POETRY.

THE CHILD'S DREAM.

BY C. L. BOGGETT.

"Oh I have had a dream, mother
So beautiful and strange;
Would I could still sleep on, mother,
And that dream never change!"
"What have thou dreamed, my dearest one?"
Thy look is bright and wild;
Thy mother's ear is ready
To listen to her child.

I dreamed I lay asleep, mother,
Beneath an orange tree,
When a white bird came and sang, mother,
So sweetly unto me;
Though it woke me with its warbling,
Its notes were soft and low,
And it bade me rise and follow
Wherever it might go.

"It led me on and on, mother,
Through groves, and realms of light,
Until it came to one mother,
Which dazzled—'t was so bright.
As, tremblingly, I entered,
An Angel-form drew near,
And bade me welcome thither,
Nor pain nor sorrow fear.)

"I know not ought was there, mother,
I only felt 't was bliss,
And joined that white bird's song, mother,
O, can't thou read me this:"
"Yes, dearest, to my mother
Such happiness is given—
The Holy Spirit was the bird,
That grove of light was Heaven!

WHY DON'T YOU CRY, YOU FOOL?—The trial at the Salisbury Assizes, lately, of an unlucky wright, who had been helping himself to his neighbor's goods, gave rise to a piece of ingenuity on the part of a well known lawyer, which, to us, who chanced to witness it was somewhat amusing. The prisoner had been defended by counsel, and everything that could be said on his behalf had been said, but the case against him was too palpable to admit a shadow of doubt, and a verdict of guilty was pronounced. The judge seemed to look upon the culprit, who was a tough looking fellow, destitute alike of friends and character, with some degree of pity, and previous to passing the sentence of the law upon him, commenced giving him a few words of advice. The benevolence of his lordship's tone was not thrown away upon the lawyer, who seemed to feel that as long as there was a chance of helping his client he was bound to do his utmost. Unobserved, therefore, he sli ence which behind the dock, and putting his hands to the sides of his mouth, whispered to the prisoner as loud as prudence would admit—"Why don't you cry, you fool? Be quick—you'll save a month at least!" The culprit, who before this was standing as unmoved as a statue, immediately took the hint, rubbed his eyes with his knuckles, and for a moment seemed overcome by a sense of the degraded situation in which he stood.—The dodge answered. "I trust," said his lordship, "that the sense of shame which you now feel will prevent you from appearing again in such a situation in a court of justice, and in that hope I am induced to pass upon you a much lighter sentence then I should otherwise do, which is, that you be imprisoned in the House of Correction in this county, for the space of one calender month." The fellow, we were afterwards informed, is a most hardened rascal

THE EVIL OF A BAD TEMPER.—A bad temper is a curse to the possessor and its influence is most deadly wherever it is found. It is allied to martyrdom. to be obliged to live with one p incompanining temper To hear one eternal loud of complaint and murmuring, to have every pleasant thought seared away by their evil spirits, is, in truth, a scor trial. It is like the sting of a scorpion—a perpetual nettle, destroying your peace, rendering life a burden. Its influence is most deadly; and the purest and sweetest atmosphere is contaminated into a deadly miasma wherever is contaminated into a deadly miasma wherever this evil genius prevails. It has been said truly, that while we ought not to let the bad temper of others influence us, it would be as unreasonable to spread a plaster of spanish flies on the skin and not expect it to draw, as to think of a family not suffering because of the bad temper of any one of its inmates. One string out of tune will destroy the music of an instrument otherwise perfect; and if the members of a church neighbourhood, and family, do not cultivate a kind, and affectionate temper, there will be discord and every evil work.

STRANGE INCONSISTENCY.—There are many men and women too, for that matter, would handle a watch worth twenty-five dollars, with the utmost care, for fear of deranging its mechanism, while they would not hesitate to lay rough hands upon the feelings of others, worth twenty-five years of happiness. Many a man there is who would turn to let the reptile live, who would not scruple to set his foot upon a human heart, and crush it—many a lady who would deem it a sin to ruffle a lace cap, is not slow to read the more exquisit net work of the human heart.

Upon coming into the office the other day, we asked the "devil" his rule for punctuation. Said he: "I set up as long as I can hold my breath, then put in a comma; when I gasp, I insert a semicolon; and when I want another chaw of tobacco, I make a paragraph." We cannot withhold these rules, so admirable for their simplicity, from the public.

ONE is much less sensible of cold on a bright day than on a cloudy one; thus the sunshine of cheerfulness and hope will lighten every trouble.

NO ONE CAN TELL the misery of an unloved and lonely child; in after-life, a degree of hardness comes with years, and the man is not susceptible of pain like a child.

LIFE IS A FIELD of blackberry bushes. Mean people squat down and pick the fruit, no matter how they black their fingers; while genius, proud and perpendicular, strides fiercely on, and gets nothing but scratches.

THE POETRY OF BEAUTY.—This is universally acknowledged, and may be termed nature's letter of introduction; nevertheless, he might make a sorry bargain who would buy a watch because of the goodness of the case.

LORD JOHN RUSSELL has undertaken to write the life of Thomas Moore, and to edit the Journal which the poet kept. In this undertaking his lordship complies with the request of his deceased friend, as expressed in his will.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. H. Parker, Chemist, 7, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, on whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and had consulted on the best occasion, however, the symptoms of the attack was so alarming, and the pain so excruciating, that being able to bear up under it no longer, she was induced to try your Pills, and the relief she found after the first, and each succeeding dose, she said was great relief. She continued using them, and although she need only three boxes, she stated to me the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but she should from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I deem, spoke much in favour of your astonishing Pills.

R. W. KINGTON.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Welch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them had been considered incurable. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she commenced to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thein & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2nd, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before. (Signed) HENRY COE.

North Street, Lynn, Norfolk.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF TRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Higdon, Esq., Sydney, New South Wales, dated February 25, 1851.

SIR,—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a Settler at Lake George, for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a Complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their professional skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and any further efforts useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and as a forlorn hope he did so. The first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required. (Signed) WILLIAM JONES,

Proprietor of the Goulburn Herald,
New South Wales.
