropical, exceeding it in general by ten degrees, and in the hottest month by fifteen. In regard to agricultural productions the action is more favourable than in the countries of Europe, which have the same mean temperature. The intense heat of our short summer ripens corn and fruits that will not grow in other countries, which have the same mean temperature. Thus Quebec agrees in mean temperature with Christiana in Norway, yet wheat is seldom attempted in Norway, whilst it is the staple production of Canada. The north of England agrees with Western Canada, yet the grape, the peach, and the melon come to perfection here and will not ripen there.

" No clime than this hath prouder, brighter hopes,
With its innumerable and untrod leagues
Of fertile earth, that wait but human skill,
And patient industry, by commerce fed,
To win their way to eminence as proud
As any nation on the varied earth---
The balmy winds may breathe more fragrant sighs o'er other climes,
And rarer flowers may in their gardens bloom,
But in stern majesty and grandeur none
May bear the palm-away."
