Grand Jury Says "True Bill" to Both Indictments

IN BANK ROBBERY CASE.

Evidence Against Ponton and Mackie Will Be Begun This Morning.

The Napanee Police are keeping a sharp lookout for jury-fixers—extra precautions taken—it is now said that Holden will give crown evidence and take his chances—pointers picked up at the Court.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The bank burglary case was reached this afternoon, but was not touched. To-morrow morning the selection of a jury will take place and will occupy the whole forenoon. Interest is intense.

The sheriff has taken pains to see that the law regarding tampering with a jury is known. All over the court are posted bills that state "Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to two years' imprisonment who influences or attempts to influence, by threats or bribes or other corrupt means, any jurymen in his conduct as such, whether such person has been sworn as a jurymen or not, or accepts any such bribe or other corrupt consideration to abstain from giving evidence, or on account of his conduct as a jurymen."

A fear of jury-fixers. The police have been on the qui vive since the trial began, and last night one man in particular, it is said, was shadowed away on into the morning, but nothing was revealed. The police seem to fear that an effort will be made to reach some of the jurors, and they are vigilantly personified as a result. Sheriff Hawley, asked if he anticipated any such serious affair, replied that the sentiment of those who knew him. It is in contemplation, it is said that they "won't" try to do this until he is dead, but it is not his country to have justice thus perverted.

But these who know the gentlemen on both sides of the case and the unimpeachable character of the yeomen of Lennox laugh at the alleged fears of the guardians of the law.

A gloom has fallen upon the interested parties in the case by the death of Lawyer Lyons of Belleville. Detective Donoherty's statement, "He was a genial soul," voices the sentiment of those who knew him. It is learned that the deceased made an ante-mortem statement that may be produced in court. Constable Ellis is the authority for the statement that an application to take the deposition had been made to the judge six days ago. It will be Saturday night at the earliest before the case is handed to the jury.

True Bills Found. At 2 o'clock the Grand Jury, headed by Foreman Anson B. Aylsworth, filed into the Court room. The foreman handed some documents to the Clerk of the Court, who read as follows:

"Queen v. William Henry Holden and George H. Pare, burglary, true bill.

"Queen v. William Hamilton Ponton and Robert Mackie, burglary, true bill."

After a whispered conversation with the foreman of the jury the judge thanked the jury for their expedition, and sent them to the discharge of their additional duties. Acting County Crown Attorney W. S. Herington suggested, at the instance of B. B. Oster, Q.C., that the case against Ponton and Mackie be not brought on till 4 o'clock.

This the judge assented to, and intimated that he thought the petit jury, when once empaneled, should be kept together, as this case was one of those that warranted that precaution. He expected the jurors to be selected to-night, and requested the sheriff to see that they were lodged comfortably and properly fed.

E. Gas Porter made a slight objection to the immediate bringing on of the case, as the witnesses he had telegraphed for had not yet arrived. However, he was ready to go on.

The Court then convened again for the hearing of the bank case at 4.20, but it was getting late and His Lordship said that there would be nothing further done till to-morrow morning at 9.

Holden to Tell a Story. There is something new in the bank case, and it comes as a surprise to many. At the preliminary investigation three months ago, Pincus Holden refused to plead, and it was recently reported that when he was put on the stand he would knock Pare's story to slivers. The World talked to reliable authority yesterday, and was told that Holden would throw himself on the mercy of the Court and would tell a story corroborating Pare's in all its essential details.

Holden Knew Pare. It has transpired that the $425 held in Boston under an attachment from the bank has been sent to Holden, the bank waiving its claim. It is also learned, on the best of proof, that Mrs. Holden has admitted that Pare was staying with her husband at her house in Boston. This seems to shatter the reported statement that Holden reported, when confronted by Pare, that he never knew the man. The judge's declaration that there was sufficient evidence against Holden, without Pare's testimony, to warrant a true bill.

Aberdeen Speaks at a Banquet

GIVEN IN HIS HONOR

And Applauds Canada's Policy of Turning Towards Great Britain

When the Markets of the United States Were Closed to Her — He Puffs Sir Wilfrid and Rejoices at the "Good Understanding" Between England and the United States Shared by Canada.

