

28. The Canadian Government makes grants to assist the International Civil Aviation Organization in defraying the costs of accommodation. It also reimburses the Organization for compensation paid by ICAO to its Canadian employees for Quebec income tax. The sums expended for these purposes are not included in the statistics.

29. Assessment for membership in the International Telecommunication Union for 1945-46 and 1946-47 was estimated at $2,800 annually on the basis of the 1947-48 assessment.

30. The World Intellectual Property Organization was granted Specialized Agency status in 1974.

31. These figures include the operational budget.

32. This sum includes $62,000 for a gift of uranium to the International Atomic Energy Agency, $24,000 to the IAEA Fellowship Fund, and $3,000 for UNESCO office furnishings.

33. This amount is supplementary assistance to Specialized Agencies from CIDA.

34. This consisted of an annual grant of $27,000, plus a special grant of $2,500 for the annual meeting.