

$80

Floor Street, corner lot; choice place for residence.

H. H. WILLIAMS & 26 Victoria Street

27TH YEAR

The Toronto World

PROBS: 12 PAGES—THURSDAY MORNING JUNE 13 1907—12 PAGES

$5,000 Queen West near Bathurst Sold brick store, lot 33x112 to land. F. J. SMITH & CO., 61 Victoria St.

ONE CENT

REFERENCE FROM BRITAIN MANITOBA'S PREMIER POINTS TO DANGER ON THE WEST MAY BREAK AWAY

Foreign Immigration Will Within 10 Years Be Sufficient to Absolutely Govern Destinies of Western Canada.

HON. R. P. ROBLIN WELCOMED AT HIS OLD COUNTY HOME

WEDNESDAY, June 12.—(Special.)—The entire Bay of Quinte district, including the counties of Northumberland, Hastings, Lennox, Frontenac and Prince Edward, crowded the Town of Pictou to greet, welcome and applaud Hon. Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, the "favorite son" of the county.

Mr. Roblin and party, including Mrs. Roblin, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Forest, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bryson, left Toronto at 7.45 this morning on a second-class train, that stopped at every station.

A hearty welcome.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

The Premier was accompanied by a large number of admirers to greet him. The Premier was accompanied by a large number of admirers to greet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

At Pictou there was a multitude of enthusiastic admirers to greet the Premier. There were bands, flags, carriages and a great procession, but what pleased Mr. Roblin most was to greet his venerable father, still hale and hearty at 83, who was at the station to meet him.

The Future of the West.

Because Canada to-day occupies the proud position of being the most important self-governing colony in the empire, no guarantee that the ties which have been sufficient to hold that allegiance and relation in the past will be considered enough to hold us in the future.

Without any doubt whatever, it is only a matter of five, certainly not more than ten, years with the same ratio of immigration that has characterized the last five years, when the foreign-born citizens of Western Canada can, if they choose, take all matters of government absolutely into their own hands.

A man's loyalty and his patriotism, under ordinary conditions, are largely made by the financial and material benefits that the country in which he lives provides.

The Western Canadian farmer has no preferences, gets no consideration in the markets of the United Kingdom, as against the products of foreign countries, and the intelligent men of this class will naturally ask, and they are already beginning to inquire, what purpose, what object, is being served by a continuation of the relations that exist between Canada and the United Kingdom, if we cannot get any consideration that a foreigner cannot get?

They are beginning to argue that if Canada had the power to make an absolute and independent treaty of her own, without regard to British interests, trade matters—matters of commerce and finance—could be developed along channels and in lines that at present appear to be blocked.

The United Kingdom appears to be as indifferent to interests of the colonies and her own interests to-day as she was when Grenville put his offensive and obnoxious stamp upon the British statute. And the errors and mistakes that were made at that time, and were so costly, may be repeated; because the conditions in Canada to-day, to say nothing about the future, are not so favorable as they were at that time for British connection by virtue of the mixed population.

—HON. R. P. ROBLIN.

TOWN IS PILLAGED BY REVOLUTIONISTS

Custom House Robbed of $20,000—Entire Country in Favor of Government.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, June 12.—A force of Nicaraguan filibusters landed at Acajutla and at once made their way to the Town of Sonsonate, where they plundered the custom house and stole $20,000 from the local agency of the Bank of Salvador.

Salvadoran troops then appeared upon the scene and defeated the invaders, who fled precipitately back to Acajutla, where they re-embarked upon some vessels lying in the harbor, and made their way out of the harbor.

The entire country is in favor of the government. Thousands of volunteers have offered their services in the fight for Salvador and President Figueroa is being generally acclaimed.

Defeated Invading Force. MEXICO CITY, June 12.—According to a cable despatch received late this afternoon the Salvadoran army has defeated the invading force, which captured Acajutla yesterday, and has driven it back to the coast.

What is the not that we wot we have got to do with our flannels, or not? What is the matter with near middle June's? What shall we do with our winterwear? What do we not do if we could break away? What must we do if our flannels must stay? R.

