CASSIE W. AND P. BORROWMORE MOOSEPATH WINNERS YESTERDAY

The races held yesterday afternoon at Moosepath under the auspices of the Driving Club drew the largest attendance of the season, and were very keenly contested. Two classes were on the card, the Free-for-all and Class B pace. In all eight heats were raced, and every heat was a horse race. The crowd, mainly of the money's worth and went away with a very favorable impression of the local talent in the horse racing line. It was one of those afternoons that kept the railbirds on their feet, and any horse's race until the wire was reached. The time in both classes was fast, and taken all through was a most creditable performance. Its this brand of racing that will keep up the interest, and it is to be hoped that the management will be able to announce as good a card for Saturday next.

The first class called was the Free-for-all. The line up was the signal for something doing very shortly, and everyone was ready for what might happen. Jas. Brickley was behind Jay Wilkes. Thos. Hayes as pilot for Pearl Borrowmore. Frank Mullin handled his big gelding Harry Fearless, while J. W. Alexander with the popular Victor B. broke into the free-for-all class and took the word.

Jay Wilkes had the pole going away; Victor B. second; Pearl third, and Harry Fearless the field. "Two was a horse race all the way, and a hard grind coming through the stretch, Pearl Borrowmore finishing the heat first, Victor B. second, Jay Wilkes third, and Harry Fearless fourth. After scoring a few times they were given the word for the second heat and all got away nice. The Harry Fearless horse broke early to mix matters, and another horse race all the way was the result, he winning the heat with Jay Wilkes second, Victor B. third and Harry Fearless fourth.

The fourth heat was full of steam also. The Harry Fearless fought his way to the front winning the heat with Victor B. second, Jay Wilkes third and Pearl fourth.

Things were on an edge now with another heat in sight and any horse's race. The fifth heat which was the fastest of the afternoon was captured by Pearl Borrowmore, Jay Wilkes second, Harry Fearless third, and Victor B. fourth.

The second race on the card, Class B pace, proved as interesting as the free-for-all, going to Geo. Latimer's.

HUGHIE RECEIVES A PRESENT

Hughie Pinkerton, the second sacker of the Marathon baseball team, was given a great surprise when he entered Black's Bowling Alleys last evening. There was a very large assembly of his friends present and on behalf of about 75 of his staunch friends Mayes Davis presented him with a popular hall player with a box of choice cigars and a handsome set of solid gold cuff links, suitably engraved. Hughie was taken by surprise and accepted the gift with a brief speech of thanks. In his remarks he expressed a desire to be able to be with his friends in St. John on the coming baseball season.

Pinkerton has been holding down the Greek's second sack for the past two seasons and is counted one of the fastest players in the league. He is not only a good ball player but is extremely popular with the fans all over the circuit.

MARATHONS CAPTURE SERIES; SEASON CLOSURES WITH FINE GAME

With the finishing of the series between the Marathons and the Fredrickton team yesterday afternoon the baseball season of 1913 came to a close and there was a large attendance of fans present to witness the closing game which proved about the best of the season.

The series of games between these two teams have been most interesting and were hard fought out, the Marathons winning five out of the seven. The game played Saturday afternoon was under considerable difficulties owing to the wet conditions of the grounds but these conditions appeared to only bother the Marathons who made thirteen hits off Condon's delivery which was enough to win the game, and Tarbell was found for nine, but despite the fact that the Greeks led in the hitting they were also to the front with no less than eight errors and in nearly every case these errors were responsible for scores. Fredrickton played an errorless game and it was with this silendead playing and with the great assistance of the Marathons errors which gave them the victory with a score of six to five.

There was a different tale to tell yesterday when the Marathons won the double header and romped through both the games without making a single error.

Morning Game.
Dutch Howard was the twirler for the Greeks in the morning game and the best that the Fredrickton hitters could get off him was eight safe ones. Morey was the hurler for the boys from the capital and he was pounded for no less than 15 safe ones and to help the Greeks in run getting the pitcher had three errors and teammates had three additional boots. The score finished eleven to two in favor of the Greeks.

Afternoon Game.
Perhaps there was never a better game played on the old North End grounds than that of the afternoon and it worked in as a grand windup of the season. It was a battle between Pitchers Conley for the Marathons and Dedrick for the Fredrickton team with the honors slightly in favor of Conley as he was hit for but six singles while the Fredrickton man was found for nine safe ones, two of them going for two bases each. There was but one error in the game and that was a bad throw by Dedrick in the fourth inning. It was nothing more than timely hitting that gave the Greeks the runs and while the Marathons made four scores they managed to shut out the Fredrickton team. There was a large crowd present and some sensational fielding was done in which all the players showed up well.

The following are the box scores of the three games:

All the articles were taken to the Lieberman's were taken to the Customs House to explain to Surveyor Henry.

REAL ESTATE.
A period of inactivity in real estate here has been of value in demonstrating actual values, and has shown conclusively that the faith of investors in local real estate was well founded. There are few sales in Canada which have stood the test so well. As matters of fact the prices of St. John property are about as good as elsewhere, below actual values, and the city should be one of the first to see the results of the revival of interest in real estate investments.

Among recent sales are several reported by Taylor & Sweeney. They include the purchase, by John E. McShane of West St. John, of a three story and basement, double fronted dwelling, 130 Elliott Row, formerly known as the Thomas Shaker property. The building is situated on a city leasehold lot and has a commodious carriage house in the rear. It sold by H. A. Black, of Boston, for $10,000. The building was recently purchased by John F. Moanahan of St. George's church only about a month ago.

Taylor & Sweeney also recently completed the sale of W. G. Dunlop, modern two family brick dwelling on Trehold lot in King street, to Philip Granahan. This property has since been transferred by Granahan to John McDonald, Jr., of Department of Good Roads, who is Granahan taking in exchange the E. Brook's property in Douglas avenue, which Mr. McDonald had recently bought.

Keith & Gates reported the sale of second new self contained dwellings erected on Fairville Plateau, to a local man who will occupy it. The owners of the property have been so satisfied with the demand for such property that they are preparing to commence immediately the erection of two more dwellings.

In addition to this, two other lots on Fairville Plateau have been purchased by local men, who intend to build homes for themselves.
