

WITH FIELDING GONE GOVERNMENT IS SHAKY

Minister of Finance Will Probably Not Take Active Part for Another Year. Other Signs Presage Downfall of Laurier Administration -- Remaining Ministers Weak.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 14.—The government has never faced so serious a situation as the present since it came into power in 1896 so dependent has Sir Wilfrid Laurier been of the counsel of Hon. W. S. Fielding in constructing legislation and so often has the finance minister pulled him out of a tight corner that the loss of Mr. Fielding to the premier will be of the most serious nature. The premier's first lieutenant is the ablest man in the general party. He may lack the spectacular personality of some others notably the premier himself, but the fact remains that he has been the mainstay of the government for the last fourteen years. Without him the administration is a rudderless storm driven craft. It is stated that Mr. Fielding may be able to return to active duty next January but meanwhile the outlook is not bright. It is more likely that he will not be back in Ottawa for much longer. It is understood that he has been advised to rest for about a year. Another weakness which has developed is that the Secretary of State has contrived to awaken the hostility of the French Canadians, especially those of the Nationalist persuasion and they have sworn to defeat him at the next election. It is admitted that he cannot be elected in Russell again, but it is stated that the party will find an Irish Catholic prospect for him. It is obvious, however, that no political party would stick by any man who was proving a weakness to it.

Parmelee vs. Murphy. It is well known that there has been a battle royal between Mr. Parmelee the Kings Printer, and Mr. Murphy. It is understood that the Secretary of State tried to get Mr. Parmelee dismissed, but this evoked a storm of protest. Mr. Parmelee is a former Quebec member and if dismissed would assuredly enter the House again. The public accounts committee will reveal this session, and it is promised that there will be a furious time over the printing bureau scandal. Men are dismissed before they had a chance to defend themselves and it is freely stated that when Mr. Murphy found that the enquiry was leading to a revelation of the scandalous means taken by the government to raise campaign funds he stopped and contented himself with making scapegoats of some of the employees by declaring them incompetent. Therefore they were fired. It is pointed out that the scandalous means taken by the government to raise campaign funds are not only being exposed but are being exposed in a way which has been placed by the government over the navy bill. Pugsley No Help. Of the other ministers such as Pugsley and Graham, not very much help can be expected from them by the prime minister. They are kept exceedingly busy minding their own affairs. Indeed the former will be one of the ministers who will not lend much credit to the government's version of the session as there are one or two matters with which he has been connected that will ensure some warm debating and exercise all Mr. Pugsley's wits to defend. Meanwhile all the troubles in the Liberal party seem to have the effect of consolidating the Conservatives. They have visions of office at the next election and this alone will draw them close to one another.

REVOLTING MURDER OF AGED WOMAN

Body Found in Vacant Lot Beaten Out Of All Semblance To Human Form—Ex-Convict Arrested. San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 14.—Beaten beyond semblance to a human form the body of an aged woman was found today in a vacant lot next to the Savoy Theatre in the centre of the business district of this city. John Knapp, former convict, is in jail charged with the murder. The murdered woman was identified as Mrs. Julia Cary, aged 85 years. Identification was made by Mrs. Love, matron of the city prison, who said Mrs. Cary had been in prison a number of times for petty offenses. Detectives found Knapp standing in front of a stable where he is employed not far from the place where the body lay. He was placed under arrest and in his room in the stable, the officers found a window weight smeared with blood and knotted gray hair. Some of Knapp's discarded garments were covered with blood and the collar and waistcoat he wore when arrested, were spotted with bloody finger prints. A trail was discovered over which the woman had been dragged from the stable to the lot where the body was found. Knapp is 57 years old and has a criminal record, having served 13 years in the Bolson penitentiary for the murder of James Quinn, of Humboldt, Iowa, in a gambling quarrel.

FIND DEFECTS IN ACCOUNTS

Supreme Officers Responsible For Unsound Condition Of French-Canadian Insurance Society. Providence, R. I., Nov. 14.—A hearing was begun in the Superior Court this afternoon in the receivership proceedings against L'Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amérique, the largest French-Canadian organization in the country. The society is an insurance and fraternal order, with a membership of 25,000 throughout New England and New York. Recently the association was severely censured by the insurance commissioners of Massachusetts and New York for irregularities in its insurance business. The resignation of Supreme Secretary J. Adelard Caron, of Woonsocket, and the appointment of a temporary receiver followed. The corporation is now cited to show cause why a permanent receiver should not be appointed. A finance committee recently found defects in the accounts of several of the supreme officers. A movement has been started to hold a new convention to annul the proceedings at the last meeting at Manchester, N. H.