DIES AFTER FIGHT. OTTAWA, June 12.—John Lee, a Chinese laundryman, eye of the prince in a moment, his keen gaze following the line from end to end with puzzled interest. The background to the whole was the clusters of Japanese flags, mounted on white pedestals, while the business was going on, the windows bristling with scores of flags. At the corner of Simco street, a conspicuous white steamship with "Banana" blazoned upon its side, the eye of the prince to lighten up as his eye traveled aloft.

Continued on Page 8.

POLITICS FORCE DUNDONALD TO QUIT

Since His Clash With Canadian Politicians He Has Never Had an Appointment.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable). LONDON, June 12.—Lord Dundonald, former commander-in-chief of the militia in Canada, has retired from the army. The announcement was made public to-day and has caused considerable comment.

Earl Dundonald has evidently not forgotten the circumstances under which he gave up command of the forces in Canada, and in an interview with The Daily News, he once again openly expresses his opinion as to the appointment of officers to the Canadian regiments.

Speaking to the representative of The News, Lord Dundonald says: "Since I called attention in Canada to the political jobbery in the appointment of officers, I have been offered no appointment by the British government."

"I therefore automatically retire," he said. "I do not intend to sit down and do nothing."

Dundonald, to The Mail, said: "I have retired simply because the British authorities have offered me no employment since I was turned out. Yes, I prefer the words 'turned out' from Canadian militia for calling attention to political corruption in the appointment of officers, the corruptions that if not protested against by someone, would be bound to destroy the efficiency of that fine force, for I consider unfairness and favoritism bound to destroy the efficiency and take the heart out of any military force."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL PROBLEMS

With Agent to Devote Whole Time to It, Decision of Assembly.

MONTREAL, June 12.—(Special.)—Dr. John Somerville, D.D., was relieved of the governorship of the home mission committee to-day by the General Assembly, and in addition to his position as clerk, was appointed treasurer to the board of trustees.

Rev. Alfred Gendrier was appointed financial agent and secretary, whichever title may be chosen. Rev. G. A. Wilson, Vancouver, was appointed superintendent of the home mission field of British Columbia, with the salary on a par with other superintendents. The assembly will possibly close to-morrow.

Dr. Gordon brought in the special report of the temperance and reform committee, recommending the appointment of a standing committee for the study of problems confronting the church in questions of labor, political and commercial corruption, gambling, the social evil and the liquor traffic, and to indicate lines of action for removing existing abuses, similar committees to be formed in the several synods; a special collection to be made as near Dominion Day as convenient; and the appointment of a special agent to give his full time to the work, the salary to be arranged by the committee. The report was adopted.

Dr. Gordon said that a man was contemplated by the committee whose work would justify their action if he were appointed, but he would not mention his name. It is understood Rev. Dr. Pidgeon was alluded to.

Sir Thomas Taylor moved a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the government to make the gambling laws more strict and specially protesting against making betting on the race track legal. He had seen six hundred men and boys playing crap games on Sundays at Hamilton race track, and the police were powerless.

SOME WHAT-NOTS. What is the wot?—What is a what? What is the wot that we wot we should not? What is the not that we wot we have got to do with our flannels, or not? What is the matter with near middle June's? What shall we do with our winterwear? What do we not do if we could break away? What must we do if our flannels must stay? R.

DIES AFTER FIGHT. OTTAWA, June 12.—John Lee, a Chinese laundryman, eye of the prince in a moment, his keen gaze following the line from end to end with puzzled interest. The background to the whole was the clusters of Japanese flags, mounted on white pedestals, while the business was going on, the windows bristling with scores of flags. At the corner of Simco street, a conspicuous white steamship with "Banana" blazoned upon its side, the eye of the prince to lighten up as his eye traveled aloft.

Yesterday's Wreck. HURON, Ohio, June 12.—Westbound fast mail No. 43, on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, was wrecked at 6.10 o'clock this evening, when it struck the caboose of a freight train.

Oscar Hudson & Company, Chartered Accountants, 5 King West, M. 4786

FUSHIMI WELCOMED IN TORONTO PLEASED WITH OUR HOSPITALITY

Japan's Imperial Prince Cheered by Large Crowds on Arrival and Feted at Government House.

