WERE SUCCESSFUL

The names of the successful students at the Normal and Kindergarten examinations in the province were published in to-day's Globe. Chatham was well represented. Miss Tena Houston, Miss Florence Nichol and Miss Hattie Broad all got their Normal certificates, which entitle them to teach for life. In the Kindergarten examinations, three from Chatham passed, all pupils of Miss Victoria Aylesworth. Miss Rose Morrison and Miss Vida Farquharson succeeded in passing the examination for assistant Kindergarten teachers. Miss Helen McTaggart passed the senior examination, and is now qualified as director of a Kindergarten.

THE MARKETS

IN THE LIBRARY.

Speak low! tread softly through these halls;

Here Genius lives enshrined;

Here reign, in silent majesty

The monarchs of the mind.

A mighty spirit host they come

From every age and clime;

Above the buried wrecks of years

They breathe the tide of Time.

And in their presence chamber here

They live their regal state,

And round them throng a noble train

The gifted and the great.

O child of Earth! when round thy path

The storms of life arise,

And when thy brothers pass thee by

With stern, unloving eyes,

Here shall the poets chant for thee

Be thou companion here;

And in the mighty realm of mind

Thou shalt go forth a peer!

BIG FIELD

Many Entries are Gazetted for the Derby Stake in the International Field Trials.

The entries for the International field trials derby, have closed with 23 nominations, 17 of which are English setters, one Irish setter and five pointers.

The judges selected are J. W. Baugh, of Ridgeville, Ind., and Thos. Guttridge, of this city. Both men are well and favorably known in field trial matters, having judged frequently, and having always given good satisfaction. The club is to be congratulated on securing the services of two such capable sportsmen to judge their field trials.

The trials will again be held at St. Joachim, where Miss Host Vick Chauvin has two thousand acres under reserve, no shooting on this grounds being allowed until after the trials.

The entries for the all aged stake close November first.

The trials will begin with the Derby on Tuesday November 11th.

Mrs. Wm. Sumley and daughter May are visiting relatives in St. Thomas.

Mrs. E. Jacobs has returned from a visit with her parents in Sombra.

MUSICAL KINDERGARTEN

This important branch of musical instruction has been thoroughly studied by Miss Margaret Houston, who has secured teaching privileges from Miss Katherine Burrows, of Detroit, Michigan, the inventor of the Burrows Musical Kindergarten Method.

This method breaks down all the difficulties of elementary study, eliminates all its dullness and drudgery, and makes the lesson a pleasure to the teacher, and a delightful recreation to the pupil.

Miss Houston's experience with child pupils combined with this very attractive system assures a degree of success which has heretofore been unobtainable.

Classes will be formed on Sept. 8th, 1902, at residence of Mrs. D. D. McNaughton, Pitt street.

Applications may be made to Box 2, city.

Hardship and privations do not improve the temper, and insubordination easily supervenes, while the temptation of drink, if it is to be had, is too often irresistible to weak but well meaning men long deprived of such dissipation.

Another fruitful source of transgression which, if we are to trust vague reports, became at times epidemic was the almost natural surrender to physical exhaustion, says Major Arthur Griffiths in The Fortnightly Review. To sleep on sentry is one of the most serious of military crimes. It is inexcusable from the military point of view, for the safety of thousands may hang upon the vigilance of one man, yet the strain of some wearisome, long protracted march or fatiguing operations will sometimes explain what cannot be defended.

Nor can we shut our eyes to possible guilt of a more contemptible, if not more flagrant kind. Misbehavior before the enemy—cowardice, in plain English—is not absolutely unknown in our or any other army. It is wiser, perhaps, to draw a veil over its exhibition and the punishment that must follow, yet we cannot shut our eyes to the certainty of its occasional occurrence.

The Divinity of Justice.

The one divine work, the one ordered sacrifice, is to do justice, and it is the last we are ever inclined to do. Anything rather than that; as much charity as you choose, but no justice. "Nay," you will say, "charity is greater than justice." Yes, it is greater; but the pursuit of justice; it is the temple of which justice is the foundation. But you can't have the top without the bottom; you cannot build upon charity.

You must build upon justice for the main reason—that you have not at first charity to build with. It is the last reward of good work. Do justice to your brother—you can do that whether you love him or not—and you will come to love him. It is all very fine to think you can build upon charity to begin with, but you will find all you have got to begin with begins at home and is essentially love of yourself.

The Thoughtful Stork.

On a tree close to a house, within a short distance of the river or canal, there was a stork's nest, with young ones. The roof of the house caught fire one day, and, though the flames did not actually reach the tree, the heat became scorching. So the mother stork flew down to the water, got into it and drenched her breast; then, returning to her young, she spread the mass of cool, wet feathers all over them. She repeated over and over again, flying to the river, going down into the water and returning, her plumage drenched with wet. And thus the nest was saved, and the tender nestlings were preserved alive until the fire had been got under and all was safe. The truth of this remarkable story was vouched for by more than one eyewitness.

Hard on the Parson.

The village clergyman went away for his holiday, and a neighbor took his Sunday duty.

After the substitute had preached his first sermon he remarked to the clerk in the vestry:

"I am sorry, John, that I gave you such a short discourse, but the reason is that the dog got into my study and tore up several leaves of my sermon."

The clerk gazed wistfully upon the speaker and said:

"Oh, sir, do you think you could spare our parson a pup?"

What Weeping Means.

Tears are the central nervous system, under which there is such a change in the vascular terminals of the tear-secreting glands that the excretion of water from the glands is profuse. Some excretion is always in progress in order that the surface of the eye may be lavaged and cleared of foreign matters which may come in contact with it, but the controlling center is at a distance.

Better Than a Sermon.

Mammy—let's cuttin' his eyetooth! If de chile ain't cuttin' his eyetooth!

Little Rastus (in alarm)—What's an eyetooth, mammy?

Mammy—Why, de eyetooth, chile, watches ebery word dat yo' tongue utters, an' ebery time yo' says a bad word it'll pain dat good eyetooth so much dat it'll ache fo' two houn'—Puck.

The Norway Oath.

Probably the most curious European oath is administered in Norway. The witness raises his thumb, his forefinger and his middle finger. These signify "trinity," while the larger of the up-lifted fingers is supposed to represent the soul of the witness and the smaller to indicate his body.

Mean.

He—I am really surprised at Dr. White. After being our family doctor for years and treating me for all sorts of things, and to think of all the money we've paid him!

She—What has he done?

He—He wouldn't pass me for the life insurance company!

The Captive.

"They tell me Maude Burlocks is going to be married."

"You're misinformed. Miss Burlocks is going to marry the man who is going to be married. Your difficulty is that you don't know Miss Burlocks."

Bound to Explain It.

"Say, pa," asked Willie sweetly, "what does a chopping shop chop?"

"I guess," answered his father thoughtfully, "it must be the seaboard."—Philadelphia Record.

Pickles

We have two snaps in pickles to offer you, one is a genuine English Pickle, and the other a Canadian. The English pickle we offer you at 20c a bottle. It is a winner, large bottle and as pretty a pickle as you want to look at. The vinegar on these pickles is the genuine English Malt Vinegar. Come in and we will show you this pickle at 20c a bottle.

The other pickle at 10c a bottle is a Canadian made pickle, and in appearance and quality you would say it was cheap at 15c a bottle. This pickle we are going to run off at 10c a bottle; so if you want a bottle or so come quick, as they are can't last long at this very low price, 10c bottle.
