Those we love truly never die,
Though year by year the sad memorial

A ring and flowers, types of life and

Are laid upon their graves, For death the pure life saves:
And life all pure is love; and love can reach
From heaven to earth, and nobler lesson

Than those by mortals read,

Well blest is he who has a dear one dead; A friend he has, whose face will never change,
A dear communion that will not grow

The anchor of a love is death.

Thank God for one dead friend, With face still radiant with the light of Whose love comes laden with the scent of youth,

Through twenty years of death. -John Boyle O'Reilly.

The injured on the New York are: Seaman Samuel Feltman, seriously: Seaman Michael Murphy. Two other enlisted men, slightly injured.

All the above-named were injured by the bursting of a shell on the New York. The American ships were uninjured. The after turret of the Amphitrite got out of order Emporarily curing the engagement, but she banged away with her forward guns. At 3 o'clock in the morning all hands were called on the Iowa, a few final touches in clearing ship were made, and at five "general quarters" sounded. LORETTO ACADEMY, GUELPH.

The May Festival a Notable Success.

The May Festival given by the pupils of Loretto Academy on Tuesday evening, May 10, in honor of His Lordship Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton, was a delightful entertainment and gave unstinted pleasure to a very large audience. The festival was held in the lecture hall of the Church of Our Lady, and the audience, despite the unfavorable weather, packed the spacious room, late comers being unable to secure seats. There were over one thousand present, comprising the parents and friends of the pupils and a large number of invited guests from among the citzens. Such an attendance on such a night local edge and the strength of the pupils and a large number of interest of the property of the spring the parents and friends of the pupils and artistic work, which has been reflected in the charming entertainments they have given the citizens of Guelby year by year.

The programme was gay with the music of the springtime and fragrant with the breath of flowers. The choruses numbered some fifty to sixty voices, and they were well supported by a small, but first-class, orchestra. The concerted numbers, always a marked feature at Loretto, showed to excellent effect, while the pretty cantata was one of the brightest and most beautiful things the Ladies of Loretto and their clever pupils have yet given us. Mrs. Martin-Murphy's solo was a gem, the like of which Guelph people have rarely heard. The music throughout was high class, and was all well rendered. The programme in full is as follows:

all the numbers, the choruses as well showing, by their shading and finish, the pains taken in this respect.

The recitation by the juniors, "The Wind and the Moon," was bright and amusing, her ladyship moving off in a very dignified way in the face of the bluster and blow. The tambourine drill, with the handsome red dresses and turbans, the intertwining marches, theregular movements and the tambourine droiting, and the tambourine droiting of the junior numbers; it was expitally carried out. Miss Marie Schmuck's recitation, "The Three Copecs," was a pleasing variation. The Raven's the seniors—"Story of Some Bells"—was given in almost perfect unison of voice and movement, the expression in this and in "The Raven's (pantomine) being very effective; in the latter Miss Kloepfer's black against the background of white forms ande a suitable setting to a weird conception, and her recital was in keeping with the spirit of the piece.

Mrs. Martin-Mirphy's sole, "Lo! Here the Gentle Lark," with flue obligato by Mr, D. A. Anderson, was most enthusastically encored, it was a revolation of the possibilities of the human voice and of how closely it may be attuned to the music of nature. The flute like notes of the singer chorused perfectly with the skilful accompaniment. The selection was a rich treat. Mrs. Martin-Murphy has not often been heard by Guelph people, but she has quickly won her way to a high position in their treat, and the control and she is certainly one of the fluest voice is rich, tuneful, expressive, and under caultal, control, and she is certainly one of the fluest voice is rich, tuneful, expressive, and under caultal, control, and she is certainly one of the fluest voice.

The Bishop was present at the closing of the forty Hours adoration in Dundas on the first unday in May. In the evening of the same lay he went to St. Patrick's, where the Forty dours devotion was about to close. Father frogan, of St. Patrick's church, Toronto, preached the closing sermon. Much sympathy is felt for the Rev. P. Corcoran and Rev. G. R. Northgraves, editor of the CATHOLIC RECORD, who was temporarily residing with him. Both rev. gentlemen had extensive and valuable libraries, of which only a few books were saved.

The priest's residence and chapel were insured, but on the rest of the property destroyed there was no insurance. The total loss is estimated at about $5,000.

It is already under consideration to erect a new priest's residence in the parish. We hope the new building will be in keeping with the very handsome parish church of La Salette.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but as the Michigan Central Railway is near by, it may have been caused by a spark from a passing engine.

NEW BOOKS.

