Poetry.

TO THE MEMORY OF LORD RAGLAN.

BY MR. ERIC MACKAY.

Lord of his country, and to every clime
In the low dreamless sleep of brave Williamstow!

Raised Raglan's gentle arm'd a heart as true
His "iron constitution" could not stand
That toils and cares of such a high command,
Where dire disease, unstilled continuous strife,
Saps the foundations of the strongest life,
Long ails Englishmen secured her gallant son,
With silent harmonious blends,
Alas! we've been too long estranged,
We must—we shall be friends.

Who cares in coldness from the men
Of real intrinsic worth
Becomes by accident he chanced
A different place of birth;
On such trifling circumstance
The diamond's worth depends:
Then wherefore should it weigh with us
We must—we shall be friends.

Shall I despise the mind I love,
And tear her from my heart,
Because some narrow channel keeps
Our native land apart?
That taste must be a mortal one
A foreign flower offends;
What's fair, were fair in any land;
We must—we shall be friends.

Your hand! if to your fellow men
You struggle to be just,
And fairly use the stranger's heart
Confided to your trust,
If in your public acts you can
Forget your private ends,
We cares what land your virtue nurs'd
We must—we shall be friends.

The world is not so large a world,
One heart might grasp it all;
The man who seeks the general good
A patriot I call;
One likes the good Samaritan,
Whose love to all extends;
If such is your creed and politics,
We must—we shall be friends.

Boast not of your country till it can
Its fame to you transmit;
Your country can't ennoble you,
But you may noble it.
A ladder to the hill of fame
From every land ascends.
Great men have mounted each of them.
We must—we shall be friends.

DON'T STILL THE GRAVE.—Catlin, the famous American traveller and collector of Indian curiosities, has seen some strange incident in the course of his adventures. The following is related by a fellow traveller, who gave Catlin the sobriquet of "Governor:" "One day, when we had landed, and Governor and party were lying asleep on the boat, most of our party were lying asleep on the boat, which was moored under the shade of some large trees, the Governor and I had collected wood and made a large fire on the bank, two or three rods from the boat, over which we were roasting a fat pig which I had shot from the boat during the morning. I was squat down on one side of the fire, holding a short handled frying pan in which we made some very rich gravy, which the Governor, who was squatted down opposite me, was ladling over the pig with an Indian wooden spoon. All of a sudden I observed his eye fixed on something over my shoulder, when he said to me in a very low tone, 'Now, I want you to keep perfectly cool, and don't spill your gravy; there is a splendid tiger right behind you.' I held fast to the frying pan, and turning my head gradually around, I had a full view of the fellow, within eight paces of me, lying flat on his side, and with his paws lifting up and playing with the legs of one of our Spaniards who had laid himself down on his belly, and was fast asleep.—Our rifles were left in the boat! The Governor drew himself gradually down the bank, on his hands and feet, ordering me not to move. I was in hopes he would have the old Harlot, but he preferred his own weapon, and getting it to bear upon the beast, he was obliged to wait some minutes for it to raise his head, so as not to endanger the spaniard; at the crack of the rifle, the animal gave a piercing screech, and leapt about fifteen feet straight into the air, all quite dead. The Spaniard got nearly as far in a different direction; and at the same time, from behind a cliff of rocks of twelve on the opposite side, came out full two dozen Indians from our fire and rifle, and the full Governor's bank, where he had been sleeping near the mate, which darted into the thicket and disappeared. We skinned this beautiful animal which remained exactly between the bank and the boat several hours in hopes that the others one would show himself again; but we waited in vain, and lost our game."

There is no selfishness where there is a wife and children. Everything endures in a triumph. How many vices are suppressed that there may be no real scandal! How many questions made to cease, and incidents a good sun!

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent to the above Company for New Brunswick, begs to announce that he is prepared to receive Proposals for FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE. The large Capital of the Company, and the united and influence of its Proprietors, enables it to rank with the most eligible Offices, offers no inducement to Europe, with respect to the advantages offered to the Public.

