Loomer's Small Pox and Fever Cure

The Cornwallis correspondent to the St. John Star says: "The death of Alice, daughter of Isaac Blenkhorn, occurred on Oct. 28th from heart disease. The deceased was nursed from the home of her brother, Joshua Blenkhorn, on the North Mountain, and was found between the house and barn lying on the ground lifeless."

Mr. G. H. Vroom, apple inspector for the province, has visited many packing houses in the Valley, and finds many cases of incomplete marking of apples, and a few cases of fraudulent packing. All cases have to be reported to the department at Ottawa. On Monday Mr. Vroom went to Halifax, where he visited the commission houses. Yesterday he returned, having visited Canning on the return trip.—Outlook.

is a sure cure for Small Pox. $1.00

On Wednesday there was an unusual demonstration of sorrow at the railway station. An Armenian woman received the news of the death of her daughter in Halifax. The poor woman besmeared her face with some black substance, took down her hair and arranged her wardrobe according to her idea of what the occasion demanded, and while waiting for the train attracted the attention of all by her demonstration of sorrow.—Out-

The death of Miss Maggie Jordan, daughter of Capt. Wm. Jordan, occurred at her home in Maitland on Oct. 29th. The South Maitland correspondent to the Windsor Tribune says: "The deceased was a niece of Mrs. Gavin L. Stairs, Selma; Mrs.
C. P. McDougall, Maitland, and a cousin of Leslie Cox, at present a student at the Truro Academy. She was intimately friendly through her aunt, Mrs. G. L. Stairs, with the family of John F. Stairs, Halifax, the late Conservative candidate in this county, and Herbert Stairs, of Hill-ton, Kings Co., and, previous to taking up her studies at Maitland, had spent a most pleasant visit in the Cornwallis Valley with the latter."

Mrs. Jos. E. Whitford of Chester arrived in Gaspareaux last Wednesday to visit her daughter, Mrs.
(Rev.) J. D. Spidell. She was not well, and while there grew worse and died on Sunday morning. She was 51 years of age and leaves a husband, two daughters and two sons. Funeral services were held at the parsonage on Tuesday morning conducted by Rev. H. R. Hatch

By an oversight the name of the writer of a "Trip to Buffalo," begun in Tuesday's issue, did not appear in the article. The writer is Mrs. W. H. Belcher, Upper Can-ard, who, with Lieut-Col. Belcher and others visited the Pan American a month ago. The article gives our readers a good idea of the pleasures of a trip and the glories of the Exposition. It will be concluded on Tuesday.

B. Lynch piano tuner will visit Kentville, Wolfville and vicinity on or about Nov. 1st.

The missionary concert at Port Williams was a decided success.
All did their parts so well that it would not do to particularize any.
The exercise by ten little girls, five carrying wax candles representing Christian countries, and five unlighted representing heathen was perhaps the most interesting. As the little ones recited alternately, the little one with lighted candle would step forward and light her neighbors. The whole music by choir and children was excellent.
A solo by Miss Masters was much enjoyed.

Wanted a girl for general housework, apply to Mrs. J. P. Chipman.
