

Any manner of Interruption from each other. The reason that we desired you to come here is this, that you as well as we might be mindfull of this Covenant and that we by seeing one another and smoking a Pipe together, might have the stronger Impression on our Minds of what has formerly been Transacted between us and that the said Covenant may be kept inviolable for ever not only between us but our Children after us, as a token that it shall be so on our side we give this belt and expect the same Engagements from you at this time

It has been agreed between our forefathers that if any mischance should happen between any of our people that it should be amicably settled. Our Indians of the five Nations has lost his life amongst us, which we have made up with them and wiped their Tears from their Eyes, which was also part of our business here.

You told us yesterday that this is the place of Treaty where the fire does and always shall burn as a token that we take it for such we give this Belt

Brothers you told us also that our forefathers had made an inviolable Covenant together and that you had thought fit to renew that Covenant for which we thank you and are rejoiced at the wisdom you have expressed in your speech to us, you gave us a Belt whereby we are linked together in such a manner that we can never be separated, but also are remains joined firm to each other and we the Saginawages, Schawenede and Brondax in the name of all the Indians belonging to

Canada, in the presence of the five Nations give this Belt as a token that we will for ever observe this Treaty and Covenant inviolable, what we now say proceeds from the bottom of our hearts and not from the Lips only

It is now seven years since we met together, we now wipe of the Tears from the Eyes of all of us, which may be occasioned by the death of all that have died since our last meeting

give a Belt

We have yet nothing to say that you should take care of the Ball as I propose, there are already a great many People killed there by means of the Rum and by other means, wherefore we desire you will take care that no such things may happen for the future.

The Commissioners Answered

Brothers We are glad to hear you speak such good words we expect and doubt not but you will perform your Engagements on your Part, as we shall do on our parts. We also wipe of the Tears from the Eyes of any us that may be occasioned by any thing that may have happened since our last meeting

give a Belt

As to what you say of swine, we will take care that our Traders do not harm them and will recommend the same to the six Nations give a Belt
