Local News.

There will be a meeting of the Teamsters' Union tonight in Berryman's hall.

The quarterly meeting of the King's Daughters' Guild has been postponed to Oct. 10.

Take no risk. See D. BOYANER, 651 Main street, who makes a specialty of fitting glasses.

Joseph Seymour picked a box of delicious raspberries in his garden on Duke street yesterday.

The ladies' committee will meet with the gentlemen's committee at the Protestant Orphan Asylum on Thursday, Oct. 5, at 3 o'clock.

The fall opening at Miss Devers, the well known milliner, 289 Main street, begins today and continues through Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. George F. Lee of Concord Junction (Mass.) will return home on the 12th inst. She is here on a hunting trip and has been successful in securing a deer at Carlo, Sanbury county, William Carey, guide.

Mrs. C. W. Hamilton and Miss Margaret Baxter leave on the P. E. R. train this evening for St. Stephen, where they will be delegates at the Methodist Women's Missionary society convention, which opens at that place tomorrow.

Handicraft exhibition postponed owing to the handicrafts not arriving, caused by delayed freight. The exhibition of handicrafts and home industries to be held by the Women's Art Association this week has been postponed until further notice.

No. 2 Salvage Corps met last evening and transacted routine business. A number of honorary membership certificates, Telegraph's job department, were received and much admired. They will be presented to several members who have presented. Committees were appointed to arrange for winter entertainments, for which the boys of No. 2 have won a fine reputation.

At a meeting of the Father Mathew Society the semi-annual election of officers took place, the result of which was as follows: President, W. F. Higgins; senior vice-president, W. McGinnis; secretary, John Gorman; recording secretary, Bernard Gallagher; financial secretary, Wilfrid Murphy; assistant financial secretary, James McCarthy; treasurer, T. F. Coughlin; corresponding secretary, Fred Hase; librarian, Louis Sharkey; assistant librarian, Harry Hase; conductor, Matthew Morris; trustees, Rev. D. O'Keefe, F. J. McInerney and J. J. Morrissey.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Seamen's Mission Society met at the Chipman house. After discussing and planning for the winter work, it was decided to purchase an up-to-date piano from one of the best dealers in the line. The money who have been working and collecting for many months, have now in the treasurer's hands sufficient funds to almost pay cash for a good instrument. To raise the balance they propose to have a concert Monday evening in the Chipman house, at which the new piano will be tested by good talent. The citizens who are unable to attend can assist by sending in their contributions marked piano fund.

THE IRISH GUARDS BAND

Manager B. J. Armstrong of the Victoria Rink is preparing a plan of the seating in the rink for the Irish Guards band concert to be held on Oct. 10th and 11th. This plan will be ready in a few days. The rink will be heated for the concerts and lovers of music who attend will not experience any discomfort. Speaking of the concert given in Winnipeg recently the Telegram says: "The band fulfilled to a notable degree all expectations, winning genuine applause for each number. Their treatment of the selections was satisfactory to the most acute ear. Standard overtures were magnificently rendered and the lighter compositions formed a most agreeable change in the programme."

Mr. Gleason, who is giving the people of St. John an opportunity of hearing this band in receiving scores of enquiries as to when seats can be on sale.

DR. DRUMMOND TONIGHT

No one should miss the opportunity to hear Dr. Drummond at the York Theatre this evening.

The Dr. is well known to St. John audiences, and those who have heard him once always want to go again; this is one of the best guarantees to those who have not heard him that they will be well repaid by going tonight.

Seat plan at Gray's bookstore until 7 p. m., and after that at the box office.

OUT OF THE FOLD

Wilbur Stock Company Scored a Hit at the Opera House Last Night.

The Wilbur Stock Company pleased a large audience at the Opera House last evening by a first class production of a beautiful play, Langdon McCormick's "Out of the Fold" is unfamiliar to St. John theatre goers, but from a human interest standpoint it is one of the best plays seen here this season. There is no depending upon mechanical devices for effect. The charm of this play is found in its bright dialogue, its somewhat pathetic story and its naturalness throughout. Several of the characters are types and in the hands of the Wilbur company they were excellently presented. Miss Isabel Pitt Lewis, as Helene, carried her role in a natural, unaffected manner. In her one or two emotional scenes she acquitted herself admirably. Jessie Bell, as Vivienne and dainty, played Susanne the romp in pleasing manner. Mr. Stein, as Long Jim, had an excellent good part and made the most of it. Philip Connor made a manly hero, while William Short was satisfactory as the hero. The other members of the company contributed adequate support. There is no particular star in the Wilbur Company, neither does it number any "studs" in its membership. It is an exceptionally well balanced organization, capable of giving good performance, and should do good business all week.

A bright line of vaudeville specialties is introduced during the performance. The company comes well equipped in the matter of scenery and costumes. Altogether the Wilbur-Stock Company compares very favorably with other repertoire companies seen here.

THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS

Makes in Ontario a Passionate Defence of the Intercolonial Railway.

Referring to an address made by Hon. H. R. Emmerson at Orillia, Ont., last week, the correspondent of the Toronto Newry wrote that:

"He devoted the greater part of his speech, however, to an almost passionate defence of the Intercolonial Railway, which he declared had been one of the principal factors in welding the Dominion, and to be well worth all it had cost and was costing."

LEETER FROM KOREA

Miss Jennie B. Robb Writes From Wonsan, Korea, of Missionary Work.

A letter has recently been received from Miss Jennie Barbary Robb, formerly of this city, a missionary in Korea, sent there by St. David's church.

Miss Robb is stationed in Wonsan, Korea, and in her letter sends encouraging reports about the mission work in Korea, sent there by St. David's church.