SHOT HER HUSBAND AS HE LAY ASLEEP

New York Woman Who Contemplated Suicide On Account Of Suffering Could Not Bear To Leave Husband. New York, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Burdorf, who attempted suicide after killing her husband, had long been the victim of a facial disease which caused her great pain. This, she gazed at at the hospital, made her wish to die and she shot her husband, who is a prominent physician in the upper part of the city, because she could not bear to leave him behind. The physician was shot as he lay asleep the bullet penetrating his side. When he rolled to the floor and breathed his last, his wife quickly shot herself twice in the abdomen and side. Before she lapsed into unconsciousness, the woman managed to tell the sorry story of her suffering and its effects. Of her husband she said: "I just could not bear to leave him behind. I loved him so," she moaned. "Jealousy, yes, that was it. Maybe selfish of me, but I just couldn't help it."

One Cruiser of Bristol Class Ordered to be Built in British Dockyard.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Nov. 14.—It has transpired that the Dominion government has ordered a cruiser of the improved Bristol class to be built in a British dockyard. The vessel will be of rath-er over 5,000 tons, will have an armament of eight six-inch guns, five of which can be fired on each broadside, and a probable speed of from 26 to 28 knots, or about 32 statute miles per hour. The Bristol, the latest vessel of this type to be constructed, has made 27 knots, 309 miles an hour. This ship should be ready in about 20 months or about June or July, 1912. The Commonwealth of Australia has ordered two such vessels, which are actually building now on the Clyde yards. In addition the Australian government has two large torpedo boat destroyers, which have been sent out to Australia and will be assembled there. In addition two huge armored cruisers, the Australia and New Zealand, are being built in Great Britain for the two British countries, which their names commemorate. Each is of some 18,000 tons displacement, each has 8 12-inch guns and each will steam about 30 knots, or 35 miles an hour. They will be completed in 1912.

Medical Reciprocity. Mutual recognition of medical degrees by the various provinces of Canada seems about to come into effect. This has been the aim of medical men of Canada for a generation. An attempt was made in 1896 by Dr. Roddick, M. P., to provide for this by legislation, but Quebec and other provinces objected and his bill did not pass. Since then all the provinces have fallen into line and Dr. J. B. Black, of Halifax, will introduce a bill this session to bring this reciprocity into the medical profession into effect. It is hoped that this will pave the way for an imperial medical reciprocity scheme. At present medical practitioners with an Ontario degree for example, cannot practice in Quebec without passing a provincial examination. It is proposed to do away with this.

Martin for mayor would be placed in the vestry for signing, when Manlius Bull, president of the Royal Crown Soap Company, arose and vigorously protested against bringing such petitions into the church. He said he was a supporter of Mr. Martin, but was strongly opposed to such measures. Petitions were presented in most of the city churches, the mayoralty campaign promises to be bitter between Controller Vaughn, and E. D. Martin. Segregation will be the principal issue.

THAW'S DAILY ROUTINE TOLD IN AFFIDAVIT

Attorney General Opposes Application Of Mrs. Thaw For Transfer Of Stanford White's Slayer. Albany, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Attorney General O'Malley, filed in the court of appeals today affidavits in opposition to the appeal of Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, in her application for the transfer of her son, Harry K. Thaw, from Mattawan State Hospital, to some other asylum within the state. Among the affidavits is one by Dr. Amos T. Baker, first assistant physician at Mattawan. In answer to the charges of Mrs. Thaw that the confinement of her son at Mattawan is impairing his health, Dr. Baker says Thaw's surroundings in Mattawan are more congenial than they would be in a civil institution. To prove this, he gives in detail Thaw's daily routine in ward I, north, where he is a prisoner. The appeal probably will be argued Friday. Dr. Baker writes that since Thaw was committed to Mattawan he has gained 37 pounds in weight, is permitted to play cards with congenial companions, receives visitors, takes outdoor exercise, and read the best of literature, and is not compelled to associate with anyone who is not his equal intellectually and morally.