ADMIRE THE QUEEN CITY AS SEEN FROM CARRIAGE

Prince Fushimi, cousin of the Emperor of Japan, and distinguished for his military genius, received the city's welcome yesterday. His arrival proved an event of interest to many thousands of Torontonians, as the crowds at the Union Station indicated, and the warmth of the hospitality extended left little to be desired and was manifestly gratifying to the prince.

The prince, who with his A.D.C., spent the night as guests of the Lieutenant Governor, left for the west at 11 a.m. to-day.

The Prince, who visited Niagara Falls during the morning, appeared much impressed, not alone by the grandeur of the cataract, but by the possibilities for electrical power development, and in his inspection of the power houses he displayed keen interest, asking many questions. The prince and party were guests of the Niagara Falls Park Commissioners.

The fact that the mayor and civic authorities were not asked to participate in the reception caused some resentment on their part. The visitors left at 12.30 p.m. for Toronto.

Considerable excitement spread through the party accompanying Prince Fushimi when the prince, who spoke in the possibility of the indignity once offered a Chinese official traveling incognito being repeated in the case of the appointment of officers, the corruptions that if not protested against by someone, would be bound to destroy the efficiency of that fine force, for I consider unfairness and favoritism bound to destroy the efficiency and take the heart out of any military force."

As the special came to a standstill, Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, who represents the government in the arrangements for civic receptions to the prince on his itinerary, was seen in the Japanese honor guard, and Fushimi descended, and became at once, as action writers would say, the cynosure of all eyes. His companions, the lieutenant-governor and the mayor, stood by his side, and he was greeted by the prince on his itinerary, was seen in the Japanese honor guard, and Fushimi descended, and became at once, as action writers would say, the cynosure of all eyes.

Rank Not Made by Clothes. The prince did not appear to be the gaze of the curious spectators, and he was greeted by the prince on his itinerary, was seen in the Japanese honor guard, and Fushimi descended, and became at once, as action writers would say, the cynosure of all eyes.

Pictureque Welcome. There was little ceremony at the depot. The prince was conducted by the lieutenant-governor, and followed by his suite, and the civic delegation. Prince Fushimi proceeded along the strip of crimson carpet upstairs to the waiting room and thence to the front-street entrance. The station was lavishly and tastefully garnished throughout the route of procession with flags and bunting, the Japanese ensign being conspicuous, while scarlet tracings on white background, looking somewhat cryptic to the ordinary beholder, conveyed to the prince a greeting in his own language.

On Front-street, the presence of the General, drawn up in one line on the right side with muskets at "present" and bayonets glistening, lent state and impressiveness to the ceremony. The detachment of 100 men was under the command of Capt. Porter, with Lieuts. C. H. Porter and Scandrett, and the scarlet tunics and doublets caught the eye of the prince in a moment, his keen gaze following the line from end to end with puzzled interest. The background to the whole was the clusters of Japanese flags, mounted on white pedestals, while the business was going on, the windows bristling with scores of flags. At the corner of Simco street, a conspicuous white steamship with "Banana" blazoned upon its side, the eye of the prince to lighten up as his eye traveled aloft.

The ceremony of inspecting the line.

Series of Thefts. Then the defence had the witness admit a series of mean crimes. When reduced to poverty he resorted to pawnbroking, borrowing and stealing. First he pawned jewelry and guns for $25 to $30. Then he accepted Paulson's hospitality, while he was plotting to steal Paulson's child. After that with Stimpkins, he said, he broke into the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. station. They were after a trunk full of jewelry samples, but instead got a trunk full of shoe samples. Next he topped a cash register at Burke for $30 and $10.

Summing up this period of crime, poverty and mean crimes, the defence wanted to know why, if he was in Idaho on a mission of murder for Hayden, Moyer and Pettibone, and with whitened credit from them, he did not send to them for money instead of borrowing and stealing. Orchard replied that he did write to Moyer at Butte, and got $100, but that he did not send to Hayden for more because he was temporarily off the Steunenberg record, and away from where Steunenberg lived.

Lately it was shown that Orchard borrowed $300 from Paulson, on the strength of a fraudulent story that he was going to Los Angeles to see mining stocks for Coates, and that this was the money that actually paid his expenses when he went to Caldwell to investigate the murder of Paulson. Swiftly reviewing his meetings with his old partner, who had meantime become rich, the defence asked the witness if, disappointed and angered,

Continued on Page 7.

