Children's week starts Oct. 16-19. Wyandott class tonight. Bridge-McQuade, managers.

PATRIOTIC EXECUTIVE. A meeting of the executive committee of the Patriotic Fund will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the board of trade room.

TWO MONTHS IN JAIL. Charles Dwyer, charged with acting disorderly at Fredericton Junction more than three weeks ago, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Ritchie to two months in jail.

THOSE MAIL TRAINS. Another correspondent has written to the Times criticising the condition of the homes and carriages used to convey the mails in this city, and the speed with which the animals are driven.

MUST REPORT REGULARLY. A German who has been residing in the city was brought before Chief of Police Clark this morning, as the police had heard that he was planning on leaving the city to go to his native country. He was able to satisfy the chief, regularly to him and was allowed to go.

STAR THEATRE TONIGHT. The Star Theatre, North End, has been giving its patrons a great deal more than their money's worth in the last few days in film features. Tonight, for instance, they will present one of the favorite cowboy, Gilbert M. Anderson, who will play the star role. There will also be a comedy drama and a Selig drama all of which pictures are new to the people of St. John.

TO PENITENTIARY. Chester Russell, sentenced by Judge Barry to twenty-five years in Dorchester penitentiary for assaulting Miss Mary Forsythe, a teacher in Charlotte Co., on September 14, and Clifford Pine, charged with breaking and entering a store in Milltown and sentenced to two years in Dorchester, were brought to the city on the late train last evening accompanied by the Sheriff of St. John.

BURIED TODAY. The funeral of Mrs. Jane Proctor was conducted this afternoon from her late home, 294 Brassey street. Ven. Archdeacon Raymond conducted services, and interment was in the Church of England burial ground.

LAST TIME AT IMPERIAL TONIGHT. The large number of people who saw Francis X. Bushman in the four-part international drama, "One Wonderful Night," at the Imperial yesterday, were delighted beyond words with the novelty of the story and its sustained strength throughout. It will be repeated for the last time tonight along with several smaller pictures introduced from the mid-week programme. Thursday afternoon the Imperial's programme will be entirely new and on Thursday night the usual order of business will be suspended to make way for the Grand Patriotic Concert. On Friday and Saturday, the "Trey O' Hearts" feature will be resumed.

CLOSE OF SEASON. The close of the summer season at Pandemonium on the C.P.R. for the boys of "Hotel Paradise" was marked on Thanksgiving Day when they entertained about thirty of their friends at their camp. All enjoyed a pleasant time, and the party was enjoyed under the direction of "Chef" Knodell, assisted by a bevy of pretty waitresses.

CONGRATULATIONS. What concerns everybody who travels by sea is the fact that an arch or curve will bear an infinitely greater strain and withstand a vastly greater shock or blow than a flat surface, and this strength also materially reduces vibration. It follows, therefore, says the Daily Graphic, that the Monitor ship, with her fluted galleys, will come unscathed, or with little damage, through blows and buffeting that would tip up or smash a flat-bottomed vessel.

THE SECRET OF THE BLIND. A visitor was down at the Royal Normal School for the Blind one day, and in the grounds came upon a class engaged in composition work, and one of the boys read his essay. It dealt with an excursion they had paid to St. Paul's Cathedral, and no sighted boys could have seen and observed and remembered half so much as did these blind children, says the Westminster Gazette. "We climbed to the highest point," read out the boy, "and we greatly enjoyed the magnificent view of London spread out at our feet." This was a rather curious statement for blind boys to make. How could they appreciate the fact that there was a view from St. Paul's at all? Dr. Campbell, the blind principal of the school, was appealed to, and he confirmed the statement. "Why," he said, "of course they enjoyed it. Their only great desire when they got to the top of the dome was to see the Crystal Palace in the distance. Do you think I don't enjoy views? I frequently go to Switzerland, and I have climbed Mont Blanc for the view. I have been to all the great picture galleries in Europe, and I can honestly say no one appreciates the old masters more than I do." "But how do you see?" asked Dr. Campbell. "Ah! That is the secret of the blind."