SEEMS TO BE HAVING A GOOD TIME

One of Mrs. Thaw's contentions was that her son is compelled to associate with patients who use vile language, and who often assault him. Dr. Baker says that these assertions are wholly unfounded, and that, on the contrary, the record of Thaw's past life, as brought out in the courts, would indicate that some of the patients might have good reason to object to associating with him. Daily Routine. According to Dr. Baker, Thaw's daily routine is as follows:—He is compelled to arise at 5.45 in the morning and is served with breakfast in a dining room adjacent to the ward at 8.15. He has a bath on Fridays, and of soap and bath on Fridays, and of meat and vegetables in season, dessert and coffee. After breakfast, Thaw usually spends from 7 until 11, at the patients' library, discharging his duties as custodian of the books. For three-quarters of an hour, he is at a table to read such newspapers and books as he chooses, and attends to his correspondence. From 11 a. m. until 12 he exercises in the court yard, when the weather permits. At 12.15 he goes to dinner, which usually consists of soup and fish on Fridays, and of meat and vegetables in season, dessert and coffee. After dinner, Thaw spends an hour in the library where he reads or writes, and attends to his duty as librarian. From 2 until 5 he is occupied in receiving visitors, in a private room, including his mother, his counsel or anyone wishing to see him. From 5 until 6 he spends his time in the library or exercising alone in a large airy corridor. Thaw's supper at 5.45 p. m., usually consists of soup, occasionally meat, fruit and vegetables, and tea. From 6 until 9 o'clock in the evening, Thaw spends his time in the ward. He is permitted to smoke cigars, which he furnishes himself. During these hours he usually engages in a game of cards known as "500", a game played by four persons. His constant partner is an accountant. This accountant is a man of education, and of some appearance and deportment in the hospital. The third patient is an insurance man of good education and deportment. The fourth man is a member of a highly respected family and has enjoyed unusual opportunities for studying in this country and abroad. After the card game Thaw retires at 9 o'clock. Near his room there is an experienced attendant constantly on duty during the night and available whenever Thaw wants him.

He will now have to return to the penitentiary. Mayor Nathan of Rome again was the subject of a short discussion before the city council today. The mayor's letter and a translation of his famous speech were submitted, but were not read although several aldermen wanted them read, some of the other members objecting to that course. Two Waitresses Seriously Injured and One Will Probably Die--Man Under Arrest.

Had Been Drinking Heavily and Was Ordered Out by Girls--Returned With Revolver. Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14.—Infuriated by drink, and by a fancied insult, James Shaw, a laborer aged 25, shot and seriously wounded two waitresses in the American restaurant, 233 King street East shortly before two o'clock today. The victims are Bessie Jones, aged 25, and Georgiana Carr, aged 16 years, and both are dangerously wounded. All three lived at the restaurant. No reason for the shooting can be given except that Shaw had for some time been drinking heavily, and that on Saturday night he had been ordered out of the restaurant by Georgiana Carr. He refused to go, so that the girls called for help from the police and had him ejected. For a week he had been rooming and boarding at the restaurant. This afternoon Shaw was idling at the rear of the dining room, near the stairs leading to the rooms above, one of which he occupied. He was standing in the passage leading to the kitchen, and the Jones girl requested him to move. "Go up stairs," she said, "you're in my way." "Who told you to talk that way to me?" he replied in great anger, and walked up to his room. Five minutes later he came down, and it was noticed that he had removed his overcoat which he had previously worn. He stood at the door where he was before and as the two waitresses passed him to have some orders filled, he shot them both. Two Shots Fired. The bullet passed through the Jones woman's shoulder and breast, while Miss Carr was dangerously shot in the lungs. Only the two shots were fired. The restaurant was filled with customers and in the excitement and confusion Shaw escaped to the street where he was captured by T. J. Magorney, a neighboring store-keeper. He was lodged in the cells on the charge of attempted murder. The injured girls were sent to the hospital where the Carr girl is said to be lying in a very precarious state. The Jones girl will recover. Both the injured girls are married, Georgiana Carr, who is a granddaughter of the proprietress of the restaurant, having been secretly married about a month ago.

ATTACK ON MAYOR NATHAN

Rome, Nov. 14.—Ex-Premier Pelloux submitted an interpellation to the government in the chamber of deputies today on Mayor Nathan's speech of Sept. 20 in which the mayor attacked the Pope and the methods of the church. He expressed the opinion that it was the government's duty to remove Nathan from office.