The letter from Miss Robb was received in September, but was dated "Wonsan, Korea, June 24th, 1905."

At Han-Hueng in their educational work, and the girls passed a very creditable examination before Mr. Robb.

The Russian troops, were posted all through the country near Han-Hueng, and until autumn, when they departed, the missionary work had to be partially suspended.

At Han-Hueng on June 4th last, sixteen were baptized into the Christian faith.

The letter from Miss Robb was received in September, but was dated "Wonsan, Korea, June 24th, 1905."

DREDGING ON THURSDAY

The dredge Beaver was towed across the harbor to Dunbrack's wharf today, where it will have heavy duty fitted. Owing to the lack of heavy steam lighters fitted to lift heavy weights, Mr. Dunbrack had to buy a special purchase at Dunlop's wharf, and this will cause a little delay. The 27-ton crane was raised yesterday, and everything is progressing so well that the dredge will probably be at work digging on Thursday.

DEMONSTRATION

MINNIE RYAN MUST SPEND TEN MONTHS IN THE HOME

Magistrate Ritchie Imposes Heavy Sentence on Girl Arrested Last Night—The Blood Alley Case Disposed of.

In the police court this morning two drunks were fined $50 each. One of them on promising to take the pledge for life was allowed to go on two suspended sentences.

Minnie Ryan was arrested this morning between one and two o'clock, charged with lying and lurking on Victoria wharf and not giving a satisfactory account of herself. Officer St. Crawford swore that while pursuing the usual duty of seeing that all doors were locked on Synthe street, he saw the Ryan girl coming up from the Victoria wharf. She could give no account of herself and he placed her under arrest. He heard some man running from the wharf but it was too dark to see him and consequently could not arrest him.

Officer Crawford stated that she admitted to him that she was with a man when making the arrest, the officer said that she stuck a pin into his side two or three times and also jabbed him with it on the hand.

The prisoner stated that she belonged to Fairville and was proceeding from the ferry boat to her sister's on Harrison st. when arrested. She said she had no time to give an account of herself and she was on her way to her sister's. Judge Ritchie then sentenced her to ten months in the Home of the Good Shepherd.

Susan Burns, colored, was today adjudged guilty of keeping a heavy house in Blood alley, off Duke street, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or go to jail for six months. As she had not the money she went to jail.

Frank Kennedy, arrested for being an inmate of the house, was fined $50 or three months in jail. Henry Burke, also an inmate, was but eighteen years old, as to whether or not Burke was guilty of any offence, he gave him the benefit of the doubt, and on promising to take the pledge, the duty was permitted to go; the fine of $50 being allowed to stand against him, however, for his alleged delinquency. Debra Kennedy was on account of her child, who is but two years old, sentenced to a term in the alms house, as was also Legaria Hall, aged five years, who also go to the alms house. The little fellow wept bitterly when he ascertained that he had to part with his mother, who was sentenced to jail. Debra Kennedy, when sentenced to the alms house, said: "I wasn't used right when I was there last winter. I would sooner do a term in jail." She was told by the court, however, that if she wasn't used right she could let the court know of it. The Kennedy woman, however, said she was used like a dog when there before, and allowed a copious supply of tears to trickle from her eyes. The magistrate told those who were being sent to the alms house that they would be detained there on a commitment, and if they escaped from lawful custody they would be liable to be sent to Debra Kennedy for not less than two years. The magistrate also stated that during their period in jail, Kennedy and Susan Burns could be brought out of jail at any time and charged with adultery. If such were the case they would be tried in the Supreme court. Susan Burns concurred with Judge Ritchie in having her child, John, and her other child, Legaria Hall, sent to the alms house, where they could attend school. Mrs. Burns was first married to a man named Hall.

FLEET-CAPTAIN HOWARD HOLDER

Presented With Gold Watch by the Boys of the Stormy Petrel.

Fleet Captain Howard Holder, of the R. K. Y. C., is the happy possessor of a token of regard from the boys of the Stormy Petrel, that age will not diminish its weather conditions affect. It is a gold watch, having his initials on the front case, a yacht engraved on the back case, and on the inside this inscription:—

"To Howard Holder, from the boys of the Stormy Petrel, 1905. Happy Days."

The presentation took place on Saturday on board the yacht.

The engraving is very beautifully done, and the watch a valuable memento of happy days on the river. Those who joined in this tribute of good-fellowship were Oscar Price, George Holder, Cecil Holder, Reg. Mallison, Blair Ferris, Elmer Holder, W. H. Turner, Harold Allison, George Brown and Malcolm Smith.

The Stormy Petrel is not well named, for a more joyous party does not swing its way along the coast of the river than the singing crew of this yacht, whose songs float over the waters to the great pleasure of all who hear them.

Fleet Captain Holder greatly prizes the gift of his fellows, and they in turn are glad to have given this evidence of their appreciation of one who is so enthusiastic a member of the yachting fraternity, even ready to contribute to the pleasure of cruise or to aid a comrade in distress.

THE TWO SISTERS

Unusual interest is being taken by the general public in the production of Denon's "The Two Sisters" at the Old Opera House on Monday evening, next at the Old Opera House. There is but one company in existence playing "The Two Sisters" and that one appears as alone with its splendid Metropolitan cast and scenic effects.

Two excellent and handsome actresses appear as the two sisters—"Martha" Mary Howard, who leave their country home to search for work in great New York City, the machine in which so many young women have been swallowed up in its merciless grasp in being seized with all kinds of dangers and difficulties. Harry Pepper as the Montana hero and fearless man proves a friend of the staunchest kind, and one whose reward in earning Mary makes a happy ending to the play.
