Miss Edith Barassin sang a solo, "The Lost Chord," in Christ Church last evening. Miss Barassin has a pretty soprano voice and her singing last evening was much appreciated.

Mr. Thomas, travelling secretary for the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, addressed the congregation of Christ Church last evening. His remarks were based on the work of the order and much interest was created in the society.

Wm. Henry Clements, of Dover, has received his commission as District Chief Ranger for this district, which includes Sarnia, Petrolea, Chatham and Dover, from the High Court, A. O. F. The first district meeting under the district representation plan takes place on the second Tuesday in February. Court Unity, A. O. F., of this city, will elect their delegates to that meeting on Wednesday evening next.

THE MEANING OF MANHOOD

Rev. F. E. Mallot Gives Some Excellent Advice to Young Men

Church Was Crowded Last Evening -Excellent Music Rendered by the Choir

Another large congregation assembled last evening at Victoria Ave. Methodist Church to hear Rev. F. E Malott's sermon on "The Meaning of Manhood." Mr. Malott's text was Gen. 42, 11,-"We are true men." The men who uttered these words were not true men. They based their claim on their innocence of one fault, To be a true man involves more than freedom from one or two vices. If the moralists of the ages are to be trusted it means something to be a true man, and true men in the full sense of the term have been and are still none too plentiful. "Manhood," said the speaker, "may be defined in terms of body, mind or spirit." A true man is a verile man. A man who has his physical powers intact. A man who has shunned debasing and debilitating vices. a man, moreover, who has some de gree of mental maturity. No man can be called a true man until he has outgrown childhood mentally But the supreme test of manhood is spiritual test. What kind of spirit is in him, is the great question to be asked about a man. The speaker re ferred to the concensus of opinio among the great thinkers of the centuries on this subject of what constitutes a man and named four qual-

ties that go to make a true man ood. These are 1-Courage. 2-Purity

3-Honor 4-Faith. Each of these qualities was aptly illustrated from literature and history. The application was made practical by a reference to the life of to-day that men are called to live.

In closing Mr. Malott urged the boys and young men to study the lofty characters of the ages, but especially to study the character of the Divine Man, who alone was with-out fault and embodied in His char-acter all the virtues. As Robert out raunt and embodied in this char-acter all the virtues. As Robert Browning has put it, "The acknowl-edgment of God in Christ accepted by thy reason solves for thee all questions in the earth and out of it."

The only advants solution of this The only adequate solution of this question of manhood is that which is fuirnished by faith in Ohrist. As an eminent man once put it, "I found I could not be a true man until I became a man in Christ." The music at this service was ver fine. In addition to the anthem by the choir, which was well rendered a sagred orchestral number was given by Messrs, Side, Morrison and Wrigley, and a duett by Miss Lou Jackson and Mr. H. D. Smith, which was especially pleasing.

VENETIAN FOOTBALL.

How the Game Was Played In Ven-ice Several Centuries Ago. A book published at Venice in 1555 by Antonio Scaine relates methods of play in a real football that was actually called by the same name. The field "was so large that no one, however strong, could quite throw a stone from one end to the other," and it was about half as wide. Twenty, thirty or forty persons could participate on a side, the imber being regulated by the size of the available field. Goals were set up at either end. No one was permitted to strike the ball with the outstretched arm or with anything he might carry in his hand. Nevertheless he was permitted to "strike the ball with whatever part of his body that he pleased. If the ball came rolling toward him he was allowed to kick it, the inference being that if it were lying still he could not do so. The field was divided by a transverse line "into two equal parts, and in the middle lay the ball. The players were chosen, those who were going to make up the opposing parties, by means of colors, by which parties, by means or colors, by which, in the struggle of the contest, each could recognize his own side. When the signal was given by the roll of the drum or the blast of a trumpet a player rushed forward, one who had been chosen by lot to be the first to kick the ball with his foot. This action was understood to be the beginning of the ontest, so that after it it was permitted to no one from either party to seize it, to strike it and to drive it as victor over the goal. It was perhaps from the method of beginning the game that it was called football." These Italian games had their origin in the ancient pastimes of the Greeks and Romans, and in reality approach nearer to the modern idea of football than do the beginnings of the game in northern countries. Football is believ ed by some authorities to have been portion of the worship of the Celtic sun god, one of the rites attendant on the celebrative ceremonies. Some also hold a strong belief that its original form was introduced into England by the Romans.-Dennie P. Meyers in