PRINCE FUSHIMI

ORCHARD'S MEAN CRIMES DRAGGED OUT BY DEFENCE

Plotted to Kidnap the Child of a Man Whose Guest He Was.

BOISE, IDAHO, June 12.—The defence to-day brought the cross-examination of Harry Orchard down to the actual crime charged against Wm. D. Hayward, the murder of ex-governor Frank Steunenberg.

Probing into the crime was reached at midday and counsel for the defence directed their efforts to an attempt to prove the earlier purposes and movements of Orchard were uncertain and indefinite.

Then they emphasized the abandonment of all efforts at murder after Orchard first tracked Steunenberg to a hotel in Boise and with a skeleton key gained entrance to the room in which the ex-governor was staying, which the ex-governor was staying.

Here they stopped for a moment to prove that Orchard twice wrote and once telephoned to "Bill" Exarty at Silver City to urge him to come and join in the projected crime, the direct implication being that Orchard endeavored to involve another federation man into the crime which would discredit and dishonor the organization.

Plot to Kidnap. Then the witness was carried over this long journey into North Idaho, and his crimes there, including a plot to kidnap and hold for ransom Paulson's child.

Orchard swore that David Coates, formerly lieutenant-governor of Colorado and late a publisher in Wallace, Idaho, first moved the kidnapping to Pettibone, and himself at Denver, Paulson, once a poor miner, had made a fortune in the Hercules mine in which Orchard held an interest when the property was not paying; and it was believed that if his children were stolen he would pay $50,000 or $20,000 in ransom. Orchard said that when he went to North Idaho he got Jack Simpkins to enter the plot, and together they went to Coates to renew the scheme.

Coates was asked to stand up, and Orchard said he was the man, whom the witness testified to have been seen with Coates whether he himself did not prove the crime to Coates, who immediately refused him, and whether Paulson directly he heard of the plot. Orchard denied both suggestions, and insisted that Coates consented to stay in the plot and handle the money they hoped to get from Paulson.

Series of Thefts. Then the defence had the witness admit a series of mean crimes. When reduced to poverty he resorted to pawnbroking, borrowing and stealing. First he pawned jewelry and guns for $25 to $30. Then he accepted Paulson's hospitality, while he was plotting to steal Paulson's child. After that with Stimpkins, he said, he broke into the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. station. They were after a trunk full of jewelry samples, but instead got a trunk full of shoe samples. Next he topped a cash register at Burke for $30 and $10.

Summing up this period of crime, poverty and mean crimes, the defence wanted to know why, if he was in Idaho on a mission of murder for Hayden, Moyer and Pettibone, and with whitened credit from them, he did not send to them for money instead of borrowing and stealing. Orchard replied that he did write to Moyer at Butte, and got $100, but that he did not send to Hayden for more because he was temporarily off the Steunenberg record, and away from where Steunenberg lived.

Lately it was shown that Orchard borrowed $300 from Paulson, on the strength of a fraudulent story that he was going to Los Angeles to see mining stocks for Coates, and that this was the money that actually paid his expenses when he went to Caldwell to investigate the murder of Paulson. Swiftly reviewing his meetings with his old partner, who had meantime become rich, the defence asked the witness if, disappointed and angered,

FIVE MORE DROWNINGS REPORTED FROM NORTH

Three Perish at Twin Chutes—Two Englishmen Go Down in Montreal River.

COBALT, June 12.—(Special.)—A. E. Hogue, managing engineer, and H. B. Munroe, a Cobalt broker, returned to-day after a hard trip to Lake Abitibi. They report the death by drowning at Twin Chutes, on Lake Abitibi, of three men, named Thorpe, Crerar and Blundell. Thorpe was the assayer at the Moehar Camp, near Beaudermer's Narrows.

A report has also reached Cobalt that two Englishmen were drowned yesterday in Montreal River. A third one was saved.

