RED 'N' BLACK ON THE BRINK OF FOLDING!!!

Tuesday night saw eight members of the Red and Black Review production staff in an explosive meeting, as they faced the fact that there may be no show this year. There have been fifteen years of the annual variety show . . . this may or may not be the sixteenth.

Director Dave Wilson said that everything possible had been done to get people interested and working, but with three weeks to showtime he has less than half the material needed to put on a show.

Not one of the men's residences have come forth with a skit, nor have any of the faculties shown any desire to participate. Murray House and the Student Wives are the only people with full stage skits so far. The committee members pointed out the ironic fact that only the girls seem interested enough in the review to do any work. Everyone is disinterested or "too busy." The student wives have plenty to keep them busy, but are willing to take time off to add spirit to the campus. And most of them aren't even UNB students themselves.

The proceeds for the Red and Black have always gone to the Senior Class for graduation expenses and receptions. Unless there is a rapid revival of interest, this means of support will be absent this year.

Come on, people. The Red and Black has been the highlight of the fall term. If we pitch in and help, there will be a show this year. If we don't, the tradition of fifteen years . . . and a lot of fun . . . will go right out the window.

Director Wilson says that to produce the show, he has to have immediate volunteers for the following acts:

Thirty Chorus Members—Ability to sing is a negligible factor, both men and women required.

A Dozen Skits—Anyone who can clown around and amuse an audience, the more people in it the better. And almost any group of people can blow up an idea into a skit in a brainstorming session.

Three weeks is a short time. If you want to help . . . in any way . . . telephone Dave Wilson at either GR 5-4527 or GR 5-8522, or telephone Pete Cale at Jones House, GR 5-5576. Come along to the audition this Sunday at 2:00 p.m. in Mem. Hall.

Let's see if your faculty, organization, or club has any UNB spirit. A few minutes work, and you COULD have an act in the Red and Black. If you don't, there will be no show. And a comment by a Red and Black committee member might turn out to be true. He said, "This would never happen at Mount 'A'".
