

PREFACE.

ix

all effort, a power of first rate importance in practical life, a share in that power which the world has cherished throughout the ages as man's highest gift. Rightly pursued the study of composition should be full of interest, educating and fostering mental life in the growing child. To that aim this book is humbly dedicated.

---