MAYOR DROWNS IN CREEK

Philadelphian, Formerly of Hamilton, Meets Tragic Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—(Special.)—Mayor David S. Griffiths of this city was drowned, and Fire Chief Jacobs narrowly escaped a similar fate this afternoon by their horse stepping off a submerged bridge 10 miles southwest of this city, which they were crossing over a creek to attend a fishing party. The body was recovered to-day after a hard trip to Lake Abitibi.

They report the death by drowning at Twin Chutes, on Lake Abitibi, of three men, named Thorpe, Crerar and Blundell. Thorpe was the assayer at the Moehar Camp, near Beaudermer's Narrows.

A report has also reached Cobalt that two Englishmen were drowned yesterday in Montreal River. A third one was saved.

IRISH SEND MESSAGE

Wish Blake Speedy Recovery—Condition Inspires Hopes.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable). LONDON, June 12.—Hon. Edward Blake, whose health for some days past has been a cause of much anxiety to his many friends, to-day received from the Irish party a message of affectionate wishes and hopes for a speedy and complete recovery.

His condition is reported by attending physicians as none the worse, and if anything a turn for the better is not far distant.

Continued on Page 7.

JURY DECLARES NEGLIGENCE CRIMINAL

City and Ry. Authorities Jointly Slated for Dangerous Crossing on Esplanade at Inquest.

That Francis Hart came to his death as a result of injuries sustained on the Bay-street crossing on the night of May 24 thru being struck by Grand Trunk engine No. 894, going east, over the crossing.

The order for the proper protection of the said crossing, issued by the railway committee of the privy council, has not been carried out and that the corporation and officials of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway Companies were criminally negligent in not properly providing for the safety of pedestrians upon the said crossing.

And that the corporation and officials of the City of Toronto were negligent in not seeing that the railway companies carried out the said order.

This is the substance of the verdict returned by Coroner Johnson's jury last night after having enquired into the death of the steward of the steamer Corinna.

A number of officials of both companies were examined, telling of matters referring to the responsibility of the carrying out of orders of the railway committee and railway board.

City Engineer Rust said that he did not know whether the orders were carried out or not, but that if a complaint should be made to him he would notify the mayor.

At the opening of the session County Crown Attorney Drayton read letters and telegrams from the railway board showing that he had had difficulty in securing replies to letters asking for the report of the board's inspector, Lalonde, as to the accident.

Finally he had received a telegram saying that Lalonde had not ascertained the track upon which Hart had been struck nor the train responsible for the death and that it was not deemed desirable that the report be laid before the jury.

Coroner Johnson in summing up said that the evidence had disclosed a mysterious state of affairs, in which the railway companies and the city were engaged in a game little likely to ensure the safety of the citizens.

It was a serious thing that occurred given by the railway commission, that a watchman be kept at the crossing, should later be with the with the railway board as doubtful as to covering nights.

The train blamed by the jury for the accident was the light train engine running from Mimico to East Toronto.

ADRIFT AT SEA 14 DAYS

Picked Up After Having Eaten Nothing For Eight Days.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The steamer Carmania, which arrived to-day, brought Louis Vollet, aged 33 years, one of the crew of the fishing schooner Mimosa, from St. Malo, France, who was picked up after being adrift at sea for 14 days. His dory mate had the steamer, after he had eaten nothing for eight days.

CARRIE NATION ARRESTED. WASHINGTON, June 12.—Carrie Nation, after haranguing a crowd in front of a downtown saloon to-night, was arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct. She was released on $20 collateral.

TELESCOPES CAME, TOO. Yesterday morning Wm. Dineen, St. Charles, N.Y., where he had been on a quick business trip, the result of which is that to-day there will be on sale at the famous hat store, Yorg and Temperance, the 34th telescope soft felt hat, which is a lacy creation and will catch the good dresser, particularly the young man who wants to look right up-to-date.

NO. 50. Not Good After 12 o'Clock Noon June 24, 1907

Trip to London Ballot

THIS BALLOT GOOD FOR 1 VOTE

For _____

District No. _____ Address _____

County _____ City _____

When fully filled out and received at The World Office by mail or otherwise on or before expiration of date shown above. Not good after that date. Void if name voted for has not been properly nominated. No ballot will be altered in any way, or transferred, after being received by The World.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12

PERITE

DISEASES

REMEDY

NO. 1

NO. 2

NO. 3

Continued on Page 8.