Even-up now in the Chicago baseball race. Take your pick.

One to nothing! That is certainly playing the game some.

Great doings at Tecumseh Park this afternoon-Forest City and Woodstock swap kicks. Bobby Hague, whose photo adorns this page, will play quarter-back for the home team.

The Tecumsehs and the Capitals will attempt to massacre one another at Toronto today. Another case of that good old stand-by, "Do unto others as you would not have them do unto you, and get there first."

An exchange says that Chicago has gone baseball mad. The town would madder still if old John Winter loaded the Windy Burg down with a covering of the cold white stuff, and the baseball games had to be called off at the present stage of the game, just when both teams are tied for post-season honors. In the event of such an occurrence we would bet a dollar to a burned match that the fans would charter a southbound train and have the teams play it off in the sunny south.

Here is a little dope on past performances in the squared circle of Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns, who have recently been matched to box twenty rounds in a 'Frisco ring at an early date: Hugo Kelly whipped O'Brien once and lost to him once; Burns fought two draws with Kelly; O'Brien has fought over 70 of his ring battles in Philadelphia, where no decisions are rendered, and has been whipped but once, according to his record; there has been a decision rendered in every one of Burns' fights, and he has lost but three decisions. Can you pick the winner of the coming contest?