FIRE BRANCH.

Persons Assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or others, nor do they depend on any uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an undoubtable security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.

In addition to the more customary methods of Assurance, the Company likewise Assures Lives on any of the following contingencies:—

For the terms of One Year, Seven Years, or any other definite period.

For the whole continuance of Life.—The Premiums to cease, after a limited number of Annual Payments.

For Two Joint Lives.—The sum assured to be paid on the death of either.

On the longest of Two or Three Lives.—The sum assured to be payable at the death of the last survivor; or,

The Survivorship.—To secure the payment of the sum assured, if a life A die before another life B.

For a sum to be payable at age 60, or at death.

Premiums on Credit.—A portion of the Premiums on Credit. Assurances may be effected in various ways, not enumerated, to meet the convenience of parties.

The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following, viz:—

The Guarantee of an ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from liability of Partnership.

Moderate Premiums.

Large Participation of Profits by the Assured amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance:—1st. By the immediate payment of the sum so apportioned.—2nd. By an equivalent increase of the sum created.

Small Charge for Management.—The expenses of the Office being borne in due proportion by the two Branches.

Prompt Settlement of Claims.

Policies lapsed by non-payment of the Premium may be renewed within three months, by paying the premium, with a fine of 10s. per cent., on the production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Directors of the good health of the life assured.

The Company will always be prepared to Purchase the Policies of this Office at their equitable value or will grant a New Policy in lieu thereof without any further payment of Premium, for a sum to be agreed on.

Extra Premiums, suitable to special circumstances, will be accepted to enable a party possessing a Policy on the life of another to guard against the possibility of its being vitiated by the Life departing beyond limits, or by any other cause.

Thirty Days are allowed for the Payment of Premiums after the day on which they respectively fall due.

Additional Advantages offered to Lives Assured with this Company at St. John, N. B.

I.—RESIDENCE.—Persons assured for the whole term of life will have permission, without the payment of extra Premium, to reside in any part of Europe, or in any place in North America to the north of 38 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

II.—VOYAGES.—They will also, if not seafaring by profession, be allowed, without any extra charge—

To cross and re-cross the eAtlantic Ocean, in steamers or first class sailing-vessels;

To pass from any part of Europe to any other, or from any part of North America to another, within the limits above specified; also,

To pass to and from, but not to reside in any place which shall not be further south than 36 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

ERYSIPELAS OF EIGHTY YEARS DURATION CURED!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Yeadon, Otley, dated the 16th of July, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I feel it a duty I owe to humanity who are in the use of your Ointment and Pills, to inform you of the wonderful cure they have effected in my case. For eighty years I suffered from all sorts of skin diseases, and was covered from head to foot with Erysipelas. I tried all sorts of medicines, and was under the care of the most eminent of the Faculty, but all to no purpose, and was considered incurable. At length the best advice was sought, and I was told by the doctors that my disease arose from impurities in the blood, and that nothing could cure me but a course of your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, the sore was completely dried up, after all other remedies had failed to do it. I have not had the slightest return, I have no objection to my case being published, if you feel disposed to make it known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,
(Signed) EDWD. TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Hudson, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My wife suffered much severly after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and strategems I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies two more weeks she was entirely cured, and we offer you our unfeigned thanks for the cure effected.

I remain, Sir, yours truly,
(Signed) HENRY HALDEN.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs	Chapped hands	Piles
Bad Breasts	Corns (Soft)	Rheumatism
Bunions	Cancers	Scalds
Burns	Contracted and	Sore Nipples
Bite of Mos-	Stiff Joints	Sore-throats
chetoes and	Elephantiasis	Sore-heads
Sand Flies	Fistulas	Skin-diseases
Coco-bay	Gout	Scurvy
Chego-foot	Glandular Swellings	Tumours
Chilblains	Lumbago	Ulcers
		Wounds

Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London and 80, Maiden Lane, New York, also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized World, and in all parts of Canada, at the following prices:—1s. 3d.; 3s. 3d. and 5s. sterling, each Pot.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