Liverpool, Nov. 22.—The Earl of Aberdeen, the recent Governor-General of Canada, who, with the Countess of Aberdeen, arrived here to-day from Quebec on the Dominion Line steamer Labrador, speaking this evening at a banquet given in his honor, referred to the "keen gratification experienced by Lady Aberdeen and myself during our sojourn in Canada," adding that they felt they now had "ties of lasting association with the Dominion."

Lord Aberdeen applauded "Canada's holding policy in turning toward England when the markets of the United States were closed to her."

After enlarging Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, he said: "The proximity of the United States is a great factor in Canadian affairs, and, therefore, we all rejoice in the tendency toward a good understanding and friendship between Great Britain and the United States—a tendency fully shared by Canada in her attitude toward the United States."

"I am sure we all welcome whatever will help the unity of the whole Anglo-Saxon race, and in this respect the commission now sitting in America has an important and significant bearing."

Referring to the French-Canadians, he applauded their devotion and loyalty, remarking that he was sure that, though they treasured their own traditions, they would do their duty if ever called upon.

In concluding his speech, which touched upon various Canadian matters, Lord Aberdeen said: "Canada is working out her own development and destiny for her own sake, but, in so doing, she is necessarily working also for the sake of the great empire of which she forms so splendid a portion."

SULTAN HATES UNCLE SAM. Will Close the Orphanage at Zeitun Run by U. S. Charity.

London, Nov. 23.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "The Sultan has ordered the closing of an orphanage at Zeitun, which shelters 90 homeless victims of the Armenian troubles. The institution is admirably managed by American missionaries, being chiefly supported by British charity. Mr. Oscar Traus, the United States Minister, and Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British Ambassador, are both intervening energetically."

200 Arrests; Two Duels. Branda was sentenced to two months' imprisonment as the outcome of the scene in the Unterhaus, one between the Minister of the Interior, Desdrius von Percezt, and Herr Helle, a member of the Chamber. Disgraceful scenes were enacted at the University by the students, who poured hot water and turned a fire hose on a member of the police force, whose horse became unmanageable. Altogether, 200 persons were arrested, but only a few were detained long in custody.

THE B. A. C. CONTROLS LE ROI

Purchase of 205,000 Minority Shares Did the Trick.

PRICE AT $8.50 A SHARE.

A Syndicate of Rossland Men Will Buy B.A.C. Stock on the London Market—The Deer Park Mine Never Was In Better Shape—Work on Silver Bell Going on.

Rossland, B. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—After many conflicting stories, it is now stated on good authority that the British America Corporation has completed negotiations for the purchase of the minority of the stock in the Le Roi mine, comprising 205,000 shares, thus obtaining full control of the mine. The price of the stock, including dividends to be declared in favor of old holders, will probably be about $8.50 a share. A syndicate of Rossland men is being formed to buy British America Corporation stock on the London market.

Deer Park All Right. An effort is apparently being made to bear Deer Park stock. It has been originated by interested parties. The mine never was in better shape. Superintendent Tregar of the Le Roi, who examined the property last week, says it will be a big mine and a proper system of working it is being pursued. There is no reason for any decline in the price of the stock.

Work on Silver Hill. The contract for the resumption of work on Silver Hill has been let and sinking already well advanced. There is considerable signification for stock in the new company. Including Silver Hill, there are now seven properties working in the South Belt. A revival in that section of the camp is anticipated in consequence. A. R. M.

In Possession of the Le Roi. Rossland, B. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The British America Corporation is now in possession of the Le Roi mine. The first payment has been made on the minority stocks. The corporation now owns all but 35,000 shares.

BLAST FURNACE THE NEXT!

The Roger Brown Company of Tonawanda, N.Y., Likely to Establish a Branch of Their Business in Toronto Employing 250 Hands.

Tonawanda's big array of factory chimneys is likely to be very shortly augmented by another tall smokestack and the boom of ponderous machinery. The firm contemplating the project is the Roger Brown Company of Tonawanda, N. Y., one of the largest sellers of pig iron on the continent. The Canadian manager, Mr. J. G. Miller, whose headquarters are at Buffalo, was at the Queen's Hotel last night, and speaking to The World, said: "The Roger Brown Company is making 500 tons of iron a day at its factory and employs 250 hands. There are nine offices in the United States, and we sell the products of forty different blast furnaces, or some 750,000 tons a year. The Canadian trade has trebled during the last three years, and we want a blast furnace on this side."

