

THE FRENCH CAPTURE THE MASSIF OF LASSIGNY

MOST IMPORTANT ALLIED VICTORY OF THE PRESENT WEEK WON BY THE FRENCH ARMY

Latter Gains Control of Entire Massif of Lassigny on Southern End of the Picardy Battlefield, Thus Giving Allies Command of the Town of Lassigny and Valley of Divette As Well As the Entire District To the North—Other Important Gains.

London, Aug. 13.—By The Associated Press.—The French have gained control of the entire massif of Lassigny, on the southern end of the Picardy battlefield, according to advices this afternoon.

This gives command of the town of Lassigny and the valley of the Divette, as well as the entire district to the north.

(By The Associated Press.)

Allied forces this morning began a general attack against the German line running from Chaulnes south to the Oise river, a front of about twenty-five miles. Despatches filed at London shortly after noon reported important gains at various points, especially on the vital sector south of Lassigny, near the Oise.

The Lassigny massif, the steep slopes of which have been strongly defended by the Germans was taken by the French.

French Advance.

Further south, the French have advanced to the village of L'Econville, just south of the eastern extremity of the Thiescourt Wood and virtually on the crest of the hills overlooking long reaches of the Oise. Just to the west of L'Econville the French have made new progress north on the St. Claude Farm.

As an immediate result of the gains made in that sector, the Germans are abandoning their trenches in the bed of the Oise just west of the village of Bally, east of Ribecourt. It is said that the French have occupied these positions. North of Lassigny, in the region of Roye and along the railroad running northward to Chaulnes, there are, so far, no reports of progress.

If the Allies succeed in carrying the heights south of Lassigny they will force the enemy to retire from the Roye district, as they will have the Roye-Noyon road under their fire and will dominate the whole region with their artillery. The advance reported during the last few hours would, if continued, probably have an effect on the German position in the Ourscamp and Carlepont forests, east of the Oise.

Germans Outflanked.

If the Germans are outflanked by the Allied movements, a retirement from that district would be probable and this would necessitate a relocation of the line running from the Oise and the Aisne at Soissons. Thus the attack launched this morning would appear to have a direct relation to the battle being fought along the Aisne and Vesle by the Allies.

Late despatches tell of hard fighting at Plesmette, on the north bank of the Vesle between Soissons and Rheims. The Allies were forced from the village by the Germans and had to cross the Vesle, but an immediate counter-attack is reported to have restored the Allied position on the north side of the river.

From Chaulnes northward to the Ancre River the Allied position has been held up by the desperate German defense. There have been local engagements along this line, but at no point have the British and Americans engaged on this front succeeded in making any marked impression on the enemy lines, which are virtually resting on the old trench system held by the enemy in 1916.

Heavy Allied Attack.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The Allied forces in Picardy made a heavy attack today along the entire front from Chaulnes southward in a determined effort to break the resistance of the enemy.

The Allied artillery now has full control of the converging roads in and out of Noyon, near the southern end of the line, notably that running toward Ham, to the north. The difficulty of the enemy in carrying out a retrograde movement is thus markedly increased.

London, Aug. 13.—The French launched an attack this morning on the southern part of the Picardy battlefield, and according to reports shortly after noon were making progress in the valley of the Oise. The Germans are evacuating their trenches in the bend of the river west of Bally and the French are occupying them.

To the northwest the French are on the crest of the Lassigny massif, where heavy fighting was in progress.

The enemy's communication with Roye is under observed fire.

German Evacuation.

German troops are evacuating trenches in the river bed of the Oise, just west of Bally, according to news received here early this afternoon. The move has been forced by French pressure in the valley of the Oise.

Bally is a village situated on the east bank of the Oise, about a mile and three-quarters east of Ribecourt. It is near the southern end of Ourscamp.

K. OF P. ANNUAL DECORATION DAY WAS OBSERVED

Knights Paraded To Cemeteries Last Evening and Decorated Graves of Departed Brothers—Address By Past Supreme Prelate Moulson.

The annual memorial observance of the Knights of Pythias was held last evening. The knights assembled at Castle Hall and, headed by the Temple Band, left shortly after six o'clock and paraded through the principal streets en route to the cemeteries where the graves of departed brothers were decorated. Preceding the procession were two barouches filled with beautiful flowers. Unfortunately there was a slight fall of rain during the time of the parade and the attendance of knights was not as large as has been seen in previous years.

