

CONTENTS.

13

PART III.

THE ORGANS OF GENERATION.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE HUMAN PELVIS.

Structure of the Pelvis—Natural Form and Dimensions—How the Womb Is Supported—Separation of Bones During Childbirth—The Womb the Most Sensitive Part of the Body—The Ovaries—Where Situated—Relation of Ovaries to the Human System—When Conception Takes Place—Vital Point of the Egg—Development of the Embryo—Growth of the Vital Organs—The Sex of the Child—The Placenta—The Umbilical Cord—The Breasts—First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Stages of Embryonic Development—Fœtal Circulation—How the Unborn Child Is Nourished.....71

CHAPTER IX.

MENSTRUATION.

A Subject of Great Importance—Every Living Thing Comes from an Egg—Vegetable and Animal Kingdom Compared—The Seat of Life—Origin of Germ—Semen—Fluid of the Male—Duration of the Monthly Periods—Cessation of Menses—Reception of the Ovum by the Uterus—Result of Impregnation—Evils of Too Early Marriages—Duties During Menstruation—When Menstruation Commences—Symptoms of Menstruation—Nature of the Menstrual Discharge—Menstrual Irregularities—Poverty of the Blood—Effects of Dissipation—Suppression of the Menses—An Inordinate Flow—Painful Menstruation—Nervous Symptoms—Suppressed by Pregnancy—Effects of Nursing—Mission of Woman.....90

CHAPTER X.

PREGNANCY.

The Eight Symptoms of Pregnancy—Cessation of the Menses—Order of Growth—Rapid Changes of Germ—Formation of Bone and Muscle—Morning Sickness—Pains in the Breast—Quickening—Emaciation—Irritability of the Bladder—Increase in Size—Morbid Longings—Heart Burn—Flatulence—Sleeplessness—Proper Dress—Air and Exercise—Drinking Water—What to Eat—Benefits of Rest—Ventilation and Drainage—Disinfectants—Effects of False Training....103

CHAPTER XI.

DISCOMFORTS OF PREGNANCY AND HOW OVERCOME.

A Word to Husbands—Mental Worries—Moroseness—Pains in the Abdomen—Diarrhoea—Fidgets—Gas in the Stomach—Piles—Swollen Legs—Stretching of the Skin of the Abdomen—Toothache—Hardening of Nipples—Fainting—Palpitation of the Heart—Cramps—Leucorrhoea or "Whites"—Itching of the External Parts—Thrush of the Vagina—False Labor Pains—Period of Gestation—A Pregnancy Table111