"A stock company is being organized, with a capital of $100,000. The plant proposed would make 250 tons a day and employ 250 hands."

"Asked if the site had been determined on, Manager Miller replied: 'Not definitely, but it is pretty certain to be Toronto, and near the lake front. Toronto has the finest distributing facilities in Canada. We are negotiating with a number of big men in this city and shall know the result in a few days.'"

NON-UNION-MAN ASSAULTED.

London Car Conductor Struck Down While on Duty—His Recovery Doubtful—Regrettable Affair.

London, Nov. 22.—Austen Addison, a non-union conductor on the Street Railway, while on duty about 11.30 o'clock last night, was dragged from his car on Adelaide-street near Eliot-street, and brutally assaulted. The victim of the dastardly outrage was very seriously injured, and his recovery is doubtful.

Threats had been made against Addison because of his attitude during the recent strike, and for this reason the company employed special detectives to shadow him. Acting on the belief that the feeling died out and no rowdy violence was to be feared, the company discharged the detectives last Saturday.

Addison was a relief man on the belt line, and the car was on its last trip south on Adelaide-street. A passenger got off at Eliot-street, and the motorman slowed up at the opposite crossing to take on a man who was signalling for the car to stop. No sooner had this fellow got on board than he struck Addison a vicious blow with a club instrument, knocking him flat. Another of the assailants seized the rope, and pulled the trolley pole of the wire, putting the car in darkness. The rest of the gang of rowdies immediately dragged Addison into the road, and brutally kicked him about the face and head.

It was but the work of a moment. The ruffians vanished, and when Motorman Braithwaite went to the rear of the car to learn what was wrong he found his conductor bleeding and unconscious. The injured man was taken to the barns, where Drs. Moore and English attended to his injuries.

Addison was in a faintful condition. Both eyes were badly blackened and swollen, and his head was one mass of cuts and bruises an inch or more in length. The wounds were full of sand and required very careful treatment. He was conveyed to his home on Dundas-street east.

Street Railway employees who belong to the union deeply regret the unfortunate affair, and express an earnest wish that the perpetrators may get the punishment they deserve.

RAN AWAY WITH HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Miller, Who Became a Chorus Girl, Turns Up at Her Home — Goes on to Port Hope.

Newark, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Mrs. William A. Miller, who, it was reported on Saturday, had run away to New York from her husband, came here with him and passed Sunday with his parents.

William A. Miller is the son of W. M. Miller, one of the most prominent business men of this county. Mrs. Miller was Miss Frances Palmer, elder daughter of Frank A. Palmer, assistant passenger agent of the Wabash Railway, who lives in Chicago. She is 24 years old. They were married here two years ago. The wedding was a private one, and did not seem to please anybody except the contracting parties.

The couple went to Port Hope, Ontario, where the husband engaged in business, and that was the last the good folk of Newark heard of them until they saw in New York papers on last Saturday that Mrs. Miller had been appearing as a chorus girl at the Casino; that she was no longer known as Mrs. Miller, but as Frances Palmer, and that Frances Palmer and her little daughter had been living in the Gilsey House.

They read also that Mr. Miller had learned that his wife was in New York and had confronted her there and demanded an explanation, whereupon the young woman had sent in her resignation as a chorus girl and paid her bill in the Gilsey House and fled with the child.

The people of Newark had not digested this news when who should drop into the town but Mr. and Mrs. Miller themselves, with the little Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Miller refused to see anyone or throw any light on the situation, and left here early this morning for an unknown destination.

The people here think the couple may have gone back to Port Hope.

They're at Port Hope. Port Hope, Nov. 22.—Mrs. W. Miller, who, with her child, has been on a visit to her father in Chicago, returned home with her husband from the Windy City yesterday.

NOTHING NEW IN THE RATE WAR,

Says Vice-President Shaughnessy to the World at Montreal—The G. T. E. Operations.

Montreal, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—There is nothing new in the situation of the Grand Trunk operators yet. It is generally supposed that the company and men are reaching a solution of the difficulty. Mr. Powell arrived to-day and negotiations are continually going on.