When the knights had assembled at Fernhill there was the singing of two hymns, a reading of the scripture by Past Chancellor E. E. Thomas and prayer by Past Supreme Prelate James E. Arthur.

The address by Past Supreme Prelate James Moulson was as follows: "Before addressing you I want to thank all who donated flowers and assisted in preparing for the service of the day. I also thank the Superintendent of Fernhill and those of other burial places for valuable services."

Once more you come to the City of Sleep, the hill to pay your tribute of respect to the memory of your brother Pythians who have passed on to the Great Beyond. The City of the Dead is one of the few places to which visitors are not attracted by idle curiosity. Those who come are prompted to do so because they have an undying love for some who sleep the sleep of death. Others are prompted by a kindly remembrance of their companions whose company they enjoyed as they moved over the great highway of life. They reached the end of the journey and now rest beneath the sod.

Because of the friendship that existed between you and those Pythians who have taken the final step in life's journey, you come here in the stillness of this evening hour when the hum of the wheels of industry are silent and your minds are free of the cares of the day, you come to renew your pledge to cherish their memory green in your hearts and to bestow your floral tributes.

It may be that as you moved from grave to grave placing beautiful flowers, your thoughts of those sleeping beneath were intensified, you recalled the pleasant hours spent with them, and how long some lingered on a dejected, and how suddenly, how unexpectedly others came to the end of their earthly career and as you pondered over these thoughts, you said what is life? and the answer came, "It is as the grass of the field. In the morning it springs up and in the evening it lies out down."

This life of uncertain duration is the period during which you should prepare for the life eternal. Today you are a living, active body, tomorrow you may be a lifeless, worthless frame, but what of the spirit or soul? Will it live or die? We are told that the soul that sinneth shall die. How will it be with yours? Ponder over these solemn questions, examine the character of your thoughts, of your conduct and decide whether they are leading. But I must not dwell longer on this line of thought.

At no time since the adoption of memorial day has the speaker had occasion to refer to the death of so many members of this order in Saint John as at the present. Since last we assembled here for a purpose similar to this evening we have lost a large number of our members. Some have finished life's journey and crossed over the river to the great majority. Some sick members are only waiting for the work or chord to break, they know that a little extra strain means farewell to the world, its business and pleasure, and the loved ones they will leave behind.

Surely this great number of deaths in one year must impress you with the need of being ready for the summons that will come to all. What of our Pythian companions?

Meanwhile Anglo-Americans operating astride the Somme linked up the positions north and south of the river and brought their line to western outskirts of Bray. Fresh British tanks continued to play an important part in the local operations especially in ironing out the enemy's wire along his old line but the battle is approaching a stage where the big guns are bringing about stabilization.

Poch can afford to wait as he did on the Marne after striking hard for three years unless Ludendorff can recover some ground which is far likely. Poch can sit tight and watch the enemy make a considerable withdrawal.

Rupprecht still has some fifteen divisions (nearly 200,000 men) in reserve and there are half a score more on other fronts. The Kemmel attack was nothing more than a vigorous attempt to improve a local position. As details of the battle arrive the part that the air-men are playing grows more important.

From every sector the enemy has withdrawn machines for use between Arras and Soissons and day and night struggles continue. The enemy is using a great number of light bombing planes and others which are the largest he had thus far employed. Casualties in the air fighting have broken all records, but largely because both sides have more machines in action than ever before.

EASTERN MENACE TO THE ENEMY NOW PROPOSED

The Allies Considering Formation of Army and Strong Front in Russia.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The possibility of an establishment of an eastern front that will be a serious menace, at least to the Germans, is being considered by officials here, it became known today in connection with the making public of the full text of the proclamation of the "supreme government of the northern territory." The signers of the proclamation are, with two exceptions, members of the constituent assembly, representing the provinces of Novgorod, Archangel, Vologda, Viatka, Kazan and Samara—a chain of provinces extending from the Arctic to the region of the Don Cossacks in the south.

The chain is in the form of a crescent, making a complete front of peoples strongly pro-Ally in sentiment and representing the best elements of the Russian population.

