The collar presents the new fashion in neck finishes, cut deep and round and in neck finishes, cut deep and found and inlaid with velvet or satin. Crown cuffs on full length sleeves correspond with the collar; the belt may be of material of the collar; the belt may be of material of the collar; the belt may be of material or a leather belt.

double breasted effect is gained by arranging the buttons as shown and where a backward turning plait is introduced with effect.

For every day zibeline, corduror, cheviot and like weaves are desirable. For a Sunday coat, the appreciation and enthusiasm of the girl will run high if the model is developed in velvet, with raccoon fur for the collar; velour and broad-cloth also are excellent materials. A serviceable and stylish coat may be developed from the pattern without difficulty.