Vice-President Shaughnessy told The World to-day that there was absolutely nothing new in the rate war matter.

The Harbor Commissioners had a meeting to-day, and defended themselves against the Mayor's attacks. His Worship, however, defended himself, and matters remain in statu quo.

THE CLAIMS OF IRELAND

Must Be Redressed Before Any Anglo-American Union Can Come, Says Chanler.

Dublin, Nov. 23.—Mr. Louis Stuyvesant Chanler, who went on a stumping tour through Ireland with Mr. John Redmond during the summer of last year, is addressing the Irish Independent League here this evening, and he must deprecate the "attitude of Irishmen who threaten to use the Irish vote in the United States against any American Government that would enter an alliance with Great Britain."

"Irishmen," said Mr. Chanler, "ought to appeal to America on loftier grounds. America has become a great nation by Ireland's aid. I do not believe she intends to form an alliance with Great Britain, though naturally, she is grateful to the latter, and she offers to help her. Should England, however, eventually propose an alliance, it is safe to say that the American sense of justice would never sanction such a union until Ireland's claims on England had been adjusted and settled."

Carlist Rising Imminent. London, Nov. 23.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Biarritz says: "Prominent Carlists declare that a rising is imminent simultaneously in several towns where there is hope of military support, the idea being a sharp, short conflict, instead of the prolonged and sporadic risings in the rural districts."

Premature Rejoicing. London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Chronicle this morning editorially criticizes the "premature rejoicing of the English press over the alleged policy of the open door in the Philippines," because, it says, "Washington can do nothing until Congress meets."

SHARKEY IN 9 ROUNDS

Corbett, Hopelessly Beaten, Fouled Out.

SECOND ENTERED THE RING

Looked Like a Job When Referee Made Award and Declared Bets Off.

Ex-Champion Was Held Safely by the Sailor All the Way—Corbett Opened Favorite in the Betting at 5 to 4 on, But After Second Round He Was a 2 to 1 Shot—Record Crowd at Lenox A. C.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Corbett-Sharkey fight, which was witnessed by the largest and most representative gathering of sporting men that ever congregated to see a ring contest, ended in a most disgraceful fiasco to-night at the Lenox Athletic Club. Corbett had all the worst of the encounter, when one of his seconds, Connie McVey, jumped into the ring, appealing to the referee, thus violating the rules, and Referee Honest John Kelly had no alternative but to disqualify Corbett and award the bout to Sharkey. McVey's intemperance was absolutely inexcusable, and the referee, believing that there was a job in McVey's action, took it upon himself to declare all bets off. Before Kelly did so, however, many of those who had bet on Corbett—and they were legion—appealed to the referee to take such action, while the Sharkiesites shouted against such interference on Kelly's part, and protested that he had no authority to declare the bets off. However, the referee's word went with the majority of the spectators, and consequently all money paid on wagers made will be refunded. It was a most unfortunate and absurd ending to what promised to be an interesting fight.

Sharkey Always Confident. For weeks both Corbett and Sharkey had trained faithfully and carefully for the contest, and when they stripped to-night both of them showed in excellent condition. Sharkey was very confident of success, and the manner in which he acquitted himself in the ring while the fight lasted, showed very plainly that his confidence was founded on good grounds.

Those who believed that Sharkey could not fight fairly changed their opinion after the bout had gone one round. On the other hand, Corbett hit rather low and Sharkey's aggressiveness went astonishing from the very beginning, and from the very first it was very evident that he held Corbett safely.

In the second round there were wild yells from the admirers of the Sailor-Irishman when he floored Corbett with a right tawing on the head, which was preceded with a powerful blow on the body. Sharkey's rushes were successful invariably, and Jim's quickness and leg-work were not to be denied. Sharkey was generally very aggressive and his aggressiveness was not to be denied. Sharkey has improved wonderfully good without saying, and, on the other hand, that Corbett is not the Corbett of New Orleans, is beyond question.

Corbett Never in It. At no time had the Californian the upper hand of his younger and more sturdy rival. Sharkey is a fighter, and a clever one, at that, and his work to-night stamps him beyond all doubt as being second only to Fitzsimmons, who will have to meet him in order to decide which is the best man, and when these two meet they should put