London, Aug. 13.—A marked change is taking place in German military policy, says the military correspondent of the Times. He believes that during the Allied victories of the last month, German strategy was clearly in a transitional stage from the ideas with which Ludendorff began the March offensive to ideas whose nature is not yet revealed and which can only be conjectured.

"The successful Allied raids on the Italian front," he continues, "are an example of the way these conjectures are being tested. The Germans are strengthening the Italian front with a view to an autumn offensive, or is there a backward movement on the Italian front and what is its explanation? Doubtless these raids have enabled the Allied staff to answer these and other questions."

who went overseas. We have been glad to welcome some of them back and pleased to have them with us today, they were invalided home but they did not regain their strength, beautiful flowers mark their resting place today. Others sleep beneath the sod of a foreign but friendly land and others are fighting the foe; may they come back to us and the loved ones who anxiously waiting for them at home.

And now I must close, may the ceremony of today create thoughts that will influence you for good during the busy hours of business and the evenings of pleasure and help you when the tempter's power would draw you into his alluring snares.

It is hoped that during the coming year none will be taken by the great reaper, death, but should any be called may their hands be filled with deeds of charity, the golden keys that open the gates of eternity.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in reality due to acidity of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a glass of water, or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt.

This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-acid such as bisulphate of magnesia can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphate of Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

Kink in the Back

You bend over and can scarcely get straightened up again. This comes on you so suddenly you can't understand it.

This is lumbago. Like backache and rheumatism, it is the result of poisons in the blood. The kidneys are deranged, but the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will soon set them right. The pains and aches will disappear with the poisons when the kidneys do their work properly.

Get a Remington UMC 6-shot Pump Gun

When it's your turn at the traps, or at the ducks, you want to know that your gun will get you anything a shot charge will reach. That means the old reliable Remington UMC hammerless "Pump"—as thousands of shooters will tell you.

Many points of superiority—a solid metal breech, to protect you from possible blow backs, etc.; metal enclosed, fast working, dust free action; safety device; loading and ejection at the bottom and 6 fast shots.

Nitro Club and Arrow Shells. The steel lining grips all the force of the power behind the shot, where it belongs, making an exceptionally fast shell with a splendid pattern. By an exclusive process these shells are absolutely waterproof and exceptionally strong, and the rings and top web—where most shells are weakest.

QUESTIONS OF CONCERN TO THE COAL DEALERS

Anthracite Men Met Provincial Fuel Administrator Yesterday—Important Letter From C. A. McGrath Read—Soft Coal Men Meet Today.

A meeting was called yesterday of the coal dealers, largely composed of the anthracite men. Today at 4 p. m. a meeting will be held of those engaged in the soft coal business to discuss questions of much concern to them.

An Order in Council has been passed which is submitted and speaks for itself. It is embodied in a letter sent to J. H. Frink, Fuel Administrator for the province.

Ottawa, Ont., August 8th, 1918. From C. A. McGrath. To J. H. Frink.

Provincial Fuel Administrator. Dear Sir: Under authority vested in me by Order-in-Council of July 27th, 1918, P. C. 1708, I beg to notify you that the maximum gross margin for the City of St. John, N. B. on Anthracite coal, prepared sizes larger than No. 12, is to be $2.60 per net ton of 2,000 pounds.

On Bituminous coal, prepared sizes and run of mine, the gross margin is to be $2.40 per net ton of 2,000 pounds.

By gross margin is meant the difference in the cost of the coal to the dealer discharged or unloaded from boats at St. John or f. o. b. cars, and the retail selling price of such coal delivered in loads of one ton or thereabouts under the conditions of delivery which prevail in your city.

This maximum gross margin does not include demurrage, wharfage fees, harbour dues, if any, cost of discharging or unloading from boats, water freights or marine insurance, but includes unloading from cars, exchange on American funds, cost of handling, wheeling or carting, if any, from dock to dealers' bins or yards, delivery fees for weighing on city scales, if any, and any other charges not specifically excluded.

These maximum gross margins are to go into effect on the 12th day of August, and I would ask you to notify the dealers in your city by registered letter of such maximum gross margins, and to send copies of such letters to me.

This gross margin does not include the maximum profit allowed in the coal regulations already published of fifty a ton to the retailers.