One of the most practical books that we have for a long time read is "A Guide for Girls in the Journey of Life," and if those for whom it is especially written would but follow the sound advice given therein countless shipwrecks will be avoided. After the final chorus, Bishop Dowling rose and expressed in fitting and cordial words his gratitude for the welcome they had given him and for the entertainment they had provided. The children were the fairest flowers of his flock. He spoke of the love and honor paid by Our Lord to little children, in return for which He asked their love. He touched briefly on his visit five years ago to the stable in Jerusalem where Christ was born, and the tomb where the was laid away. They would look back with pleasure in after life to their school days. He besought for them a holiday next day in honor of the visit of their chief matter. The National Anthem brought to a close a most pleasing evening's entertainment which reflected much credit on the Ladies of Loreston, Miss Wagner, accompanis and others who took part in its preparation and rendition. Anderson's orchestra from Hamilton, the pieces, was a valuable aid in the accompaniments and choruses.

The locution classes prepared their concert tirely new in Catholic juvenile literature. The stories are very exciting, full of interest, perfectly pure, Catholic in tone, teaching courage, honesty, and fidelity. In the present volume Jack Hildreth goes west, meets the young Indian Winnetou under tragic circumstances, is captured by him, and sentenced to die by torture. How he escapes through his own daring deeds, is adopted as a chief of the Apaches, a brother of Winnetou, how the young white man and the young red man become as true friends as Damon and Pythias, is shown through chapters of breathless interest. The volume is very handsomely issued with colored design on cover, and sells at 85 cents. "The Treasure of Nugget Mountain," by Marion Ames Taggaret, is the second volume of "Jack Hildreth among the Indians" series, published by Benziger Bros. It is a story of thrilling interest and hairbreadth escapes, and when once the book is started the reader will find it difficult to put it away until completed. The climax is reached when the fine young Apache Winnetou has learned from his white friend Jack Hildreth, the beauty of mercy and love, and gradually absorbing the true faith, till at has he lies dead in his friend's arms, baptized by his hand. This incident, beautifully depicted, gives to the story the desired touch of pathos, beauty, and religion that removes the book completely from the class of of merely exciting adventures. Handsomely issued, with colored cover design. Price 85 cents.

People who read from week to week of the marveilous cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills little think that right in their midst exist many who have been relieved from pain and suffering by the use of these wonderful little pills after having suffered untoid agonies for months.

Mr. John Hitch, a man well and favorably known throughout the county, was ever ready when opportunity offered to speak a word in praise of these pills and was never tired of recommending them to his friends. A representative of the Standard, anxious to know of the cause of Mr. Hitch's recommendation, called upon him at his homey recently and upon telling that gentleman the object of his visit Mr. Hitch consented to an interview. The story in his own words is as follows:—" In the winter of 1891 I was taken with a severe attack of la grippe, from which I was confined to the house for some time. This was followed by severe pains and swellings of my lower limbs. I consulted a physician and he told me it was acute rheumatism. I continued under his care for about two months. The last week I was attended by a physician toost me 55 and having about that time read in the newspapers of the work accomplished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I concluded it was certainly worth the experiment and accordingly purchased a box from a local druggist, and commenced their use, discontinuing the doctor's medicine. By special arrangement, with the publishers we are able to obtain a number of the above books, and propose to furnish a copy to each of our subscribers.

The Dictionary is a necessity in every home, school and business house. It fills a vacancy and furnishes knowledge which no one hundred other volumes of the choicest books could surply. Young and old, educated and ignorant, rich and poor, should have it within reach, and refer to its contents every day in the year.

As some have asked if this is really the Original Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, we are able to state that we have learned direct from the publishers the fact that this is the very work complete, on which about 40 of the best years of the author's life were so well employed in writing. It contains the entire vocabulary of about 100,000 words, including the correct spelling, derivation and definition of same, and is the regular standard size, containing about 300,000 square inches of printed surface, and is bound in cloth.

A while library in itself. The regular selling 300,000 square inches of printed surface, and is bound in cloth. A whole library in itself. The regular selling price of Webster's Dictionary has heretofore

MUSKOKA LAKES

MUSKOKA LAKES
In the Highlands of Ontario
The Muskoka region, with its many hundreds of lakes and streams, is undoubtedly the best place on the continent for Fishing, shooting. Camping. The fishing, consisting of brook or and salmon trout, black bass, maskalongs and pickerel, is unceutadd, parridge furfled grousel about and salmon are plentiful. As a health resort it cannot be surpassed. These lakes are among the highest on the continent, being about 500 feet above Lake Huron, and 138 feet above Lake Superior. There can be no Hay Fever in so pure an atmosphere. A glance at our man will show how easy of access they are, and the fine equipment of The Grand Trunk Railway and the Muskoka Steamers ensures comfort in the highest degree.

Grand Trunk Railway and the Muskoka Steamers ensures comfort in the highest degree.
One of the most noteworthy characteristics of this region is the entire freedom from Hay Fever experienced even by the most acute sufferers from this malady. This is due to many causes—its great elevation above the level of Lake Ontario, the balsamic odor of the surrounding forests of time, cedar and baisam, and freedom from damp owing to the rocky nature of the country. Write for an illustrated copy of extract from "Outing" regarding this region, to M. C. Dickson, D. P. A., Toronto.
