JUNIORS OF RED CROSS GATHER

Pageant is Well Put on Today in Imperial Theatre

Miss Browne, Dominion Director of Work Gives Address—Flag From England.

The unifying spirit internationally exemplified this morning in the Imperial Theatre, when 526 Juniors of Saint John City and County met to honor Miss Jean E. Browne, Dominion Director of the work. Miss Browne brought greetings from overseas from Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Belgium and England. From the latter country came a beautiful banner to the Canadian Juniors. This was exhibited to the body of Juniors for the first time anywhere in Canada.

The meeting was the first of the kind ever held here. It was presided over by Miss Jessie I. Lawson, superintendent for New Brunswick in a short, bright address. Miss Catherine Seely, a Junior and president of the Saint John branch presided and won merited praise from Miss Browne for her manner of procedure. Miss Lillian Fenton, Junior secretary, called the roll and announced the number of members present.

EDUCATIONISTS ATTEND Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education for New Brunswick and Samuel A. Worell, superintendent of the Saint John School Board gave their approval by their presence and were thanked from the platform by Miss Browne.

R. T. Hayes, president of the New Brunswick Red Cross; Mrs. I. F. Longley, president of the local branch; Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, publicity secretary for New Brunswick; Miss S. A. Barrington, Dominion organizer of home nursing classes in the Red Cross; Miss Ethel Hazen Jarvis, provincial secretary, Mrs. W. I. Fenton, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, Mrs. E. R. Taylor, Mrs. John Longe, Mrs. Edgar Ayer and Miss Ada Thompson, workers in the Red Cross, were in the boxes.

Miss Catherine Whitehouse, a Junior, read an address of thanks to Miss Browne for the message she had brought from England and for the banner. Catherine Upham and Ronald Hart carried the banner.

MESSAGE FROM ENGLAND Miss Browne said that the message sent from England was one of love and friendliness. The banner is brocaded white satin with gold, the sign of the red cross emblazoned in relief and encircled with the motto in gold lettering, "Junior Red Cross, Serve One Another." Beneath the inscription in chaste lettering of gold on the rich brocade is "From the British to the Canadian Juniors." The program consisted of an alphabetical exercise given by the Juniors of St. Thomas and St. Vincent's, with nice singing and clear recitations; roll call of members, with responses by one member from each, several being from Hampton and the Point. The Junior Red Cross song was sung heartily by all the children, followed by a pageant, which was artistic and informative and carried out without a hitch, wholly conducted by the children. Miss Lawson and Miss Browne gave addresses and the latter received the directors and secretaries of the branches after the meeting. The function closed with the National Anthem, the audience singing the three stanzas. In an interview, Miss Browne said of the work of the Dominion Director, Junior Red Cross supervisor for New Brunswick and said she could not praise highly enough the thoroughness and effectiveness of her work. The enrollment of Junior Red Cross members began in 1914. Miss Browne said, and there were now scattered throughout the world 8,000,000 Juniors.
